DEMAND INTERVENTION BY AMERICA IN LONDON.

Suffragettes Appeal Direct to President Wilson for Immediate Action.

Titled Women Join With the Militants in the Declaration that Compulsory Feeding of Miss Emerson of Detroit, Mich., Provides an International Issue—Foreign Ladies Encourage the Native Born in Britain.

[BY CABLE AND A. P. TO THE TIMES.]

LONDON, March 31.—Beatrice Harraden, an author, has sent the following cablegram to President Woodrow Wilson:

"Having just come back from America, where I learned from all sources that there is a strong feeling against the barbarity of forcible feeding, I venture with confidence to beg you to intervene in behalf of Miss Emerson, who is being forcibly fed in Holloway jail and who is in a precarious condition."

Home Secretary McKenna, when questioned today in the House of Commons, said that there were two women and one man at the present time undergoing forcible feeding, but that their condition was not dangerous. One of the women he referred to must have been Miss Emerson.

LONDON, March 31.—Mrs. Emerson of Detroit, Mich., received today a letter from her daughter Zelie, who is undergoing two months' imprisonment in Holloway Jail for window-smashing. Her "hunger strike" and forcible feeding in prison has attracted a great deal of attention.

The letter was smuggled out by a fellow-prisoner. It stated that Miss Emerson had just completed two days' solitary confinement for violation of the rules. She complained that she was feeling very sick and feared permanent impairment of her digestion.

Mrs. Emmeline Pankhurst in a speech today praised highly the heroism of Miss Emerson. Mrs. Pankhurst announced that the woman who tried to catch pneumonia in prison by soaking herself all over with water and remaining uncovered all night, as stated by the home society on March 3, was Miss Emerson.

The smuggled letter stated also that Miss Emerson's arm had been badly bruised by the policeman who arrested her.

The box reserved for Mrs. Emerson and Mrs. Pankhurst at today's meeting was shared by Beatrice Harraden, theauthoress; Baroness Von Hengervar Hengelmuller, wife of the former Austro-Hungarian Ambassador to the United States and a number of other prominent suffragettes. Acting on the invitation of Mrs. Pankhurst, a number of American women rose in the audience and expressed their sympathy with Miss Zelie Emerson's mother.

Baron Von Horst of San Francisco states that on investigation and after taking legal advice, he is satisfied that forcible feeding is illegal and, therefore, constitutes a ground for interference by the American government on behalf of Miss Emerson.

MRS. PANKHURST'S DEFI.

"If I am not at the Albert Hall meeting on April 10 it will be because the authorities have discovered a way of keeping me alive by force or because I am dead," Mrs. Emmeline Pankhurst told a meeting of militant suffragettes this afternoon.

Mrs. Pankhurst reminded the suffragettes that her trial on the charge of inciting persons to commit malicious damage to property would begin Wednesday.

"My conviction," the speaker con-

Passing.

MORGAN RETIRED TWO YEARS AGO.

Had Arranged for Others to Carry on His Work.

Mourned in Financial World as Dominant Genius.

Every Step Had Been Taken to Prevent a Panic.

[BY FEDERAL (WIRELESS) LINE TO THE TIMES.]

NEW YORK BUREAU OF THE TIMES, March 31.—[Special Dispatch.] The event that overshadowed all others in the news of today was the death of J. Pierpont Morgan, which was known to Wall street before the opening of the Stock Exchange. The influence which the passing of Mr. Morgan had on the stock market was not important, contrary to the expectation of many. Traders began a selling movement, but during the day the market showed a steadiness. For a period of two years Mr. Morgan had not been identified with the management of the affairs of his New York banking-house, although up to a few months since, prior to his last trip abroad, he kept in touch with his banking associates.

As a great Wall-street figure, possibly the most wonderful financier of American history, the work he accomplished will be used as a basis for future development and improvement, but along lines quite distinct from those which allowed the individuality of Mr. Morgan to become so striking.

MARKET WAS PREPARED.

The death of the late E. H. Harriman was received by the stock market with marked resistance similar to that shown today, as Wall street had been prepared by the rumors prior to the passing of each, which had tested the market and allowed sufficient time for discounting the financial news. The day has passed when one individual becomes so powerful in any walk of life that his demise means a breaking up of a large corporation or retarding the wheels of progress. Co-operation and a distribution of responsibility among various people have brought forth an age of efficiency which does not mean that the success or failure of an institution is dependent on any individual. In the minds of people J. P. Morgan in the banking world was an indispensable figure, and his importance increased during the last days as a result of the various attacks on Wall street and the so-called capitalistic trust of which he was credited with being the guiding spirit.

DIRECTOR IN CORPORATIONS.

Mr. Morgan personally was a director in more than fifty corporations, representing railroads, industrials, public utilities and banking institutions, but he was a factor largely in name only as he had relinquished the reins to others. So far as stock market operations may be involved, the death of Mr. Morgan at this time is likely to have less effect as prices have been so depressed through several other influences, such as the Balkan War, politics and the recent flood. Liquidation has been so heavy and a short interest of such a volume has been created, prices apparently have discounted in some issues at least unfavorable development. There was a fair degree of activity as a whole, but during most of the day the market was dull. At the close a better tone was in evidence.

The entire financial district was a flutter with flags at half-mast and flags draped without mourning within an hour of the news that the greatest financial leader of modern times had passed away. Every broker's office was crowded with traders and curiosity-seekers. The predominant conversation about the death of Mr. Morgan was regret of a loss of a great dominant genius.

CROWDS AT BANK.

Crowds swarming toward the closed doors of the Morgan bank made it necessary for the establishment of a police guard to keep this junction of Wall street clear. Thousands whose business keeps them in the financial center stopped curiously as they reached the Morgan building and paused long enough to take home the idea that they will never again see the big, powerful frame of J. P. Morgan.

While it is well known Mr. Morgan had taken all steps to prevent a panic in case of his death, that he had foreseen just what might happen and in his own farseeing way had arranged for steps to checkmate an unfavorable movement in stocks, the market, nervous and erratic, was a matter to cause interested brokers to worry.

The biggest men of the street were early at their places prepared to carry out the Morgan plans. Mr. Morgan's partners were communicated with and gave instructions designed to protect the interests of the Morgan properties.

DOCTORS DESCRIBE MORGAN'S ILLNESS.

[BY CABLE AND A. P. TO THE TIMES.]

ROME, March 31. — A statement giving the full story of Mr. Morgan's illness has been prepared by Prof. Bastianelli, Dr. Starr and Dr. Dixon and cabled to his son in New York.

The statement qualifies his illness as nervous prostration, but says that his intelligence remained normal until Easter Sunday. Then a gradual general collapse supervaded, affecting the digestion and the mental faculties until delirium ensued.

Pope Pius was greatly distressed when he heard of the death of Mr. Morgan, whom he said he had desired so much to see again. He exclaimed: "He was a great and good man."

MARKET UNAFFECTED BY MORGAN'S DEATH.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

PHILADELPHIA, March 31.—Market conditions will not be disturbed by the death of J. P. Morgan, said his Philadelphia partner, E. T. Stotesbury, today.

"Mr. Morgan's death is a sad blow," he said. "It is a loss to charity, as well as to finance, for Mr. Morgan was very charitable.

"I do not believe the market will be affected.

"To the moment of his death Mr. Morgan was the head of the firm. It is impossible to say how the business will be reorganized or who will succeed Mr. Morgan."

EPIGRAMS BY MORGAN.

"What I call money is the basis of banking."

"England comes nearer than any country in the world to having outstanding obligations supported dollar for dollar in gold. This country's trouble is with greenbacks."

"If one man had the credit and I had the money, the man would be badly off."

"If a man is not satisfactory to me I call his loan."

"I think stock manipulation is always bad."

"I favor the English system of full publicity and an absolutely correct prospectus of all concerns to be listed."

"I never in my life sold short but I don't see how you get along without short selling."

Imperturbable.

MORGAN FEARED BY HIS ENEMIES.

CONTROLLED NINE BILLIONS AND "TRIMMED" GOULD.

Left Wealthy by His Father, at One Time It Was Thought He Possessed No Business Acumen, but Was Only Laying Foundation of Sphynxlike Reputation.

[BY A. P. DAY WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

NEW YORK, March 31.—John Pierpont Morgan started his business career half a century ago on the board of directors of a large maritime insurance company. He seized the position through the influence of his wealthy father. For a year young Morgan attended the directors' meetings, but never opened his mouth, except to vote.

The president of the company told the elder Morgan that nothing could be done with his son, who seemed to take little interest in business. John Pierpont Morgan all the time was laying plans for his first railroad construction, which, when accomplished, established his standing in Wall street as the only man who ever got the better of Jay Gould. The sobriquet of "Sphinx of Wall street" later was the appellation applied to the man who at first was believed to have been without business acumen, but later became the supreme head of American finances.

CONTROLLED NINE BILLIONS.

Morgan's control over men and money was the dominant keynote of his life. Others, perhaps, were wealthier than Morgan, but he commanded his wealth and that of others. At the height of his power he is said to have controlled $9,000,000,000.

Mr. Morgan came from an old Puritan New England family, which dates back in this country to 1636. He was born in wealth. His father, Junius Spencer, left him $10,000,000, and he inherited important banking connections. J. S. Morgan had accumulated his fortune in the dry goods business with Levi P. Morton, and later as an associate of George Peabody, merchant, banker and philanthropist.

BORN IN HARTFORD.

J. Pierpont Morgan was born April 17, 1837, in a brick cottage in Hartford, Ct. As a youngster his tendency to write poetry gave him the nickname of "Pip." When he was 14 Morgan was sent to Boston to the English High School. He showed a particular bent for mathematics, but had no gifts indicative of unusual mental power. Probably his first attempt at finance took place in Boston. The school teacher gave him money with which to buy erasers. Young Morgan was gone for a long time. When he returned he handed the teacher the erasers and also some change.

"What's this for?" asked the teacher. "I gave you just enough to buy the erasers. I always paid that for them."

"Oh," replied young Morgan, "I went around until I could find a place to buy at wholesale."

STUDIED IN GERMANY.

For two years after graduating from the Boston High School, Mr. Morgan was a student at Goettingen, Germany. At 21 he embarked on his career as a banker.

Of J. P. Morgan, financier, and of his achievements, all the world knows. Few men have been more widely feared, yet more generally trusted. Those who met him only in a business way, saw a man rough, emphatic and inaccessible as the Emperor of Russia when he chose to. He was known as the worst man in the world to interview and as a man who believed absolutely in himself and apparently never questioned the correctness of his methods.

POPULAR WITH FRIENDS.

His friends, however, knew him as a simple, unaffected companion, and an interesting conversationalist with keen wit and genial humor.

Once a woman asked him why he kept on accumulating money when he already had more than he needed.

"I do not love money," Mr. Morgan is said to have replied, "but I do enjoy the excitement, the fun of making it."

Business was not all to the life of J. Pierpont Morgan. His office hours were short and at the close of his business day he left his office and his business behind him. Woe to the person who then approached him on business bent. He cared little for society but was fond of a good dinner with congenial companions, of rare wines and big, black cigars. Wines he partook of with moderation. To cigars he was almost a slave.

MORGAN'S SCEPTER IN SON'S HANDS.

ALREADY A POWER IN WALL-STREET CIRCLES.

Has Been Educated to Life of Business World and Proved His Ability in Negotiating Russian Loan and in Payment of Forty Millions in Gold to France.

[BY FEDERAL (WIRELESS) LINE TO THE TIMES.]

NEW YORK BUREAU OF THE TIMES, March 31. — [Special Dispatch.] The new head of the house of Morgan is not an unknown quantity in the world of finance, however little the general public may know of this quiet, self-contained man of 46, into whose hands has been placed the scepter of the kingdom of money.

Among the princes of la haute finance where his father reigned he has been recognized for years as one of his ablest, most effective lieutenants. In his forty-six years of life J. P. Morgan, Jr., has grown into a remarkable duplicate of his father. The resemblance extends to his facial appearance, to his build and even to the tones of his voice, his manner of carrying himself and his gait of walking. The few persons who have been intimately associated with him in business have found in him his father's quiet promptness in making great decisions, the same intolerance of fussy details, the same grave simplicity of his manners toward his employees, the same granite firmness in his well-balanced confidence in himself.

His sympathetic study of his father and his close association with him have made the younger Morgan nearly like his father at his greatest.

HAS VIGOR OF YOUTH.

He has the vigor of his father's youth and the ripened experience of his father's later years. His preparation as his father's understudy and successor has been thoroughly done, as is the Morgan way. He was born in this city and is his father's only son. He was graduated from Harvard in 1889. In college he showed the fondness of his family for outdoor sports, though he did not compete for membership of the athletic teams.

From college he went straight to the London house of Morgan, Grenfell & Co., for his apprenticeship to his life's work. He had much to do with the transfer of the $40,000,000 payment by this government to France for the Panama Canal.

It was a tremendous undertaking and delicate. The gold had to be gathered cautiously in spite of its tremendous quantity to avoid a squeeze and an upward bound of the exchange. When it was consummated, American financiers in the confidence of London banking men of renown got confidential assurances that "young Morgan had proved that he would make good." The elder Morgan came to this country from his London schooling with a reputation already made. The younger man did not start here with his father's prestige; this was in no sense his fault, because his father's personality in participating in the feat overshadowed his own. In 1905 his father showed his confidence by sending his son to Russia to negotiate the great bond loan which the Morgan house arranged in that year. He was appointed first secretary of the special American Embassy to the coronation of King Edward and proved that he was a diplomat as well as a business man.

THE SUPREME TEST.

The younger Morgan's test up to the present crisis which confronts him and the whole world of finance, was in the panic of 1907.

The younger Morgan was married to Jane Norton Grew in 1896 and they have three sons and one daughter. The eldest, J. S. Morgan, is a student at Harvard. Mr. Morgan is a member of the Metropolitan, University, Union, Automobile, Brook, Century, New York Yacht, Larchmont Yacht, Seawanhaka-Corinthian Yacht and Colony clubs in this city and Whites, St. James and City of London clubs in London.

He uses the yacht clubs most. A man of few words, he is not drawn to the clubs by the desire for gregarious conversation. He has a great home at No. 13 Grosvenor Square, London, which he occupies for a month or two each year.

LIKES YACHTING.

Mr. Morgan's favorite outdoor sport, like his father's, is yachting. He is a daring and skillful sailor. He sailed his thirty footer, the Ibis, for many years and owns one of the fleet of nine fifty footers. Though very shy of publicity, once more, like his father, he has shown the courage of his convictions when convinced that it was his duty to come forward.

He took a large part in directing the San Francisco relief fund after the earthquake.

MORGAN AS PHILANTHROPIST.

He Gave Much Money but Carried on No Systematic Campaign Like that of Rockefeller and Carnegie.

[BY FEDERAL (WIRELESS) LINE TO THE TIMES.]

NEW YORK BUREAU OF THE TIMES, March 31.—[Special Dispatch.] J. Pierpont Morgan was not known as one of the world's great philanthropists. Nevertheless, his gifts for educational and humanitarian purposes run into the millions.

Mr. Morgan was reticent about his philanthropies. They are listed in a private set of accounts and probably will never be fully known. His gifts and benefactions outside his enrichment of collections in art and literature, were guarded as much as possible against publicity. So far as is known, they were fugitive and impulsive rather than part of a philanthropic campaign, such as John D. Rockefeller and Andrew Carnegie launched. The one gift, carefully guarded by fine motive, was the reimbursement of a distinguished jurist who, long retired from active work, became depleted in estate through investments made, as he had supposed, upon the advice of Mr. Morgan. If the financier's private list could be seen they would show the names of men and women in considerable number whom he restored to fortunes they had lost in Morgan securities. Similarly, there would appear mortgages he discharged for employees whom he had advised to purchase homes; also the accounting for loyal friends of Morgan who rode safely through the storms of panic and business depression. His greatest single gift was that of $4,500,000 to the Cathedral of St. John the Divine.

Perhaps the next largest was that of $1,250,000 to found the lying-in hospital in the neighborhood of St. George's Church, his favorite place of worship, of which he was a warden for years and to which he gave $300,000 for a new parish house and rectory. His benefactions to Harvard University aggregated $1,500,000 and the principal gift being three of the five buildings constituting the new Harvard Medical School in Boston. These three buildings cost in the neighborhood of $1,200,000. To Trinity College at Hartford, Ct., he gave $250,000 for a library.

A file of yellow newspaper clippings tells the story of other minor gifts like $100,000 to the Young Men's Christian Association, a sum in redemption of a mortgage on the Church of the Redeemer, and various amounts to other religious organizations, aggregating many thousands. Among his large benefactions were the gift of $500,000 to the Loomis Hospital for Consumptives; $500,000 for the establishment of the Auchmuty Industrial School; $125,000 to the funds for preserving the Palisades and $100,000 for a library in Holyoke, Mass., his father's birthplace.

RESOLUTIONS ADOPTED.

[BY CABLE AND A. P. TO THE TIMES.]

LONDON, March 31. — The British Pilgrims adopted resolutions today sympathizing with the members of Mr. Morgan's family and with the American Pilgrims in the loss sustained through the death of one of their vice-presidents.

aboard an Italian warship. Steps have been taken to formally present this offer to Mr. and Mrs. Herbert Satterlee. The suggestion is also made that it would be appropriate to have the Duc d'Abruzzi in personal charge of the funeral voyage. This would be an unprecedented compliment, but it is felt that Italy owes it to herself to testify in a special way her gratitude to one who was an unswerving friend of the Italian people besides being in point of power the peer of kings.

The King and Queen will be personally represented at the service of mourning to be held in the American Episcopal Church, and all the high officers of state will be present.

DEATH A SURPRISE.

The suddenness of Morgan's death—the swift change from what at first was deemed a slight in disposition, took Rome completely by surprise. Until Saturday evening it was thought that the doctors were still hopeful.

The bulletins Sunday afternoon and night, however, showed there was no hope—the man who dominated the money markets of the world had come to the heart of Rome to take leave of life. The trip up the Nile to see the uncovering of the long buried relics of the ancients would never be renewed.

PEACEFUL END.

The end came most peacefully, Dr. M. Allen Starr says Morgan had remained unconscious until just before the final moment. Then he seemed to recognize his daughter, Mrs. Satterlee. She patted his wasted, weakened hand and whispered words of comfort. Morgan's lips moved for the first time for several days. He was trying to speak, but the words would not come. His head sank to one side. The world's master of millions was dead.

MESSAGES OF SYMPATHY.

As soon as the outside world learned that the end had come, cablegrams of sympathy came pouring in from all parts of the world. The King of England, the German Emperor, and bankers of international renown were among the first to express their regret.

While the official bulletin gives the cause of death as nervous prostration, resulting in general mental and physical collapse, no doubt seems to be entertained that the strain of appearing before the Pujo Committee and trying to make plain to a critical audience intricate problems of finance of a great scale while age and breakdown had already sapped his strength, really paved the way for the collapse which followed when going up the Nile.

The banker is eulogized on many sides for thus sacrificing his health and strength rather than leave the attacks of prejudiced critics unanswered.

"How many," it is asked, "would have done as he did? How many would have utilized such a huge fortune as he possessed to avoid testifying and seek shelter far from the questions of the committee?"

HIS PHILANTHROPY.

Praises are showered on Morgan for his many sided philanthropy—his greatest interest in every work of world progress, the vast sums he spent in searching out long overlooked manuscripts in preserving the history of mankind and giving them permanent place in archives, of all his unrivalled of paintings, sculptures, of pottery and bronze. But all appreciations return to the starting point—his genius in harnessing money to the needs of men and nations.

"With Morgan," says one of the principal bankers in Italy, "money ceased to be merely a token. He made it creative of values. Industries sprang up and blossomed at his touch."

"He was one of the greatest of Americans," says Cardinal Martinelli, who knew him well. "He was a very earnest, good man and the world loses by his death, though it was his fortune, to enjoy more years than the allotted scriptural span."

WILL BURY MORGAN IN HARTFORD, CONN.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

NEW YORK, March 31.—The last resting place of John Pierpont Morgan, who died in Rome today, probably will be a mausoleum in Cedar Hill Cemetery, Hartford, Ct., which he had erected some years ago in memory of his father and mother. It is expected the funeral services will be held in the Cathedral of St. John the Divine, toward the construction of which Mr. Morgan was a large contributor.

In the financial district the Stock Exchange and the Consolidated Exchange adopted resolutions of respect today to Mr. Morgan's memory, and flags everywhere were dropped to half-mast.

The offices of J. P. Morgan & Co. closed immediately upon receipt of the news, and little information was vouchsafed by members of the firm.

Throughout the day equipages of all kinds drove up to Mr. Morgan's mansion, and their occupants left cards of condolence. The morbid gathered in force in the vicinity of the Morgan home, and at one time it was necessary for the police to disperse them.

Henry P. Davidson, now senior member of J. P. Morgan & Co., said today with the exception of two dispatches, announcing the death of Mr. Morgan, no word had been received from Rome. It was expected a statement from the physicians giving in detail the last illness of the financier would be received.

Mr. Davidson said there probably would be a family conference tomorrow, at which details of the funeral would then be worked out.

The immediate effect on the machinery of Wall street of Mr. Morgan's death was comparatively slight. Mr. Morgan's illness had prepared the financial district for the end, and every precaution had been taken to guard against a serious break in prices.

At the opening of the Stock Exchange the prominent stocks declined a point or so, but they received prompt support and rallied quickly. Thereafter the market was dull.

Wall street's relations with the head of the house of Morgan had been of such large consequence for so many years that the news of his passing made an enormous impression. From bankers, brokers, railroad and business men came tributes to the dead man. Outside the Morgan offices there was a curious crowd for some time after the news was received.

On the glass door there was a terse notice that the offices would be closed for the day.

Friends of Mr. Morgan pointed out another reason, in addition to the warning given by his illness, why the financier's death was not seriously disturbing. His career, they said, was rounded out. He had accomplished virtually all he started out to achieve. For some time the Morgan firm had refrained from large new enterprises. All that human foresight could dictate had been done in the last year or two to safeguard the business and financial world against calamity when Mr. Morgan's last hour came.

Among the numerous appreciations of Mr. Morgan was one by Elbert H. Gary, chairman of the United States Steel Corporation, the greatest of all the industries organized by Mr. Morgan.

"None of Mr. Morgan's business associates will mourn his death more than those who are connected with the United States Steel Corporation," said Mr. Gary. "His presence, his counsel, his efforts always were influential in the endeavor to establish and maintain a reputation for fair and honorable treatment toward all who might be affected by the decisions and conduct of the corporation. His death will leave a void that never can be filled."

THE MORGAN WILL EXCITES CURIOSITY.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

NEW YORK, March 31.—Nothing is known as yet as to how Mr. Morgan in his will disposed of his vast estate. J. P. Morgan, Jr., has been his father's understudy for years and is rated high in financial ability. He served his apprenticeship in the London house of Morgan, Grenfell & Co. He is in the forties and greatly resembles his father in appearance and manner. Like his father, he is quick at reaching a determination on big questions, brusque and intolerant of small details. His preparation to take his father's place in the business world has been thoroughly worked out.

As a patron of art, Mr. Morgan was as famous as in the world of finance. His expenditures were boundless. The price nearly always was a secondary consideration to possessing an art treasure. His collection in the Metropolitan Museum of Art has been estimated by connoisseurs to be worth $50,000,000. In his private museum, next to his home, are paintings tapestries, carvings, books, manuscripts, bronze and antique gold and silverware valued at many millions of dollars. In his collection of early editions are thirty-two Caxtons valued at $1,250,000.

Among some of the objects of art and the prices Mr. Morgan paid for them are Raphael's "Colonna Madonna," $500,000; the Fragonard Panels, depicting the love affairs of the Countess Dubarry, $500,000; set of Gothic tapestries, $500,000; the Pfungst collection of bronzes, $200,000, and Gainsborough's famous painting of the Duchess of Devonshire, $200,000.

THE PUJO MEN DENY IT.

Declare They Didn't Ask Any Questions that Could Have Hastened Mr. Morgan's Death.

[BY A. P. DAY WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

WASHINGTON, March 31.—Surprise was expressed by members of the "money trust" committee now in Washington that Mr. Morgan's breakdown should have been attributed by his physicians to the effect of the Pujo inquiry. When the banker appeared before the committee December 18 and 19 he was apparently in good health and his bearing was confident and self-possessed.

"Mr. Morgan appeared to enjoy the investigation," Representative Hayes of California said today. "He seemed entirely at ease and under no unusual strain."

PAY TRIBUTE TO MORGAN.

New York Stock Exchange for First Time in History Stops Work on Death of Member.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

NEW YORK, March 31.—Business was suspended for five minutes on the Stock Exchange today while the members adopted a resolution on Mr. Morgan's death. The resolution was read from the rostrum. It was the first time in its history that the exchange stopped work to pay honor in this way. The resolution, in part, was:

"Resolved, that the death of J. P. Morgan has removed from America's large creative activities its most conspicuously useful figure. To the development of the resources of our country he has contributed more than any man of our day. His immense constructive genius who devoted not merely to American finance and industry, but to the wide field of philanthropy and humanity. The whole world has lost a wise counsellor and a helpful friend."

Mr. Morgan's death will make no change in the firm, according to an announcement made at the offices of J. P. Morgan & Co.

VENTURE GUESSES ON MORGAN'S WEALTH.

[BY FEDERAL (WIRELESS) LINE TO THE TIMES.]

NEW YORK BUREAU OF THE TIMES, March 31.—[Special Dispatch.] Various estimates were made in the financial district today of the size of the fortune of the late J. P. Morgan. The estimates differed widely. None, however, credited the dead banker with having an estate under $75,000,000. Most of the figures heard were much higher, running from $100,000,000 to $500,000,000. A prominent director in one banking institution placed Mr. Morgan's fortune at about $100,000,000. He said that he estimated that Mr. Morgan's firm had probably amassed a fortune of $100,000,000 in the last twenty years, of which Mr. Morgan's individual share was probably $75,000,000.

Overstocked Dealers Can't Get Rid of Them to State, Which Needs Them for Pupils.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

SACRAMENTO, March 31. — While the Legislature has as yet failed to pass permanent legislation on the matter of distributing State text-books, dealers about the State who have on hand some holdover books purchased before the free text-book law was passed are writing State Superintendent Hyatt to learn how they can get rid of them. No machinery of the law is known whereby the dealers who now have books can turn them into the State for money.

Hence the dealers will wait until the Legislature passes on the matter. Some of the books being held by the dealers are those of which the State is short and could readily use at this time.

MARSHFIELD (Or.) March 31.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] Erna Knorr, the pretty 17-year-old daughter of R. E. Knorr, a druggist, shot and killed herself today. She had discovered that her sweetheart, a chauffeur, was married. The girl made a confession to her mother, who notified the girl's father at Gold Beach. Knorr started home at once, but a few minutes before the train on which he was coming was due the girl shot herself. Knorr came to Coos Bay from Portland a few years ago. For many years he conducted the Portland Heights Pharmacy and was prominent in club circles.

UNIONITE CLIQUE ON TENTER HOOKS

Using Any Means to Pass Anti-Injunction Bill.

Strikes a Blow at Rights of Every Business Man.

"Blue Sky Law" Hearing in Assembly Wednesday.

BY LOU GUERNSEY.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

SACRAMENTO, March 31. — [Exclusive Dispatch.] The Senate is setting itself now for the vote on the Caminetti anti-injunction bill, which will undoubtedly develop the big fight of this week. It will be up for action in two or three days. It is one of the biggest of the union-labor measures and will be the first chance of the union clique at this session to get an accurate measure of their strength on the Senate floor.

When the Caminetti bill prohibiting the use of injunctions in labor disputes is reported back to the Senate from the Judiciary Committee with a majority recommendation that it "do not pass," Senator Caminetti will present a minority report favoring the bill and move for its adoption. Los Angeles with its eight Senators probably will vote solidly against the bill. Senator Lyon, however, has not declared how he will vote. San Francisco with its seven Senators will vote solidly for the bill. The San Francisco representatives, with the exception of Senator Grant, are strong unionites.

COUNTRY HAS BALANCE.

The balance of power lies in the country. Of the forty Senators eighteen have declared their intention of voting against the bill. Fifteen Senators are known to favor the measure. Union-labor hirelings are claiming twenty-two votes for the bill.

The bill passed two years ago after a bitter fight in the Senate and an all-night session on a call of the Senate to find Senator Cassidy of San Francisco. When Cassidy was found he voted "aye" and the bill won by a single vote. It was beaten in the Assembly. Leading Progressives say the Governor will not sign the bill if it should pass in its present form.

The bill provides that no restraining order shall be issued in a labor dispute unless necessary to prevent irreparable injury to property or property right. Such property right must be sworn to and must be particularly described in writing. It declares that the right to do business is not a property right. It legalizes picketing and is the most drastic anti-injunction measure ever offered in the United States.

Walter McArthur and Andrew Furuseth, two union-labor agitators are here leading the fight for its passage. McArthur says he has polled the Senate and found enough votes to win.

BLUE SKY MEASURE.

The administration "blue sky bill" drafted by a subcommittee of the Judiciary Committee of the Assembly will be given a hearing Wednesday night before the committee. The bill provides for a corporation commissioner with an annual salary of $10000, who is to have complete jurisdiction over all stock-selling and investment companies.

If the commissioner finds the plan of operation of a company to be fair and equitable a license will be issued; if the investment does not give promise of fair returns (in the opinion of the commissioner) the license will be refused. Heavy penalties will be imposed for violation of the commissioner's rulings. Companies dealing in approved securities and bonds are put in a class by themselves, designated as investment brokers, and are exempt from the more rigorous regulations. Leading realty and business men from all parts of the State are here to protest the passage of the bill. They say its enactment into law would retard the industrial and progressive development of California. A large delegation of Los Angeles realty dealers and representative citizens are scheduled to arrive Wednesday to oppose the bill at the public hearing. It is extremely doubtful whether the bill would pass either House in its present form.

THE AUTOMOBILE BILL.

The subcommittee of the Senate Committee on Roads and Highways has completed the final draft of the automobile bill, which, if passed, will make sweeping changes in the regulation of all motor vehicles in California. The measure, which is to be known as the "motor vehicle act" is a substitute for all bills on the subject which have been introduced at this session. One of the most radical changes is in the matter of licenses. Not only is there to be an increase in the cost, but the charges are to be collected annually. The money thus obtained is to be expended in repairing the State highways and building new roads.

The charges are to be on a graduated scale as follows: Less than twenty horse power, $5; between twenty and thirty, $10; between thirty and forty, $15; between forty and fifty, $20; between fifty and sixty, $25; sixty and over, $30.

Every person or firm owning a number of machines will have to pay $50 each for five and $10 each for every number above five. Motorcycles are to be charged $2.

All the licenses will expire at midnight of December 31, each year.

Every original operator of an automobile must pay, in addition to the fee for a license a charge of 50 cents yearly, and every licensed chauffeur must pay $2.

No license will be issued to any person under the age of 16. Intoxicated persons will be prohibited from driving cars under heavy penalty.

No charge is to be made against cars from another State who may be temporarily driving a car in California.

It is provided in the bill that when a car is transferred to another owner the registration number expires and a new one must be obtained.

"JOY RIDERS."

Another provision will strike at "joy riders" who amuse themselves by blowing horns at all hours of the night. The bill provides that every machine shall be equipped with a horn or similar device, but that it must not be used or sounded except to avert imminent collision.

Vehicles must be kept on the right hand side of the road. Drivers must turn to the right in passing.

Every automobile must carry the same number of lights as under the present law. All other vehicles, excepting baby carriages, must carry white lights.

The bill seeks to make uniform speed laws by providing that on all public highways no person shall drive faster than thirty miles an hour for a longer distance than one-fourth of a mile. In districts where residences are within 100 feet of one another the speed must not be greater than a mile in three minutes. In business districts it must not exceed one mile in six minutes. A sort of Bertillon system for all chauffeurs is provided by one section which requires all applicants for chauffeurs' licenses to to mail their photographs to the State Treasurer with the application. The pictures must have been taken not more than thirty days before the date of application.

It is to be a misdemeanor for any person to climb into an automobile without the owner's permission and start the mechanism. Persons who throw stones at passing automobiles are to be similarly punished.

The entire business of issuing the licenses and accounting for the money is to be taken from the Secretary of State and turned over to the State Treasurer. The money is to be kept in a separate fund and used only for the up-keep of the highways.

ADJOURNMENT INDEFINITE.

The date of adjournment for the fortieth session of the Legislature was again left indefinite by the Senate today. The consideration of Assembly concurrent resolution No. 19, naming April 26 at noon, and which was filed as a special order for 12 o'clock noon today, was, on motion of Senator Strobridge, postponed until next Friday at 11 a.m.

Senator Strobridge declared that he does not deem it advisable to agree on a date for final adjournment at this time, although he would personally like to do so. The general appropriation bill is still in embryonic state, much data of several State officers having failed to reach the Finance Committee.

Senator Caminetti favored postponing the special order in order that the people may have some assurance that the bills on election laws, guaranteeing to every political party in California its constitutional rights, will have some show on the file.

Senator Boynton said he always follows the chairman of the Finance Committee as to the date of adjournment. Besides, some of the Assembly members who worked hard to fix April 26 as the date are now fearful lest they have erred by standing in the way of important legislation. He asked the Senate to view the work of the present week before fixing the time for sine die adjournment.

Senator Kehoe suggested that some of the "useless debate" on unimportant matters be avoided. In his opinion this would make certain adjournment on the date the Assembly has fixed upon.

THE FRUIT INDUSTRY.

Assemblyman Sutherland of Fresno introduced a joint resolution today requesting the President of the United States and Congress, in their consideration of tariff revision, to have due regard for the claims of the raisin and dried-fruit industry, which is so vital to the welfare of the State, and that no reduction be made in the import duties now imposed upon the products. It is provided that a copy of the resolutions shall be sent to President Wilson and to each member in Congress from California.

If no constitutional obstacle is discovered the Legislature will vote an appropriation of $100,000 for the relief of the victims of the floods in Ohio and the Mississippi Valley. This was a decision reached today at a conference between Gov. Johnson and the special committees of the Senate and Assembly to determine ways and means of relief.

THE SENATE SESSION.

MINOR BILLS ARE PASSED.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

SACRAMENTO, March 31.—Long hours in committee rooms, and full day sessions of the main body will be the order in the Senate this week in an effort to bring up the work of the upper house to a point where it will be possible to estimate and settle upon a date for final adjournment. Until today it was considered certain that the administration programme of adjourning on April 26, would be carried out, but a careful recapitulation of the work of the past three weeks showed that unless the legislative speed was accelerated, even the most important bills now pending would be left behind.

PASS MINOR BILLS.

A dozen bills of minor importance were passed on third reading in the Senate today, after which an adjournment was taken and the members went to their committee-rooms.

The most important measure reported out was the amended Breed bill providing for licensing real estate dealers and brokers, which received the approval of the Judiciary Committee this afternoon.

TO PROTECT PUBLIC.

This bill proposes to protect the public from irresponsible real estate operators by requiring all dealers to procure licenses from the State at a cost of $10 for the first year and $5 for annual renewals. As originally drawn, the bill made no exceptions and attorneys who appeared before the committee declared that it prohibited a private individual from disposing of his own property. In the amended bill there are numerous specific exemptions.

It is proposed to use the money paid for licenses in advertising the State, and the bill creates a State advertising board of five members, to be appointed by the Governor. It is estimated that the annual income will be $60,000 after the first year, when it will be $100,000. Ninety per cent. will be at the disposal of the advertising board.

TO SIGN INJUNCTION BILL.

Gov. Johnson will sign the Grant-Bohnett injunction and abatement bill, which passed the Senate last Friday after having been carried by a big majority in the Assembly. This was learned positively today, and on August 1 the act will go into effect.

Briefly, it provides that upon complaint of any citizen that immoral acts are committed in any building, the court shall issue an injunction against the use of that building for the period of one year.

VOCATIONAL SCHOOL.

During the debate in both houses at the time the bill was passed, the question was asked what would become of the inmates of such houses. The answer is proposed in a bill that will be introduced tomorrow by Senator Juilliard of Santa Rosa, appropriating $50,000 for the establishment of an institution to be known as the California training and vocational school for women and girls.

Juilliard's bill provides for the pur-

Will Charge Conspiracy to Loot National Bank.

San Francisco Prosecution Covers Wide Scope.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

SAN FRANCISCO, March 31.—Federal prosecution of the frauds by which the Crocker National Bank lost $200,000 will not cease with the case against Charles F. Baker, the assistant cashier who has confessed to embezzling a sum approximating $200,000.

United States Attorney McNab announced today that he will lay before the Federal grand jury evidence tending to show that the brokers with whom Baker traded—among them some of the best known firms in the city—were guilty of criminal conspiracy to loot the frauds of a Federal depository.

The Federal Bank Examiner had been of the opinion previously that no prosecution would stand, but McNab believes he can make out a case under the Federal statutes. Under the State law only suit for restitution seemed possible.

It will be contended that the brokers were well informed of Baker's financial rating and that they must have known that he could not, as an individual, handle accounts of the size he carried for a number of years.

M'NAB'S STATEMENT.

United States District Attorney John L. McNab tonight said:

"I cannot say how extensive the investigation of the grand jury will be, but I will have some startling evidence to present. As soon as may be after the grand jury is impanelled Wednesday, summons will be issued for officials of the stock brokerage concerns involved—the firms that had dealings with Baker. Not less than two prominent concerns will be involved in the inquiry.

"So far as known now only San Francisco brokerage concerns are involved."

Conspiracy to defeat the national bank act is the technical charge that might grow out of the investigation. It is a felony punishable by $5000 fine or imprisonment for two years.

SAN FRANCISCO, March 31.—Inefficiency is the charge against the city bureau of efficiency before the finance committee of the Board of Supervisors which is conducting its annual hearings on the city budget.

The bureau has been in existence a year and the appropriation for its continuance in the present budget is $10,000. Its opponents say that, although it has been profuse in its reports they contain nothing that is found practicable to adopt to save the city either time or money.

MINUS LEG, NEGRO CONFESSES.

Admits Old Murder After He Lost Limb in Santa Barbara Railroad Accident.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

SAN FRANCISCO BUREAU OF THE TIMES, March 31.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] Conscience-stricken during long weeks in a hospital, where he was taken after his leg had been amputated, Robert Cleveland, a negro, gave himself up to the police here last night with a confession that he had committed a murder in Liberty, Tex., two years ago. Cleveland was taken to the City Prison pending the result of communication with the Liberty police.

The one-legged negro hobbled up to Corporal Fred Lemon on the street and informed the officer that he had shot and killed Charles Ward, another negro, who had been paying attention to Cleveland's wife. He had subsequently escaped from jail, the negro said.

"I never worried about my crime until my leg was cut off in a railroad accident near Santa Barbara two months ago," said the negro. "When I was in the hospital I got to thinking that the accident was a punishment for my crime, and decided to give myself up."

MASTER PAINTERS GUILTY.

Officials of Sacramento Association Admit They Controlled Prices and Will Take Punishment.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

SACRAMENTO, March 31.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] Deprived of one of the strongest points of their defense by a ruling made by Judge Fred Wood of Amador county that the maintenance of any price list by an association is unlawful and in restraint of trade, two of the officials of the Sacramento Painters' Association, A. G. Labhard, secretary, and H. W. Robinson, member of the Price List Committee, pleaded guilty today to violating the Cartwright anti-trust law.

Labhard and Robinson agreed to take punishment for the offense if the charge were dismissed against the other fifty-four boss painters who were accused of forming an illegal combine.

This was agreeable to Judge Wood and Dist.-Atty. Wachhorst on condition that the existing price list be abolished. Attorney Arthur Miller for the painters promised that this would be done at a meeting to be held tonight.

Sentence on Labhard and Robinson will be passed by Judge Wood tomorrow morning. Under the statute the crime is punishable by a fine of $50 to $5000 and imprisonment in the County Jail for a term of six months to a year.

COMMISSION HAS LAST WORD.

Public Utilities Not Allowed to Fix Rates as Against Figures of State Bureau.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

SAN FRANCISCO, March 31.—The State Railroad Commission ruled today that rates fixed by the public utility companies cannot hold as against rates fixed by the State through the commission. The ruling was made upon the application of James A. Murray and Ed Fletcher, owners of a water company of San Diego, for authority to increase their rates.

"All contracts made by a public utility," the decision stated, "will not stand when this commission has fixed rates, but this commission may adopt the rates fixed by contract if made under fair conditions, as far as it may do so without bringing about discrimination, and it specifically instructs utilities that they are not to repudiate contracts until the matter has been presented to this commission."

The parons of the company in question, the commission rules, have a preferential right to the water and are included in the class for which the public use of water was created. The property involved is known as the San Diego Flume Company, originally a $1,000,000 concern. It was sold in June, 1910, to Murray and Fletcher, for $150,000, the terms of the conveyance stipulating that all contracts previously in force for the sale of water should be continued.

The commission instructs the company to protect its present patrons and to make no contracts with new consumers until the commission determines whether there is sufficient water for their use.

The service of the flume company is found to be inadequate and wasteful and improvements are ordered.

BRYAN TO SOLVE CHINESE PUZZLE.

Administration About Ready to Grant Recognition.

Nebraskan Practically Has Done So in Speeches.

Republic Wants Something Besides Stump Oratory.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

WASHINGTON, March 31. — The entire membership of both houses of the first Chinese National Assembly under Republican auspices has been elected, according to official advices. The first meeting will be held April 8 at Peking. The Chinese Congress will comprise about 900 members in the lower house and 300 in the upper chamber.

For the first meeting the members will exercise a double function, being in the first place practically delegates to a constitutional convention for the body is charged with drafting a constitution and the establishment of a permanent form of government. After that function is over, the members will resolve themselves into legislators.

The imminence of the meeting of this first assembly has brought to President Wilson's administration the necessity of deciding whether the Chinese republic is to be recognized immediately or whether the United States shall join other powers in extending recognition only after the Chinese Assembly has met and acted upon the proposed Constitution. Secretary Bryan's recent utterances at Trenton and a long conference with the Chinese Minister here last Saturday are regarded as indicating that the former policy would be advanced.

GHOST WALKS FOR WILSON.

Draws His First Pay As President with Four Days Out of Envelope for March.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

WASHINGTON, March 31.—Woodrow Wilson will receive his first pay check as President of the United States today when Secretary McAdoo will present him with a treasury warrant for $5625, representing his salary from March 4 to 31. On payday hereafter, however, the President will receive $4250, a full month's proportion of the $75,000 annual stipend.

The Treasury Department contemplates a precedent in the method of paying President Wilson. Since the days of Washington the President of the United States has been paid by what is known as an "unaccountable warrant," which means money to be accounted for. A settlement warrant which closes an account, has been given the President only on his last payday, when his services were debited on the books against the credits made to him during his term of office. Mr. Wilson, however, probably will be given a "settlement warrant" each month, and his salary account with the government balanced monthly as his term transpires. No one today knows why the President always has been paid by an "accountable warrant" which is issued in other cases only in connection with advanced money.

The President is the only official whose salary is paid by the Treasury Department. Vice-President Marshall will receive from the Secretary of the State today the portion he has earned so far of his $12,000 annual compensation.

Interstate Commerce Commission Suspends Advances Proposed by Railroads Several Months Ago.

[BY A. P. DAY WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

WASHINGTON, March 31.—An innovation in the procedure of the Interstate Commerce Commission, adopted at the suggestion of Commissioner Clements, resulted today in the confirmation of the adjustment of more than 400 changes in transcontinental rates on commodities. The advances proposed by the railroads a few months ago were suspended. Conferences resulted in an agreement upon some advances and the abandonment of others. The commission's decision today disposes of items left in dispute by permitting some advances and cancelling others. It also fixes a general policy for the transcontinental carriers with respect to their coast-to-coast rates.

Sixty-third Congress.

BALK WILSON ON CURRENCY.

Congress to Consider Reform Despite President.

Body Refuses to Take Up Tariff Exclusively.

Half Dozen Measures Ready to Be Introduced.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

WASHINGTON, March 31.—Currency reform will come in formally to the attention of Congress soon after it assembles next week, notwithstanding the efforts of President Wilson and the Democratic party leaders of the two Houses to focus attention upon the tariff in the early weeks of the extra session. At least a half-dozen currency bills will be ready for introduction when Congress meets, it is believed, and their appearance in the House and Senate will mark the beginning of a general discussion of the financial reform.

Senator Owen of Oklahoma and Representative Glass of Virginia are working upon measures which probably will be submitted first to the Banking Committee of the respective houses and made the basis of a committee study.

Senator Owen practically has completed a bill representing his views and it will be submitted to the Senate Committee on Banking and Currency. He has not made public the details of his bill, nor indicated the extent to which it may provide a central agency under government control.

The bill prepared by Senator Hitchcock of Nebraska, another member of the Senate committee, which provides for twenty separate and independent currency associations in the United States, will be introduced early in the session.

Senator Weeks of Massachusetts, a Republican member of the Senate committee, will reintroduce the bill drawn by the National Monetary Commission, providing for a national reserve association.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

WASHINGTON, March 31.—Efforts to secure the submission to the country of a single Presidential term constitutional amendment will be renewed at the approaching session of Congress by Senator Works of California. He will introduce his amendment in such form that it would prevent Roosevelt, Taft or Wilson from seeking re-election.

FROST EXPLAINS WHAT HE MEANT BY THE PHRASE.

Wanted a Canadian Only to Understand that the Then Federal Land Commissioner Would Oblige "Us" With the Best Information About Deposits of Coal in Alaska.

[BY A. P. DAY WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

CHICAGO, March 31.—Albert C. Frost who, with four others, is on trial before Federal Judge Landis, charged with defrauding the government out of Alaskan coal lands valued at $10,000,000, continued his direct testmony today by explaining what he meant in a letter written to Henry C. Osborne, a Toronto banker, February 9, 1907, in which Frost said:

"Now that Mr. Ballinger is commissioner of the General Land Office we can get anything we want."

Osborne was indicted with Frost in connection with the alleged land frauds, but has not been arrested, as the offense is not extraditable.

"Did you mean you could get anything illegal from Mr. Ballinger?" inquired Attorney Albert Fink.

"No. I did not intend to convey that meaning," replied Frost. "I meant that we could get any information about the coal lands that we wanted. I meant that we could learn what we might want to know quickly and in as much detail as we wished to get."

Frost explained that Mr. Ballinger formerly was at the head of the law firm which acted as his counsel for several years and he had acted on the advice of the firm in taking out coal claims in Alaska. Frost explained other portions of letters written to the other defendants in an effort to show that the law had not been violated in the taking out of the coal land claims.

The direct examination of Frost was concluded this afternoon and his cross-examination was begun by the counsel for the government. Frost was requested to produce all the correspondence in his possession relating to the coal land claims.

Later he brought into court a large bundle of letters which were examined by the government's representative.

Promoter of Low Phone Rates Declares He Made No Offer to Call Off Initiative Petition.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

SAN FRANCISCO, March 31. — M. Kollman, publisher of the Pacific Telephone Companies directory, charged today before a committee of the Board of Supervisors, investigating telephone rates, that Algernon Crofton, president of the Telephone Users' Association, which is circulating an initiative petition for lower rates, had offered to halt all further action in return for a bribe of $30,000.

Kollman testified that he has been representing the company in its negotiation with the association.

The Board of Supervisors will make an investigation.

Crofton absolutely denied he had ever solicited a cent from the telephone company. In reply to the charges against him he referred to that the Rates Committee of the Board of Supervisors was in alliance with the company to discredit the Telephone Users' Association.

Likely to Do Further Time on Additional Charge.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

PATERSON (N. J.) March 31.—William D. Haywood, organizer for the Industrial Workers of the World, was sentenced this afternoon to six months in the County Jail on conviction of having caused unlawful assemblages. He came here in connection with the silk mill workers' strike.

Haywood was convicted of disorderly conduct in connection with an assemblage of strikers of overall workers here. A second charge of causing unlawful assemblage was lodged against him. On this he was held, the amount of the bail to be fixed later. Haywood pleaded not guilty to both charges. He was sent to the County Jail immediately to begin his sentence, but his attorneys indicated that they would file an appeal within a few days.

Haywood was given the maximum sentence with which disorderly conduct is punishable. During his term of imprisonment he will have to work ten hours a day at hard labor. One hundred policemen armed with riot guns stretched a cordon around police headquarters during the hearing. Fully 2000 strikers and strike sympathizers assembled outside the building. So ugly appeared their mood that the police locked Haywood in a cell at the police station intead of taking him to the County Jail, until the crowd dispersed.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

CHICAGO, March 31.—Members of the State Senate's commission investigating the "white slave" traffic agreed in executive session today to ask the co-operation of State-street merchants in the formation of a permanent national organization to aid working girls.

Chicago merchants who employ large numbers of girls and young women will be asked to perfect an association which will include branches in every large city in the country. This association, it is expected, will make a systematic investigation and develop a comprehensive programme for the aid and betterment of working women.

EPISCOPAL CLERGY AGAINST DROPPING "PROTESTANT."

Fifteen Heads of Churches in New York Send Letter to Bishop Tuttle of Missouri Urging Retention of Title Which Organization Has Long Borne With Honor.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

NEW YORK, March 31.—The recent agitation in the Protestant Episcopal Church and in its press to eliminate from its name the word Protestant, or to adopt a new name, has called forth from fifteen rectors of New York a letter of protest which has been sent to the Rt. Rev. Daniel S. Tuttle of Missouri, presiding bishop of the church.

One of the new names suggested to which objection is found is the "American Catholic Church." Those who favor its adoption propose to submit it for consideration at the next general convention of the church in this city in October.

TEXT OF LETTER.

The letter was made public in New York tonight. In part it is as follows:

"We believe the time to be inopportune for changing the name because the great number opposed to the change will be sincerely disturbed by such action; because it seems quite evident that those who desire a change cannot agree on a name; and because church unity, of which we are becoming more hopeful, cannot be advanced by a church which deliberately destroys its own peace.

"We do not undertake to discuss here the inadequacy of our present name though we insist there is a vast difference between the question of church wisdom in its original selection and the proposal to drop the name which the church has honorably borne since our people became a nation."

"FIRST EDITION" PROPS BUREAU

Copy of Poe's "Al Aaraf" Used in Place of Caster Brings Two Thousand Dollars.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

WASHINGTON, March 31.—Long used to prop a bureau that days now distant had lost a caster, a book brought $2000 to two aged women and joy to the heart of a collector of old volumes, who announced today that another "first edition" of Edgar Allen Poe's work, "Al Aaraf," had been found. The women, a mother and daughter, had called John T. Loomis, a second-hand book dealer, to their rooms to look over a small library they possessed. The offering did not attract the man and as he was leaving he saw a cardboard-bound volume under the edge of the bureau.

"What is this?" he said, stooping.

"That's nothing," said the daughter. "It's by Mr. Poe. He used to call on Adeline and Alvina Wolfe, two ladies who lived in Baltimore, and he gave it to them. It fell very flat when it was published."

Loomis could have had it virtually for nothing. Instead, he gave the women $2000. A first edition copy of the work recently brought $2700 at auction.

Eastern Tobacco Dealers Forward to Each Chapter House Three Separate Packages of Gold-Tipped Variety—They Wonder What to Do With Them.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

UNIVERSITY OF OREGON, EUGENE (Or.) March 31.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] Oregon co-eds are indignant and declare eastern tobacco dealers have a false idea of western college women—at least they have committed a grievous mistake. Today, week, there arrived in each sorority house in three separate packages the prettiest, gold-tipped, perfumed cigarettes, guaranteed a cool smoke and not to bite the tongue.

With the cigarettes came a letter explaining the merits of the fussy little feminine smokes, asking that the women give them a fair trial, and if satisfied place an order with the firm in the future.

In the meantime the girls are wondering what they will do with the "things;" they look too cute to throw away, and it would never do to have them around. Anyway, the tobacco company will be instructed to take University of Oregon sorority houses off their mailing list.

SUES MRS. JOHN W. GATES.

Widow of Late Millionaire Named in Action to Recover Loss in Ice Stocks.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

NEW YORK, March 31.—Mrs. John W. Gates was served this afternoon with a subpoena in a suit to recover $975,000 from her, Charles W. Morse, Charles M. Schwab, John H. Flagler, Col. Robert M. Thompson, Isaac Guggenheim and others. The sum mentioned is alleged to represent the loss of Arthur P. Heinze in certain ice stocks.

It is charged that the defendants —with the exception of Mrs. Gates, who is sued as administratrix of her husband's estate—induced Heinze to invest in the stock "by false and misleading statements." Heinze assigned his claim to the Richmond Assets Collection Company, which is the plaintiff in the suit.

TORONTO (Ont.) March 31.—Two-thirds of the survivors of the polar expedition will come home either gray-haired or bald. Alfred Wright received today from his son, C. S. MEAT TO GO HIGHER.

Is Bringing Top Figures Already in New York on Account of Shortage in Supply.

[BY A. P. DAY WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

ROUMANIA'S THREAT TO RESORT TO WAR.

[BY CABLE AND A. P. TO THE TIMES.]

BUCHAREST, March 31. — Ex-Premier P. P. Carp, leader of the conservative party in the Roumanian Parliament, is reported to have said today that in view of the capture of Adrianople by the Bulgars, the claims of Roumania for the rectification of her frontier now would include territory within a line drawn from Turtukoi, on the Danube, twenty-eight miles west of Silistria, to Baltchik, twenty-three miles north of the port of Varna, on the Black Sea, thus taking in a considerable slice of Bulgarian territory.

If necessary, said the statesman, Roumania would resort to arms to enforce her demands.

THE WEATHER BACK EAST.

Conditions Over the Country Are Favorable and the Temperature Is About Normal.

[BY FEDERAL (WIRELESS) LINE TO THE TIMES.]

CHICAGO BUREAU OF THE TIMES, March 31.—[Special Dispatch.] Weather conditions over the country tonight are favorable. Temperatures are about normal. It was 90 deg. in San Antonio, Tex., today, that being the high mark for the country. Duluth was the coldest point, the lowest temperature being 28 deg. above zero. Chicago enjoyed a real spring day. Prof. Henry J. Cox, who came back to the Weather Bureau today, said the city is to have fine spring weather for the next few days. "It will be fair and the temperature should continue to rise," he said. There has been a very slight rainfall in Columbus during the past twenty-four hours, but the rest of the Ohio and the whole of the Indiana flood district is clear. Other temperatures:

BELL BACK FROM PANAMA.

[BY FEDERAL (WIRELESS) LINE TO THE TIMES.]

WASHINGTON BUREAU OF THE TIMES, March 31.—[Special Dispatch.] Representative Charles Bell and wife have returned from their trip to Panama. They enjoyed their trip and are enthusiastic about the great work that American engineers are doing on the isthmus. "We were surprised and delighted on alighting from our train at Panama to step right into the midst of the Chamber of Commerce party from Los Angeles," said Mr. Bell. "I can't say enough in praise of the great achievement that is being wrought there. The President of the republic gave a reception for us at his home and in every way our visit was made pleasant for us."

Representative and Mrs. Knowland are expected back from California Wednesday and Representative Knowland is due Sunday.

The word is being passed around that fourth class postmasters will be required to take examinations to demonstrate their fitness to sort mail and handle out two stamps and a postal card for a nickel. An official order to brush up on three R's is expected soon.

FLOOD'S CREST READY TO PASS.

About Seventy Feet Expected in Cincinnati Today.

Thousands of Persons Homeless in Kentucky.

Provisions for Relief Are More Than Adequate.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

CINCINNATI (O.) March 31.—When the Ohio River here reaches a stage of 69.7, which is expected about midnight, the crest of the flood at this point will have been reached. The stage late today was 69.5 feet.

At points east of here the river already has begun to recede, but to the west reports are replete with stories of destruction and desolation.

The direct and indirect damage caused here by the flooding of the river front section, and low-lying residences will be great. The direct loss is estimated at more than $2,000,000.

Relief provisions locally and also in the near-by inundated territory are more than adequate and a statement was issued today by Mayor Hunt to the effect that no more supplies were required here.

Across the river from here in the several Kentucky cities and towns that practically form one large city, conditions still are deplorable. All of them are without lights.

In Newport, the property loss was declared to be larger than any heretofore inflicted by flood waters here.

Relief measures are adequate in all the Kentucky towns across the river from here except Dayton, where the authorities appealed to the Federal relief officials for assistance. It is estimated that 1000 homes have been inundated at Dayton and that more than 4000 persons are homeless and dependent upon relief measures for subsistence.

REBUKES OHIO GOVERNOR.

Santa Barbara Millionaire Who Weathered St. Louis Cyclone Says State Should Care for Itself.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

SANTA BARBARA, March 31.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] D. D. Walker, a multi-millionaire and retired merchant of St. Louis, who is spending the winter here, today sent a telegram to Gov. Cox of Ohio, giving him a stinging rebuke for appealing to the entire United States for aid for the flood sufferers.

Copies of the telegram were wired to the Mayors and Boards of Trade of both Cleveland and Cincinnati. The telegram reads as follows:

"Santa Barbara, Cal., March 31.

"Hon. Gov. Cox, Columbus, O.: Your appeal to the entire United States for contributions for the benefit of your flood sufferers after the press had driven all sympathetic people throughout the United States into hysterics, was, to my way of thinking, a crime. The ministers are taking up collections in their churches here today for the fund. Every extra dollar that is owned in this city is needed for its own charities and such is the case in three-fourths of the towns and cities in the United States. San Francisco should send $3,000,000, because it owes it and not another dollar should be pulled out of California except from voluntary contributors. St. Louis was hit by a cyclone about fifteen years ago. She refused all outside contributions, though there were many liberal offers, and took care of the situation herself. At that time, considering her wealth, she was not any more able to do it than Dayton is to weather the losses made by this flood in her vicinity.

"You were right in appealing to the government right away but should have consulted the Boards of Trade of all the large cities in Ohio before making that appeal.

"I consider it a disgrace to the State of Ohio, which State is about the third richest of all the other States, and well financially able to have taken care of the whole situation without receiving a dollar from any source outside of the State. You would have had an abundance of offers from your neighboring States who always give liberally on occasions of this kind. I suggest that you inform all the people west of the Mississippi River that their contributions will not be needed right away.

[Signed]

"D. D. WALKER.

"For fifty-six years in business in St. Louis.

"P.S.: I venture the prediction that there are more than fifty men in the State of Ohio who singly could finance the losses incurred by the late floods and have plenty left."

CHICAGO'S COLOSSAL FUND.

Sum Raised for Ohio By Windy City Has Reached Over Three Hundred Thousand Dollars.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

CHICAGO, March 31.—Chicago's relief fund for the flood victims reached $310,000 today.

The Chicago Association of Commerce shipped today 1000 blankets and 1000 mattresses to Tiffon, O. The association thus far has turned over $80,000 to the American National Red Cross Society for distribution among the flood sufferers in Ohio.

OHIO STOPS RISING.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

HUNTINGTON (W. Va.) March 31.—The Ohio River became stationary soon after midnight and at noon was falling slowly. Relief committees took up the work of feeding and caring for 5000 homeless this morning and by evening there will be little suffering. Gov. Hatfield returned to Charleston early today, when assured that conditions here would not become worse. Reports from Catlettsburg and Ashland, Ky., and Ironton, O., are that conditions are even worse than they are here. The property loss throughout this entire section of the Ohio Valley will be enormous.

NEW YORK'S GENEROSITY.

NEW YORK, March 31.—This city added more than $61,000 today to its relief fund for the flood and storm sufferers of the Middle West. The fund now totals about $465,000.

Break in Cairo Levee.

the first train is not expected to leave here before tomorrow.

The city has been without water for domestic purposes four days. But one death has been reported thus far, but it is feared that the receding waters will disclose the bodies of people caught in their homes by the rapidly-rising waters.

In Parkersburg, Belpre and other Wood county towns, upwards of 3000 people are homeless.

TO RELIEVE OMAHA.

APPEAL TO LEGISLATURE.

[BY A. P. DAY WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

LINCOLN (Neb.) March 31.—A delegation of Omaha men this morning asked the Legislature to pass a bill authorizing Douglas county to issue bonds in the sum of $1,000,000 for the purpose of building the houses in the tornado district of Omaha. The delegation appealed to Gov. Moorehead to use his power of introducing emergency measures on getting the matter before the Legislature.

WASHINGTON STREAMS RISING.

Floods Threatened But Little Damage Is Done Although Railroad Traffic Is Impeded.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

COLFAX (Wash.) March 31.—Floods in Southeastern Washington continued without great damage today. Snow melting in the mountains is causing the rivers near Walla Walla to spread out beyond their banks. No great damage, however, has been reported. Railroad traffic has been impeded in Western Idaho by landslides and high water.

BREAK IN LEVEE FLOODS COLUMBUS, KY.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

COLUMBUS (Ky.) March 31.—The Mobile and Ohio levee, one-fourth of a mile from here, broke at 5 o'clock this afternoon. At 8 o'clock tonight East Columbus was flooded, the water in the streets being from four to eight feet deep.

Burial of Columbus flood victims was begun today. Sixty-seven bodies, victims of last Tuesday's flood, when the levee along the Scioto River broke, have been recovered and most of them have been identified. Many still are reported missing.

The Olentangy River receded to its bed today, allowing residents of the lower portions of the west side to reenter their wrecked houses. By the end of the week officials expect all of the relief stations will be cleared of refugees.

Relief funds received or in course of transmission were estimated at approximately $1,000,000.

HEAR REPORT FROM CAIRO.

LEVEE SAID TO BE BROKEN.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

FRANKFORT (Ky.) March 31.—Acting Adjt.-Gen. Ellis received a message tonight ascribed to the Mayor of Columbus, Ky., on the Mississippi River below Cairo, stating that the levee there had broken. Wire communication failed before details could be learned.

QUIT SHAWNEETOWN.

PEOPLE IN FEAR OF FLOOD.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

SHAWNEETOWN (Ill.) Mar. 31.—Unless there is a check in the rapid rise of the Ohio River, it is predicted here that Shawneetown will be under water Wednesday morning. The levee, however, is in excellent condition, and the greatest fear is felt from the possibility that the river will go higher than the levee. All women and children have left the town.

SAY LEVEE IS HOLDING.

MAIN BANK NOT AFFECTED.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

ST. LOUIS, April 1.—A telephone message received at 1:45 o'clock this morning from Cairo, Ill., said that the main levee still was holding. There is a small leak in the levee around the drainage district, but it is not large enough to cause alarm.

ON GUARD AT MEMPHIS.

LEVEE BEING STRENGTHENED.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

MEMPHIS (Tenn.) March 31.—A stage of thirty-six feet was registered on the local gauge of the Mississippi River at 7 o'clock this morning, a rise of eight-tenths of a foot in the past twenty-four hours. Forces of men in North Memphis are raising the levee and protecting low portions of the city from a possible overflow. City authorities say they will be able to withstand a forty-seven-foot stage. United States engineers say everything is in good shape from Memphis to Hickman.

FREAKS OF FLOOD VICTIMS.

Woman Insists on Carrying Snow Shovel and Man Loads Piano Into Motor Car.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

DAYTON (O.) March 31.—John Stone, No. 78 Victor street, was one of the large number of volunteer lifesavers in Riverdale. He rescued a woman from the second story window of a house in Linwood street, who insisted in bringing with her a snow shovel. Clutching the shoval to her breast, she sat in the stern of Stone's boat singing hymns and laughing hysterically. In attempting to round a street corner where a torrent poured in from across the street, the boat struck an electric light pole and Stone lost the paddle with which he was propelling his craft.

"God told me," shouted the woman, Mrs. Clemens, "he told me. Now use the shovel."

Stone managed to paddle his boat with the shovel to a place of safety.

Rescuers found a Mrs. Atherton standing in water waist deep in the second story of her home in East Riverdale. An hour before the rescuers arrived the woman had given birth to a son, which she was clutching in her arms. The babe was dead. Mrs. Atherton is expected to live.

Coming out of the front door of his residence at No. 351 South Main street, Charles McComber saw the flood coming. He rushed back to his garage and brought his motor car around in front. Calling to his wife and three children, he began loading the car with chairs and rugs from the parlor. He moved the piano onto the front porch. On top of a number of chairs he piled a davenport which ordinarily two men scarcely would be able to handle.

Then McComber lifted his wife and children into the car and just as he was starting away the car was overwhelmed and had to be deserted. Refuge was taken by the family in a passing boat, which had started out from a laundry not far away.

"It was aphasia," said McComber in relating his experience. "I don't remember anything about it. But there stands the loaded motor car, ruined, of course, and there is the piano where I brought it."

Revenge.

TO TAKE FIELD AGAINST ZAPATA

Orozco, Jr., Hopes to Avenge Father's Execution.

Southern Rebels Anxious to Join With Carranza.

Gomez Has Quit Mexico and Says He Wants Peace.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

MEXICO CITY, March 31.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] Pascual Orozco, Jr., leader of the revolutionists in the north, has sworn vengeance against the rebels in the south, and will lead an army of extermination against the Zapatistas and Carranza bands. The apparent confirmation of the report that his father, Pascual Orozco, Sr., had been captured and executed by Zapatistas, started anew the flame of hatred in Orozco's breast and he is now preparing to take the field and avenge the death of his parent. Orozco, Jr., came to the capital several weeks ago and pledged his support to the Huerta-Diaz regime. His father was on his way to this city as one of three peace envoys from the north to arrange terms of settlement of the strife there. The Zapatistas, evidently fearing that if the peace envoys reached Mexico City and made terms of peace it would greatly lessen their chances of success, captured the envoys and put them to death.

Zapatistas, it is now stated, are endeavoring to form a consolidation with Carranza, in Sinaloa, with the idea of moving this combined force against the capital. Carranza, it is understood, has consolidated with the few Vasquitsas in the north.

RECALL OROZCO'S MEN.

Today all of the troops loyal to Gen. Orozco were recalled from the north, and a strong force will be organized at once, under the leadership of Orozco, to take the field against Zapata. The attempted assassination of Minister of War Mondragon was unsuccessful. Two shots were fired at the Minister, as he rode through the streets, but he escaped. The work of placing troops for the defense of the city is progressing rapidly. High army officials admitted today that the situation was critical both here and in several northern States, where the rebels were preparing to organize a government of their own. Two more American cruisers were reported to have steamed into the gulf at Vera Cruz today.

OROZCO'S FATHER KILLED BY ZAPATA.

[BY A. P. DAY WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

EL PASO (Tex.) March 31.—Col. Pascual Orozco, Sr., father of the former northern revolutionary leader, has been executed by order of Emilio Zapata, rebel leader of Southern Mexico, according to advices received here today. Col. Orozco some days ago visited Zapata's stronghold as a peace emissary for the Huerta government.

WANT ANNEXATION TO UNITED STATES.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

EL PASO, March 31.—Annexation to the United States is being sought by certain factions of revolutionary leaders in Sonora, the northwestern Mexican border State virtually controlled by insurgent troops. Ignacio Bonillas, a Sonora State Congressman, said to be the leader of the movement, is on his way to Washington to confer with officials of the Departments of State and Interior regarding the plan. According to leaders here, Bonillas will propose that if the Washington government recognize the belligerency of the Sonora State troops annexation to the United States will be advocated.

GOMEZ IS LONESOME.

Self-declared Provisional President of Mexico Is Refugee at El Paso, Tex.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

EL PASO (Tex.) March 31.—Vasquez Gomez, a self-declared provisional President of Mexico, arrived here today alone. Gen. Jose Ines Salazar, whose rebel forces composed his only militant following, has accepted the Huerta national government.

Gomez was named President in the plan of Tacubaya, an amendment to the original Madero programme of San Luis Potosi. Now he is a refugee in the United States with no apparent political or military following.

"I only want peace for my country," said Gomez, dejectedly.

Salazar's ex-rebels now control the entire Casas Grandes district.

Hearing that Salazar had espoused the Presidential claims of Gomez, provisional President Huerta a few days ago telegraphed the rebel general for an immediate declaration of his stand. Salazar altered his former policy and agreed to accept Huerta should he be given the Casas Grandes district. This transaction was consummated today.

NAVAL FORCE IS WITHDRAWN.

Battleship Nebraska Ordered from Tampico to Boston Navy Yard for Overhauling.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

WASHINGTON, March 31.—Conditions in Mexico, at least on the east coast, and near the capital, have become sufficiently reassuring to warrant the United States in withdrawing some of the naval forces maintained at Vera Cruz and Tampico for the last two months. The battleship Nebraska at Tampico was ordered today to the Boston navy yard for overhauling.

Gov. Carranza, at the head of the revolution against the Mexican government in the north, has declared himself provisional President, according to official advices today.

OH, ALGERNON, LISTEN!

They, They, They Are Going to Carry Handbags Now, the Men Are, So They Are.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

CHICAGO, March 31.—Handbags for men is the latest conceit of Chicago boulevardiers, and the new fad is said to be about to displace the wrist watch, which found great favor here. The innovation had its rise in the new, close-fitting models of men's attire, which allows no room for pockets.

Revenge.

TO TAKE FIELD AGAINST ZAPATA.

Southern Rebels Anxious to Join With Carranza.

Gomez Has Quit Mexico and Says He Wants Peace.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

MEXICO CITY, March 31.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] Pascual Orozco, Jr., leader of the revolutionists in the north, has sworn vengeance against the rebels in the south, and will lead an army of extermination against the Zapatistas and Carranza bands. The apparent confirmation of the report that his father, Pascual Orozco, Sr., had been captured and executed by Zapatistas, started anew the flame of hatred in Orozco's breast and he is now preparing to take the field and avenge the death of his parent. Orozco, Jr., came to the capital several weeks ago and pledged his support to the Huerta-Diaz regime. His father was on his way to this city as one of three peace envoys from the north to arrange terms of settlement of the strife there. The Zapatistas, evidently fearing that if the peace envoys reached Mexico City and made terms of peace it would greatly lessen their chances of success, captured the envoys and put them to death.

Zapatistas, it is now stated, are endeavoring to form a consolidation with Carranza, in Sinaloa, with the idea of moving this combined force against the capital. Carranza, it is understood, has consolidated with the few Vasquitzas in the north.

RECALL OROZCO'S MEN.

Today all of the troops loyal to Gen. Orosco were recalled from the north, and a strong force will be organized at once, under the leadership of Orozco, to take the field against Zapata. The attempted assassination of Minister of War Mondragon was unsuccessful. Two shots were fired at the Minister, as he rode through the streets, but he escaped. The work of placing troops for the defense of the city is progressing rapidly. High army officials admitted today that the situation was critical both here and in several northern States, where the rebels were preparing to organize a government of their own. "Tabula Rasa."

WILSON'S MIND IS OPEN AGAIN.

But Others Are Closed to the Underwood Plan.

Want Congress Committees Named Immediately.

Talk of a Plot to Compel Tariff Revision Votes.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

WASHINGTON, March 31.—Democratic opposition has developed in the House to the plan agreed to by Representative Underwood and other party leaders, that no committees should be appointed at the opening of the special session except those necessary to the transaction of routine business and the handling of the tariff revision bills.

President Wilson to Representative Sims of Tennessee today said he had an "open mind" on the subject.

It has been the plan of Underwood and his colleagues to hold back the appointment of other committees so that full attention may be given the tariff while that subject is before the House. Members who favor the appointment of other committees insist that this plan would be interpreted in many quarters as a method of forcing members of the House to support the tariff bill. Further than this it is claimed that Panama Canal, Philippine, Alaskan, currency, appropriation and other legislation will require consideration by committees early in the session.

Representative Underwood and Senator Simmons, chairman of the Senate Finance Committee, will discuss the tariff programme in detail with President Wilson within the next day or two.

BAILEY SEES BLACK.

Former United States Senator Says He Thinks Revision of Tariff Will Damage Business.

[BY FEDERAL (WIRELESS) LINE TO THE TIMES.]

WASHINGTON BUREAU OF THE TIMES, March 31.—[Special Dispatch.] That there will be a serious business disturbance throughout the United States following the revision of the tariff was admitted today by former Senator Bailey, himself a Democrat and authority on the tariff.

"If the Democrats modify the tariff without disaster," he said, "they will do as much as can be asked and more than many believe they can do. Tariff legislation will create some disturbance. Even now importation awaits the reduction of the tariff and there must be a cessation of imports and of business, and further, upon reduction of the tariff, all domestic productions must be made at a lower cost and thus there will be a curtailment of domestic manufacturing."

CONGRESS LEGISLATES.

But What of That? Wilson Is Going to Decide Whether or Not Sugar Shall Be Free.

[BY A. P. DAY WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

WASHINGTON, March 31.—President Wilson will decide if raw sugar shall go on the free list or carry a small duty in the new tariff bill. Congressional leaders were willing to defer to his attitude. Chairman Underwood of the Ways and Means Committee is waiting to hear from the President. The Louisiana delegation and Congressmen from the beet sugar districts want a duty.

SCHOONER IS A DERELICT.

Codfisher From San Francisco Drifts Bottom Up Off Point Reyes. Fate of Crew Unknown.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

SAN FRANCISCO, March 31.—The three-masted schooner John D. Spreckels of this port is a derelict tonight, drifting bottom side up off Point Reyes, and the fate of the vessel's crew is unknown. She carried captain and seven men.

This information was received by wireless from the United States revenue cutter McCulloch, which is standing by the wreck.

The Spreckels is a codfisher and was homeward bound from Unga, Alaska. She may have had cannery hands aboard besides the crew. The schooner is owned by the Alaska Codfish Company and is of 267 tons burden.

The derelict was reported by the steamer Temple E. Dorr, which reached port, herself in sore straits with all hands working the pumps and with five feet of water in her hold, the result of a collision yesterday with the steamer Yellowstone 100 miles north of Point Arena. The McCulloch set out after the wreck. Information concerning the condition of the Yellowstone has not yet been received here.

The McCulloch reported that the derelict showed evidences of having been in a collision.

Steamer W. M. Chatham Slowly Making Her Way Minus Deckload Into San Francisco.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

SAN FRANCISCO, March 31.—With a heavy list and part of her deckload gone, the steamer W. M. Chatham is slowly making her way to this port after encountering trouble off Cape Blanco yesterday morning. Word has been received from the steamer Ascuncion by the marine department of the Chamber of Commerce reporting the condition of the lumber carrier and conveying the news that the vessel is not in immediate danger.

According to the Ascuncion, Capt. Lancaster of the Chatham refused assistance.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

NEW YORK, March 31.—His cheeks ruddy and tanned by exposure to the southern sun, former President William Howard Taft arrived here tonight after a month's vacation at Augusta, Ga. He said he had had an ideal vacation and would go tomorrow morning for New Haven to take up his new position at the Yale faculty.

THE ASSEMBLY SESSION.

APPROPRIATIONS PASSED.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

SACRAMENTO, March 31.—Appropriation bills among the twenty-four measures passed today by the Assembly call for the payment out of the State Treasury of about $70,000, the largest item being $30,000 to provide for the payment of premiums on the bonds of State officials under the act of 1903. The bill was introduced by Assemblyman W. F. Chandler, as was another measure passed providing the State Engineer with a revolving fund of $10,000 for the facilitation of his work. Two bills by Assemblyman Weldon of Ukiah, appropriating $22,500 for the Mendocino State Hospital and a number of small deficiency claim bills made up the total.

TO TREAT FOR RABIES.

Assemblyman Finnegan's bill providing for the free treatment by the State Board of Health of persons exposed to rabies and unable to bear the expense of proper medical attention was passed by a vote of 46 to 2.

ALLOWANCE FOR INSECTS.

With an appropriation by the last Legislature one James McGillvray conducted for the State a "search for beneficial insects," and found $92.20 worth more of them than the law allowed. His deficiency was made up by the Assembly in passing Assembly bill 788 by Chandler.

PASS ROAD BILL.

Assemblyman H. W. Brown's bill, No. 1576, providing a method of forming road districts alternative to the present system, was passed unanimously.

TO TREAT INSANITY.

Considerable time was taken up in discussing Assemblyman Bloodgood's bill providing for the parole and treatment in their homes of mild cases of insanity, and the measure finally was made a special order of business for Thursday at 2 o'clock. The proposed law would apply only to Los Angeles, San Francisco and Alameda counties, as drawn, and fears were expressed that it would be found unconstitutional. It also met with determined opposition from Assemblyman Schmitt of San Francisco and Smith of Oakland, who said that their cities were not in favor of assuming the burden now placed exclusively upon the State.

FOR A GAS PLANT.

Assemblyman T. J. Weldon's bills appropriating $10,000 and $12,500, respectively, for a gas plant and reservoir at the Mendocino State Hospital were passed. Each bill carries an emergency clause, making the money available at once if approved by the Senate and Governor.

Assemblyman W. A. Johnstone of San Dimas introduced a bill directing the State Water Commission to examine all school lands belonging to the State and to report to the Legislature of 1915 as to their value for timber, mineral, oil or water-power development.

ROAD BILL PASSES.

A bill permitting individual counties to come to the aid of the State in the construction of the good roads system, which it was once thought the $18,000,000 State bond issue would be sufficient to build, was passed by the Assembly today by a vote of 41 to 16. The bill was drawn up by the Highway Commission, introduced by Assemblyman W. F. Chandler of Fresno, chairman of the Ways and Means Committee, and defended on the floor by Assemblyman Thomas G. Gabbert, chairman of the Roads and Highways Committee.

"The $18,000,000 bond issue will not cover the cost of the road system mapped out," said Gabbert, "and this bill, which will permit the wealthier counties to turn over to the State completed roads, will be of great benefit in extending good roads to the more obscure corners of the State."

Amendments by Assemblyman Bloodgood, Polsley and Simpson were voted down. They opposed the bill on the ground that it gave county boards of Supervisors power to assume too great a share of a financial burden properly belonging to the State.

Those voting against the bill were: Alexander, Bagby, Bloodgood, Ford, Gelder, Guiberson, Guill, Polsley, Richardson, Schmitt, Shannon, Simpson, Smith, Stuckenbruck, Weldon and Wyllie.

AID FLOOD VICTIMS.

The sum of $100,000 for the relief of the flood sufferers of Ohio and Indiana will be appropriated by the California Legislature today or tomorrow if constitutional objections to such a contribution can be overcome.

Following a meeting of the joint committee of Senators and Assemblymen with Gov. Johnson and Comptroller Nye this morning, it was announced that this sum undoubtedly would be made available at once, and a further conference was set for this afternoon when the method of reaching the desired end was to be debated.

An auction of theater tickets for a benefit performance at one of the local playhouses brought in $500 from the Senate and Assembly this morning.

FATAL ROW AMONG APACHES.

Tribal Leader in Jail at San Carlos Reservation for Murder of His Wife.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

GLOBE (Ariz.) March 31.—The Apache Indians on the San Carlos Reservation near here are aroused over the fatal row in the family of Jim Charley, a tribal leader. Charley is in jail here charged with the murder of his wife, who is said to have been kicked to death by her husband Saturday night in a fit of jealousy. Mrs. Charley's sister is in jail at the San Carlos agency for stabbing Charley's sister yesterday, an outcome of the tragedy of the previous night.

A hundred squaws sat in front of an undertaking establishment here today and chanted the Apache death song in memory of the departed squaw.

[BY CABLE AND A. P. TO THE TIMES.]

SAN DOMINGO (Dominican Republic) March 31.—Archbishop Nouel, at today's session of the National Congress, tendered his resignation as provisional President of the Dominican republic. The resignation was accepted and Congress will appoint his successor.

Ill health was given as the reason for Archbishop Nouel's action.

Quiet prevails throughout the country.

We Offer 7% BONDS
Issued by the City of Los Angeles and other incorporated cities of California in payment for the paving or otherwise improving of public streets. These bonds bear seven per cent. interest, run for ten years, with one-tenth of the principal payable each year; interest is payable semi-annually; both interest and principal payable at the office of the City Treasurer.

Each bond is a first lien upon a particular piece of property for its proportionate share of the costs of the improvement.

After an experience of many years in buying and selling Street Improvement Bonds, we believe them to be one of the best, if not the best, securities based on Real Estate, which the market affords.

Every bond offered by us is first purchased for our own account. Each property is carefully inspected for value and every detail of the bond issue carefully attended to. We can supply carefully selected bonds in sums to suit purchasers. The satisfactory experience of our customers through a series of years is our best warrant for strongly recommending this security.

STOCK LETTER.

[Furnished by Logan & Bryan, Members New York and Boston Stock Exchanges, Bradbury Bldg., Los Angeles.]

NEW YORK, March 31.—That not only the financial community, but also the country in general has suffered a great loss by the death of J. Pierpont Morgan, goes without saying. His activities were always characterised by clean and upright methods and his counsel was always solicited in matters of vast and critical importance. It is confidently felt, however, that his lieutenants will be able to assume the burden of his work, owing to their excellent training and abilities. Therefore, while the loss has been great, it is not improbable that, owing to the many preparations for some weeks, the ill effects will be much less than if the stock market had not been strengthened through liquidation and bear pressure. Were it not for the aggressive support tendered today it is not improbable that securities prices would have declined appreciably, but, as it was, the resistance offered, tended to overshadow liquidation and bear pressure for the time being and as a consequence losses were negligible. London and the Continent during the past few sessions have purchased American issues quite freely, owing to turn for the better in European political conditions and to other well-defined indications that April 1st settlements will be concluded without that acute strain which was anticipated some time ago. In addition to the foregoing, domestic shorts covered freely in view of the conservative utterances from Washington regarding the probable extent of tariff revision and because of the realization that authoritative reports with regard to extent of interior losses as a consequence of floods were so meager as to breed exaggeration caused a revival of estimates as to the amount of monetary loss, which, of course, served the purpose of producing revulsion from the extremely pessimistic state in which the financial community found itself during early part of last week. It is, of course, always difficult to gauge with any degree of accuracy the probable extent of pending adversities and, therefore, it may be that the worst is known.

LOCAL PRODUCE MARKET.

The market was well supplied with asparagus yesterday, the prices were generally a little lower. Several large shipments from the North came in and more were expected. Northern strawberry rhubarb continues in good supply at about the same prices. Some local winter crimson was selling as low as $1 a box. Artichokes are rather plentiful, around 65 to 75 a dozen in many instances. Hothouse mushrooms were received and quoted at $2.75 a basket. The field-grown stock is rather scarce. A very good supply of cucumbers were in evidence at about the usual range of prices. A car or so of Florida tomatoes were received and sold at $2.75 to $3 a crate. Dealers believed that it will be rather difficult to obtain any more from this section, and they say they understand a portion of the crop has been damaged by rain. A shipment by water is expected from Mexico, however. The supply of tomatoes was fair yesterday. Potatoes and beans continue about the same. The onion market shows firmness.

Butter receipts were heavy, but did not affect the price, which may fall off in a day or two, however. Cheese was easy, receipts being good. Eggs remained the same.

Some strawberries from Strawberry Park were received and quoted at 25 cents a basket. Loquats were also in evidence at about the same prices. Receipts of apples were heavy. Several good shipments came in from Oregon. Bananas are steady at about 4 cents a pound in most cases.

Reported receipts were: Eggs, 612 cases; butter, 70,721 pounds; cheese, 6225 pounds; potatoes, 5400 sacks; apples, 6040 boxes.

Shares and Money.

MORGAN'S DEATH IS DISCOUNTED.

STOCK MARKET WELL PREPARED FOR ANNOUNCEMENT.

Slight Decline at Start Is Made Up Before the Close—Tightening of Call Money Has Depressing Influence for a Time, but Prices Again Rise.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

NEW YORK, March 31.—The stock market was little disturbed by the death of J. Pierpont Morgan. The news from Rome was the overshadowing feature of the day in the financial district, but its effect was largely sentimental. Reports during the last few weeks had prepared the street for the news which came today and as it was received an hour before the opening of the market, there was ample time for protective measures. It was assumed from the outset that the market would be kept well in hand, but the degree of resistance shown was surprising to traders. The material decline of Americans in London before the opening here gave a fairly accurate estimate of the effect on securities of Mr. Morgan's death. Declines of a point or less were general, but before trading had been under way fifteen minutes the list rallied strongly. Steel, the chief stock, was fairly active, but its decline was confined to a point. By the end of the first hour losses were virtually made up. The higher level was not maintained, however, the list going back to the low point before noon. Tightening of call money to the highest rate of the year was a depressing influence. Prices rose again in the afternoon, but trading became dull. Call money touched 7 per cent. It was reported that Berlin was renewing its bids in this market for money, offering 5½ to 9 per cent. for thirty-day funds. The bond market was irregular.

COPPER INDUSTRY.

London copper opened strong with spots at £67 15s, up £1, and futures at £67 10s, up 12s 6d. Tin opened strong with spots at £217 10s, up £2 10s, and futures at £213 10s, up £2 5s.

London copper closed quiet, with spots at £67 10s, off 5s, and futures at £67, 7s, 6d, off 5s, 6d. Tin closed strong with spots at £219, up £1, and futures at £214, up 10s. Spelter was at £25, up 5s, 6d.

A question asked many times is why copper shares, under the stimulation of 17¾ cents' price for the metal, did not have a larger market advance, as compared with the advance in the metal and shares in previous years. Many reasons can be given but the principal one, probably, lies in the fact that the investing public have received considerable education on the question of the overvaluation of mines in the past, as compared with railroads and industrials. A railroad is at least supposed to maintain its assets, if not actually to increase them, and the same applies to large industrial corporations. But a mine depreciates in value every year—yet how few investors stop to think of this until the depletion is actually brought home to them by some big market decline reflecting the sudden depletion of ore reserves. The principal high priced of many of the leading copper shares in 1912, as compared with 1907 were as follows:

Anaconda	74	48
Calumet and Hecla	1000	615
Copper Range	105	65½
Greene-Cananea	28	11⅜
Mohawk	96½	72
Nevada Cons.	34	24⅝
North Butte	130	20½
Osceola	181	130⅛
Quincy	197	95
Shannon	24⅜	17¾
Wolverine	200	117

In the five years between 1907 and 1912 there has been a very pronounced depletion in ore reserves in many of the properties. On the generally recognized assumption that mining stocks should sell on a 10 per cent. earning basis, independent of what they pay, and allowing in various cases certain estimated values where the prospect is favorable for increased reserves, production and earnings, or reduced values where future prospects are unfavorable, the following table will be of interest:

	Selling Price Basis 10 Per Cent. Copper.	Present Price.
	Earnings 12-Cent Per Cent.
Amalgamated	8.15	81⅝ 70½
Anaconda	2.40	24 39⅜
Calumet and Arizona	6.75	67½ 85¼
Chino	5.10	51 39¾
Copper Range	4.00	40 44¾
East Butte	2.15	21½ 72⅜
Granby	7.75	77½ 59⅝
Isle Royale	2.85	28½ 24⅝
Miami	2.80	28 25¾
Mohawk	5.30	53 80
North Butte	2.15	21½ 28⅝
Old Dominion	6.90	69 48
Osceola	9.00	90 91
Quincy	6.35	63½ 67
Ray Cons.	2.15	21½ 19⅜
Shannon	1.70	17 10½
Utah Copper	6.75	68 57

In 1912, for the first time since Calumet and Hecla embarked on its expansion policy, its subsidiary companies all operated at a profit, that is the producing mines—Ahmeek, Allouez, Centennial, Isle Royale, Osceola, Superior and Tamarack. With the exception of Ahmeek, Isle Royale and Osceola this was largely due to high-priced copper, although with the other three the practical fruition of plans which have been in the making for several years was not without its effect. Net earnings of the companies mentioned in 1912 were $3,758,906, compared with $1,418,000 in 1911, an increase of $2,340,000, or 165 per cent. Calumet and Hecla's equity in these earnings was $1,477,500, against $585,300 in 1911, or $14.75 per share, against $5.85 per share on Calumet and Hecla's 100,000 shares outstanding. The parent company did not receive actually this amount in cash from its subsidiaries, of course, its receipts from these sources from dividends being but $968,350—$22 per share on 24,500 shares of Ahmeek, $12 per share on 22,750 Osceola and $1 per share on 27,500 Isle Royale. The Isle Royale dividend and $7 of the $22 credited to Ahmeek will actually be received by Calumet and Hecla for credit to 1913 income account, but practically they represent part of 1912 profits.

The annual report of the Rhode Island Copper Company shows that during 1912 the company borrowed $43,095 from the Franklin Mining Company which owns 20,076 out of the 100,000 shares outstanding. The Rhode Island Copper Company had cash on hand January 1 last of $14.

LITTLE LANDERS,
GARDEN CITY,
In the mountains,
Near Los Angeles.
Modeled on the famous Little Landers of San Diego and under the same leadership of William E. Smythe, founder of the Na-tional Irrigation Congress, author of "Con-quest of Arid America," etc. There will be organized one at a time, several of the famous garden villages in the various wide-ly differing districts about Los Angeles.
Los Terrenitos (Spanish for the Little Lands,) will be the first settlement here-abouts, and its location has been selected with a view to securing the highest resi-dential values of any rural community. The elevation above sea level, is 1800 to 2100 feet, forming the most perfect conditions for robust health, and freedom from the ordinary frosts. It is encircled amidst Al-pine Mountain scenery, with mellow moun-tain climate, and possesses in the highest degree those features of climatic advantage so widely sought.
This first colony of the Little Landers of Los Angeles is particularly adapted to pro-duction of the rarest semi-tropical fruits—poultry and vegetables. It is a paradise re-treat—a little land, and a living—a training school for the newcomer—a garden village with high social and intellectual life. Co-operative marketing of the products direct to consumers and co-operative buying are main features of the plan. People from the highest walks of life enjoy gardening and poultry when they do not have to find their own market.
Outlying acreage in valley adjoining the city of Los Terrenitos at $400 to $600 with water piped. Large half-acre home places within one block of the great clubhouse now in course of erection, only $500. Quar-ter acres at $250; no lots smaller. Illustrated lectures daily at 2:30 and 8 p.m. Literature free. By mail or phone. Auto excursions daily except Sunday, 10:30 a.m., returning 4:30 p.m., $1 round trip.

Some of those jokes are too transparent! They're played out entirely. Take that one about the tailor who sells $50 suits for $16. That's become a regular Joe Miller. Nobody believes it any more. When a man wants a suit for $16, he buys a $16 suit. He doesn't expect $50 worth.

Why, even when men come here, they don't expect wonderful, outlandish values.

CITY NEWS IN BRIEF.

Basket Picnic.

Former residents of Livinston county, Illinois, will hold a basket picnic at Eastlake Park next Saturday.

Horse and Wagon Stolen.

Sam Pava, No. 129 Ross street, complained to the police yesterday that someone entered his barn early yesterday morning and stole his horse and a new wagon.

Oyster Supper and Social.

An oyster supper and social will be held in the St. Athanasius parish house, corner of Temple and Custer streets, from 6 to 10 o'clock this evening. The proceeds will go to the church.

Nimmo Names Assistant.

Harold G. Ferguson, No. 6927 Hollywood boulevard, a recent graduate of Stanford, was appointed assistant City Prosecutor yesterday by Prosecutor Nimmo. It is likely that the new assistant will be put on jury work at once.

Charter Ready for Use.

The last formality required to make the County Charter effective was conducted yesterday morning when Deputy District Attorney Byron Hanna filed a copy of the charter in the County Recorder's office. The document becomes effective June 1.

Unobservant Storekeeper.

C. H. Kane, No. 638 South Main street, reported to the police yesterday the loss of a purse containing $115 in gold, $3 in silver, and checks aggregating $125. Kane says a young man came into his store and stole the money and checks without being noticed.

Mexico Mail Embargo Lifted.

The postmaster received word yesterday that the embargo on Mexican mails to Nogales has been lifted and that hereafter the service will be as usual. There was never any basis for the statement made in local newspapers that mails could not be sent to Mexico. The order applied only to Nogales, located on the Arizona and Mexican line.

Orders Vista of Red.

One of the last acts of Postmaster-General Hitchcock was to order that all apparatus connected with the city delivery service should be painted red. Postmaster Harrison has received instructions to have the street letter and package boxes, mail wagons and autos painted that color. The department will receive bids for the painting and the contract will be awarded to the lowest bidder.

No Complaint Issued.

The District Attorney did not issue a complaint yesterday against William Osterloh, who it is alleged shot and fatally wounded Deputy Sheriff Charles Hearne in an altercation at the former's house. Hearne died at the Angelus Hospital and detectives at once began an investigation. Osterloh is in the County Jail. He will probably be charged with assault with intent to commit murder.

Lucky Legatee.

Herbert Rydell, arrested late Sunday night on suspicion, will probably be released today unless the detectives find something tangible against him. Rydell says that the money found in his room subsequent to his arrest was willed to him recently. So far the police have been unable to disprove this statement. Rydell says he is an artist and when asked to demonstrate his ability in that direction readily consented.

Eisenmann Missing.

A wife and two children, together with the young man's mother, are anxiously looking for Charles Eisenmann of No. 3616 McKinley avenue, who has not been seen for the last ten days. He was a driver for Hamburger's and dropped from sight after receiving his pay a week ago Saturday. He is about 22 years old, slight, dark complexion, 5 ft. 7 ins. tall, weighs about 130 pounds. He is thought to have been dissatisfied because of his inability to earn more money for his family.

California's "Passion Play."

The Chamber of Commerce yesterday ordered 500 tickets for the 300th performance of the "Mission Play," Thursday evening. Don W. Carlton, chairman of the committee to arrange for a large representation, has sent a card to every member, in which he says: "Let us make this the 'Passion Play of California.' This year will determine the fate of this production as a local, permanent attraction. Every loyal and patriotic member of the Chamber of Commerce is requested to lend his support."

Blames His Brain.

A. S. Prentice, former deputy county assessor, was held to answer to the Superior Court yesterday by Justice Forbes on a charge of having passed fictitious checks. Testimony showed the defendant borrowed $1.50 from a bartender to pay for drinks and returned the next day with a check for $25 which was unhesitatingly cashed. It proved to be issued on a bank where the defendant had no funds. Prentice admitted this but told the court he was suffering with brain trouble brought on by an operation.

Miss Mills Missing.

The police were asked yesterday to locate Miss Mabel Frances Mills, No. 1028 East Fifty-third street, who has been missing from her mother's home since early in February. The young woman left home saying she was going to work for Mrs. L. A. Ryder, No. 6717 Franklin street. Mrs. Ryder said yesterday that the girl came to her home and agreed to go to work the following day, but failed to return at the appointed time. Mrs. Mary Mills, the mother, did not know her daughter was missing until she went to the Ryder home yesterday to visit her daughter and found that she was not working there.

Must Cover Fruit.

The City Prosecutor's office got busy yesterday in the enforcement of the ordinance providing for the protection of fruit against insects. This ordinance provides that fruit of various kinds exhibited for sale must be covered in such a way as to prevent flies and other insects from coming in contact with it. As a beginning, four merchants were arrested yesterday by Special Officer Garlick, C. S. Linnell, No. 4511 Moneta avenue; E. T. Ahren, No. 4501 Moneta avenue; C. D. McAleren, No. 4043 Moneta avenue and Charles Ingram, No. 1820 South Main street, will appear in Police Court this morning to have impressed upon them the serious consequence of ignoring this ordinance.

Seeking New Pastures.

Supervisor Charlton of the Angeles National Forest has received a communication from T. D. Woodbury, acting district forester, stating that, for lack of rain in the Sacramento and San Joaquin valleys, there promises to be a great shortage of pasturage. There are about 4200 horses and cattle now grazing in the Angeles Reserve and the supervisor says that perhaps 1000 more can be accommodated, if the necessity arises. An abundance of feed of all kinds is reported in the Mojave Desert country by stock owners feeding stock beyond the reserve territory, and there is a large area of grazing land in the Mt. Wilson section and parts of San Bernardino county.

Fine Mountain-View Exhibit.

All lovers of the great out-of-doors and especially of California's magnificent mountains will wish to see the exhibit of thirty-five mountain views shown for a few days in the rooms of the Y.M.C.A. Camera Club, No. 406 Y.M.C.A. building. The views include several panoramas, all of which are enlarged and comprise the finest collection of High Sierra pictures ever shown together. Ragged, glacier-adorned peaks; mountain lakes, both above and below timber-line; great canyons, one of them, the Canyon of the Kern, thirty miles in length, and a number of rare and beautiful waterfalls. They are the work of artists with the camera and represent three full summers spent in the High Sierras. The territory pictured is that of the Kern and Kings rivers; the Mt. Whitney country; the Mammoth Lake district; the Banner and Ritter country, on the eastern bounds of Yosemite, and a few rare views of the Yosemite. The exhibit is free to the public and is open from 9:30 a.m. until 9 p.m.

Gin Suey,

Captured in the Chinatown lottery raid last night, and wanted in the North as a highbinder.

Sandal City.

POLICE SQUADS TAKE QUEUES.

Gen. Sebastian and Army Raid Opium Dens.

Score of Secret Chambers Assaulted With Axes.

Impending Tong War Wiped Off the Horizon.

Chinatown yielded its most treasured lottery and opium secrets last night when Chief of Police Sebastian with seventy men swooped down upon the mysterious district in the greatest raid ever made on the colony. Opium parties and pleasant games of fan tan were broken up and bales of lottery tickets and other incriminating property were confiscated.

The City of Sandals had settled down to a confidential evening with the fog scouting in from the south. All the alleys were under the secret patrol, the signal system was tried out at sundown and found working satisfactorily, and the lottery players and opium slaves came popping forth from their underground retreats like gray rats, ready for the night attractions of Chinatown.

In front the respectable shops were open to the trade. Behind them, shielded by monotonous curtains, lurked the fortressed dens of the colony, steel-barred, Yale-locked and thoroughly protected by pickets.

Among them at 9 o'clock came the five automobile loads of police with Chief Sebastian in the first machine. The five cars scurried to the several parts of the district where the raids were planned for, search warrants having already been prepared.

Up back ways the police hurried while loafing pickets scuttled off down the blind alleys giving warning by the hasty beating of their sandals, and coughing industriously to pass the signal along the street.

Things had been fretting for several weeks in Chinatown with a tong war impending, for it always comes when gambling is open, and the players bidding high for the slave girls. Word had come to Chief Sebastian that the tong war was fomenting, and it was largely to preclude such a tragic feud in the colony that the general raid was planned. It is believed that more than a half dozen of the men arrested were hatchet men imported from San Francisco's Chinatown, here prepared to open hostilities.

One of them is known, Gin Suey, a husky oriental with a police record that runs from township to nation, wanted on smuggling and tong feud charges along the Coast. His presence in Chinatown was unknown until the upper tick of a triple-layered bed was uprooted, and he tumbled forth from the bed clothes.

The first general alarm among the Chinese came when it was flashed that the "Big Bosse, Chief Sebash," was in charge of the raid. Leading his men, the Chief went into the center of the gambling district, a heavily-walled place with the signs of a mission out in front. No sooner was the first squad at work than the harried first squad of the second squad came down the street, and there was a great chopping into strong rooms all over the community.

MAN FOR MAYORALTY YET TO BE NAMED.

Municipal Conference Candidate May Be Willis Booth.

Executive Committee Asks More Time and Nominations Are Scheduled Tomorrow Afternoon—Good Government Organization Purposes Placing Full Ticket in Field Tomorrow Night—Many Out for Council.

YESTERDAY'S developments in the municipal campaign situation:

Executive Committee of the Municipal Conference requests more time to complete nominations, and conference adjourns until tomorrow afternoon.

Good Government Organization Central Committee issues call for tomorrow evening in Symphony Hall to place a complete municipal ticket in the field.

S. C. Graham, father of the "high line," is Good Government favorite for Mayor, with C. M. Gordon second choice.

Six additional aspirants for the Council take out nomination papers.

Socialist-Labor party understood to be having difficulty in finding candidates or obtaining signatures to nominating petitions.

Mayor Alexander declares in favor of City Attorney Shenk for chief executive.

Positive assurance was given yesterday by officers of the Good Government Organization that the G.G.'s will have a ticket in the field before the nominating time limit expires next Saturday night. In fact, the Executive Committee has been in frequent session for several days trying to agree upon candidates, and a call was issued yesterday for a meeting of the Central Committee to be held in Symphony Hall tomorrow evening at 8 o'clock, when a report will be made and a full ticket named, according to the programme.

The Municipal Conference met at No. 517 South Broadway at 4 o'clock yesterday afternoon and Louis W. Myers, chairman of the Executive Committee, reported that it had not been able to complete the ticket and asked for forty-eight hours additional time. "We have made definite progress," he said, "but the time is too short. The committee is acting in perfect harmony."

Upon motion of Meyer Lissner, the chairman, vice-chairman, secretary and treasurer of the conference were made ex-officio members of the Executive Committee. This adds Stoddard Jess, Russ Avery, Dell A. Schweitzer and F. W. Braun to the committee, which will meet again at 10 o'clock this morning.

Lissner and Stimson, it is understood, are acting in harmony with the committee, and the reading of these members out of the Earl party by that party's owner created no more than a ripple on the surface. A report that Lissner wanted to be Mayor is denied.

S. C. Graham of "high line" fame is the choice of Earl's clique for Mayor, and an effort was made yesterday to boom his candidacy. It wouldn't boom. Graham says that he won't run, and for a second choice the name of Harbor Commissioner Gordon came out of the hooper. Other names suggested are City Attorney Shenk, who may not take it because he is likely to be indorsed for re-election by the municipal conference to the office he now holds, R. A. Wade and T. E. Gibbon. Gibbon, though, is not very seriously considered, because he is a member of the Municipal Conference and is one of the eligibles discussed by the Executive Committee of that organization.

MUNICIPAL CONFERENCE.

"We have agreed to make no statement of any kind until we are ready to present a complete report to the conference. We have nothing to say about candidates, but you may rest assured that when the ticket is presented it will be one of which the whole city will be proud, and one which will be elected triumphantly," is the report that came from the committee room.

THEY DON'T WANT IT.

As a matter of fact the committee is having considerable difficulty in inducing the men it wants to make the race to enter the contest. William Mulholland is understood to be unwilling to consider the proffer. F. W. Braun has been approached, according to the dicky bird wireless, and so have Stoddard Jess, Russ Avery, Bradner W. Lee, who won't listen to it, former Judge Albert M. Stephens, who could have had the job in place of Alexander at the time of the Harper recall if he would have taken it, and several others, but the name most frequently heard yesterday was that of Willis Booth. It was in every combination, and the Free and Independent Society of Guessers invariably came back to the question "How about Booth?"

At his home last evening Booth was reluctant to discuss his possible nomination. He said that he has been for Mulholland, and expressed regret when told that the great engineer would not take the office. Booth looks upon the Council as the really important branch of the municipal government. The only statement he would authorize for publication is: "I am not considering the matter."

It is believed Booth will hear from the committee today.

COUNCILMEN.

The names of Capt. Osborne and T. E. Gibbon were less frequently mentioned in connection with the head of the ticket and more often suggested for the Council. It seems likely that they will be among the nominees for the Council unless Gibbon decides to wait for the chairmanship of the Harbor Commission, to which office he is supposed to aspire. F. J. Whiffen is likely to be indorsed for the Council by the committee and Myers for Auditor. It is known that the committee has made much more progress in its Councilmanic slate than it has with the Mayor problem, but the members are confident that they will have the right man before the meeting tomorrow afternoon.

In spite of his vehement protestations of a few days ago that he would not be a candidate for Mayor, Council, Chief Kicker or any other office within the gift of the people, Haines W. Reed was unable to stand the strain, and late yesterday afternoon Otto Zahn tapped the City Clerk's office for nomination blanks to be used in securing signatures for the Reed expansion.

On top of all this Mayor Alexander broke a silence which lasted over Sunday and came out for "Johnny Shenk, the only man who can beat Job Harriman." The Mayor added that every newspaper which fails to get back of Shenk is "recreant to its trust."

WILLING ONES.

The injection of Reed into the ruddy glow which beats upon the throne will cause some head-scratching in both Socialistic and Good Government ranks. Reed was mentioned a week ago as a Socialistic possibility; Zahn is a Good Government man. Reed's platform is "constructive legislation," which he is also on record as declaring cannot be had under our present system of government. Now the Socialists have nominated Harriman and the Good Government won't nominate until tomorrow. An effort will be made to get them to indorse Reed, but it isn't likely to succeed.

The boom of Betkouski has taken to the cyclone cellar, but the Councilman is watching every move upon the complicated board and is ready to sit in the game at any moment which seems to be propitious.

T. O. Golish, J. W. Wooldridge, John T. Curtin, former police sergeant; George H. Barnes, Joseph F. Huston and Charles A. Adair, the latter from San Pedro, constitute the PROTEST WORKS AS PIE GIVER.

Is Senator Works a Democrat? About 50,000 Federal office-seekers in California are putting this question up to President Wilson and to all the members of his Cabinet as fast as the United States mails will carry their complaints to Washington.

Ham Cotton, chairman of the Democratic Central Committee of this county and other chairmen of Central Committees of other counties are flooding the State with letters to political leaders in an effort to get to William G. McAdoo, the unlucky Secretary of the Treasury who has been delegated by the President to help him hold down, head off and otherwise discourage, mollify and reconcile the vast array of candidates for jobs.

These letters to McAdoo are to protest against the Democracy of Senator John D. Works. They openly charge that the one-time Progressive Senator of California voted for Wilson because he was at outs with the Roosevelt theft of this State and was in no position to support Taft. They assert that he is presuming on this accident and the position he took following it to advise President Wilson on the dispensation of patronage in the State of California.

The letters advised Democrats that if they want the patronage to go to Democrats and not to Republicans of some brand or other they must write to McAdoo at once and protest against Works as the chief pie distributor.

Fred K. Colby,

Wealthy steamship man of Los Angeles who figures in an unusual divorce case, details of which came to light yesterday.

Fate's Prank.

BERTH RIGHTS OVERLAPPING.

DIVORCED COUPLE BUMP NOSES IN RENO SLEEPER.

He Who Was Once Husband Flees on Recovering from Surprise and Erstwhile Wife Holds the Fort and Laughs—Los Angeles Property Involved in Case.

The fates added a parting touch of comedy to the disunion of Mr. and Mrs. Fred K. Colby, who after several separations and reconciliations, property settlements and various matrimonial break-ups and make-ups, found final separation by the Reno route. After the wife had been granted a divorce last Saturday in the Nevada city and they had taken train for Los Angeles they discovered that by an unhappy chance they had been assigned adjoining berths in a Pullman.

Mrs. Colby was the first to enter the coach. When Colby appeared and discovered that his wife had been assigned to the upper and he to the lower berth of the same section he fled with his valises to another coach. Mrs. Colby, able to see the humor in the situation, told about it yesterday after her arrival in this city.

"I went direct to the ticket office from the courtroom," Mrs. Colby said. "All the lower berths were gone and I had to take an upper. After I had been in the car just long enough to take off my hat, along came Mr. Colby. He glanced at me and then at the number of the section. Poor man! He grew deathly pale, picked up his valises, and hurried out. I did not catch sight of him until I reached the station in Los Angeles and had begun to think that perhaps he left the train at the next station after he had discovered the horrible mistake. Strange freak of fate, with a touch of both humor and irony in it."

Colby is a retired steamship owner. He and his wife came to this city seven years ago from Chicago, where he was part owner of a line of lake steamers. Mrs. Colby owns the Lyons apartments at No. 928 South Hope street, and other realty which she purchased after a property settlement with her husband three years ago, when she received $30,000. This settlement was made immediately after they had returned from Europe.

Colby went to Europe alone. Mrs. Colby said he was in a huff when he separated from her. While Colby was in a melancholy mood in Rome he sent a cablegram to his wife asking her to join him in Paris. She went. They toured France together but the old differences arose and they returned to America determined to separate.

It is asserted by Mrs. Colby that at the time of the property settlement and their separation her husband agreed not to sue for divorce on condition that she refrain from bringing such an action. When Mrs. Colby learned in January, 1912, that he had gone to Reno, she suspected he was preparing to break his alleged agreement, and to forestall action of that kind on his part she brought suit for divorce in the local court. Colby returned and his attorneys arranged with her's to have the suit dismissed.

But Colby went back to Reno, established a residence and brought suit, charging cruelty. Mrs. Colby and Attorney Redd went to Reno last week to contest the case. There was a cross bill filed by Attorney Redd, a few other legal twists and turns and the Reno mill turned out a decree for Mrs. Colby on the grounds of desertion. She claims a community interest in $50,000 worth of Los Angeles property that is in Colby's name.

DEATH BLOW TO WINE INDUSTRY.

Supervisors Refuse Licenses to Vineyardists.

"Confiscation of Property," Is Butler's Protest.

Los Angeles County Is Made Practically All Dry.

Ignoring protests of several commercial organizations and many individuals, the Board of Supervisors, by denying winery applications for renewal of licenses yesterday, virtually legislated out of existence the wine-growing interests of the county unless a legal way out is found by appeal to the courts. Supervisor Butler declared several times during the heated debate in the Supervisorial chamber that he opposed what he termed confiscation of property, though he was as strong a temperance man as many of the prohibitionists present.

Besides denying the applications for license renewal the board deadlocked over the proposition to have the District Attorney draw up a new ordinance which will allow the wineries to manufacture and ship by common carrier to points outside the dry districts of the county, as indicated by the vote of the people at the general election November last.

Supervisors Butler and Norton voted in favor of having this amended ordinance prepared, but Supervisors Manning and Hinshaw even opposed this. Dr. E. S. Chapman and his cohorts left the chamber in triumph, declaring that the confiscation of millions of dollars' worth of property weighed nothing in comparison with saving the young men of the county.

Owners of wineries in the county can, under the opinion of Chief Deputy District Attorney Hanna, bring their product into Los Angeles by truck and sell here, but the difficulty of obtaining a local liquor license at once intervenes.

ONE BIG DESERT.

In addition to making Los Angeles county vineyards one vast area of desert, the Supervisors denied the application of a number of well-known firms and corporations for renewal of hotel licenses. The Santa Catalina Island Company, which manages the Hotel Metropole, was denied a retail license and a hotel license as well. Other Avalon restaurant and hotel men fared equally badly. As the applications were denied there was subdued applause from Dr. Chapman and his following.

Stanley S. Anderson was the only one to obtain a renewal of his hotel license at Beverly Hills, the precinct going "wet."

Clerk McPherron read letters from D. P. N. Little, the Merchants' and Manufacturers' Association, which was represented by Secretary Zeehandelaar; from the Sierra Madre Vintage Company, A. L. Stetson, a wholesale grocer; the Associated Jobbers, F. W. Braun, Manager Loomis of the Angelus, R. N. Bulla and many others.

Rev. Baker P. Lee, rector of Christ Church, made a stirring appeal to the Supervisors to remember that viticulture is one of the leading industries of the State. He said he appeared as a citizen and not as a clergyman. He declared it would not be fair or right to take away the property of men who were engaged in wine making. He said he did not advocate saloons, but believed in fair play.

"UN-AMERICAN," SAYS LEE.

"I believe you should consider it as un-American and against good judgment," said Rev. Mr. Lee. "In a recent campaign in a near-by town I heard more intemperate language than I ever expect to hear again. This is a subject to consider with calmness."

Attorney W. S. Wright of Pasadena spoke logically as to the duties and rights of the board. He said they were not bound by the advisory vote of the people and could change or amend the ordinances as they saw fit.

George N. Carey, who said he represented a civic organization of Pasadena, took the ground that the Supervisors should not blast one of the leading industries of the county, but should deal fairly and justly with those who have millions of dollars invested in vineyards and wineries.

Dr. Chapman pitched into the previous speakers with a strong prohibition lecture, all the time keeping his eyes fixed on Supervisor Norton,

OUR MILLIONAIRE POSTOFFICE VOW.

For the first time in its history the Los Angeles postoffice will touch the $2,000,000 annual receipt mark this morning, if the careful estimate made yesterday by Postmaster Harrison for the year ending April 1 proves correct. In so doing Los Angeles becomes one of the first fifteen cities in the country.

When Postmaster Harrison took charge of the local office, in 1910, the total receipts for that year were $1,303,664.74. For the year ending March 31, 1912, the figures were $1,700,505.76. The monthly receipts with a close approximation of the figures for the month that closed last night, make the coveted $2,000,000 mark practically certain of attainment.

KEEPS HER MOUTH SHUT.

Woman Refuses to Permit Dentists to See Her Teeth and Court Says She Must Pay Bill.

Though Mrs. Ann Melville was naturally desirous of escaping further payment for two sets of false teeth, she refused to open her mouth in Justice Reeve's court yesterday to show expert dentists the fit of her lower plate.

Dr. Frank Williams, who brought suit to recover a balance of $150 was given judgment by the court for that amount. The justice remarked he did not pretend to be a good judge of false teeth as he had no occasion to use them himself, but that the contract between the dentist and patient seemed plain in its terms.

Testimony showed Mrs. Melville went to the dentist to have a lot of work done, including false teeth for upper and lower jaws. The dentist said he drew up a contract calling for $250 and that the patient paid $100 on account. She refused to pay the rest on the ground the lower plate did not fit.

Mrs. Melville wrote two sharp letters to the dentist giving the professional gentleman her opinion of him. In spite of the letters, the dentist said he was willing to adjust the plate to the woman's satisfaction, but that she refused to come to his office.

The attorney for Mrs. Melville indicated he would appeal.

WHERE THE MOVIES COST.

Cowboys for Motion Picture Concern Fined Twenty Dollars Each for Rolling a Pony Over the Brink.

A film depicting the narrow escape of a cowboy who springs from his saddle on the edge of a precipice as his faithful horse goes to his death on the jagged rocks 200 feet below will cost the motion picture company at least $40 more than was bargained for, owing to a ruling by Police Judge Fredericksen yesterday. Three employees of the company who rolled a little brown mare over a cliff in Edendale while the camera man made pictures of the animal were arrested by officers of the Society for the Prevention of Cruelty to Animals and brought to Police Court, where they were fined $20 each.

W. R. Pitsenbarger and William Fullerton, the humane officers, found that Jim Kid, Milton Brown and George Champion, cowboys employed by the moving picture concern, had tied a pony on the edge of Dunnigan Hill at a point where there is a 60 per cent. grade and had then rolled the animal over the edge, the horse being so badly injured that it may have to be shot. Women in the neighborhood complained to the officers and the arrest followed.

REVENUE COLLECTIONS.

Figures for March Show Substantial Gain Over Same Month Last Year Delinquents.

With the close of business at the office of Collector of Internal Revenue Parker last night the period expired within which corporations in the Sixth district might make their returns unpenalized under the excise tax law.

It was not known last night how many corporations are delinquent, and it will be several days before the exact figures are obtainable, although it is believed quite a number will have to be certified to the United States District Attorney for action. There can be no further extension of time under the law.

STATE WOULD MOVE WHITTIER INMATES.

CONDITIONS at the Whittier State School have caused a clash between the State officers at Sacramento and the Board of Trustees of the institution.

Following the grand jury's expose of the unfitness of the place and "the abnormal condition of neglect" it found there, the Legislative Committee appointed to look into the matter dispatched a member of the State Engineer's staff to the school to report on the safety of the buildings.

The State Engineer's office reported the buildings a menace to the inmates and recommended their condemnation.

Sitting over the situation the Legislative Committee, of which Senator Chandler of Fresno is chairman, decided that 150 of the inmates of the main building should be withdrawn at once and transferred to Ione, Amador county.

Just about this time Chairman Benjamin F. Pearson of the board of trustees of the Whittier school finished a long conference with the Governor, and then went into debate with the Legislative Committee, declaring a civilian architect should be sent here to look into the matter; that the word of the State Engineer's office should not be accepted.

Pearson's suggestion was not received with open arms he says, but it was finally decided that an outside architect would be sent to Whittier.

Yet, should this architect, who is yet to be named, disagree with the State Engineer's report, the question will remain unsettled and a committee will probably be appointed to decide the issue by visiting the institution.

It is stated that there is not room for 150 more boys at Ione.

Reports at Whittier are to the effect that the school grounds are to be turned into a citrus fruit experiment station for the University of California, and the State school rebuilt on another site.

Chairman Pearson of the board of trustees of the school said last night: "If the building is unsafe I certainly wish to see the boys temporarily transferred. But if not I do not see the necessity of useless expense and all that goes with it."

When informed of the report that the Whittier grounds, 180 acres, is considered as an experiment station for the university, Pearson expressed great surprise.

HARBOR BOARD TELLS POLICY.

Highest Efficiency in Least Possible Time.

Cannot Carry Out Goodrich Plans at Present.

Nothing Is Being Reserved for Industries.

The Harbor Commission issued a statement to the Harbor Committee of the City Council yesterday, definitely outlining its policy in regard to industrial development at the water front.

This statement was called forth by the attitude of the former body last week in objecting to the granting of a permit for a fish cannery back of the old Wilmington wharf until such time as districts shall be set aside for industries at the harbor.

The Harbor Committee presented a series of questions to the Harbor Commission as to its policy on industrial development, and the reply says:

The Board of Harbor Commissioners, August 7, 1912, adopted a resolution approving a map presented by E. P. Goodrich, showing a series of slips and piers along the northerly side of the east basin, "as the plan toward which the ultimate development of the east basin of the inner harbor should tend."

This is the declared policy of the Board of Harbor Commissioners, and every act of the board affecting this area has been in conformity therewith.

END NOT IN SIGHT.

No one knows how long the tideland litigation may continue, and the Goodrich plan in its entirety cannot be carried out until these suits are settled.

Mr. Goodrich suggested that the first permanent development undertaken by the city be from the Wilmington channel east, and the permanent development of the Mormon Island peninsular, even though the city gain control of it, be left for future years. For that reason Mr. Goodrich recommended the construction of a creosoted pile wharf on the city's present undisputed holdings on the Mormon Island channel, which is now being done.

You ask if "a definite scheme of improvement has been adopted for the Wilmington district," and verbally the chairman of your committee suggested that a definite district should be set aside for industrial purposes. Inasmuch as the city now owns only thirty-seven acres of land on the water front, a moment's thought will convince you that such a thing cannot be done without the consent of the tideland claimants who now have possession of the tidelands exclusive of the thirty-seven acres referred to—and these claimants thus far have refused to consider any plan for the development of the tidelands while they are under litigation. This board has been trying for months to find a location which it can lease to the San Pedro Foundry and Machine Company, but has been unable to do so.

BOARD'S ANXIETY.

When, however, it can locate an industry on city land in a place and for a length of time that will not conflict with the ultimate development plans, this board is anxious to do so. This is the case in the application of Garrett L. Hogan now before you, and the terms which this board has prescribed for said permit will yield the city a return of 6 per cent. a year on a valuation of approximately $43,000 an acre for the land covered by the permit, besides creating commerce which will pass over the present municipal wharf, which has been lying idle for three years, thus yielding a return for dockage and wharfage, and it will still be kept open for the use of the general public for commercial purposes.

You refer to plan No. 1221 as a new plan made in the City Engineer's office and different from the Goodrich plans. Plan No. 1221 shows the city harbor lines as established by the City Council in ordinance No. 27,116 (N. S.,) adopted March 11, 1913. These harbor lines were recommended by this board at the suggestion of Special Counsel Hewitt for legal reasons. They follow the exact lines of the Goodrich plans as far as they go and do not in the least conflict therewith. They pertain, however, to tidelands under litigation and not to land already owned by the city, and the only thing necessary to make them conform to the full Goodrich plan in years to come is to lengthen the slips.

HARBOR CATECHISM.

Replying categorically to your questions we would say:

(a.) Has the Goodrich plan been abandoned in favor of plan 1221?

Answer: It has not. Plan 1221 is a step toward the development of the Goodrich plan.

(b.) Is it now the intention to hold to plan 1221 and develop this area in accordance therewith?

Answer: It is the intention to hold both to plan 1221 and to the Goodrich plan as the plan of ultimate development.

(c.) Was this plan 1221 not made as a compromise plan to include slips where possible as near in accordance with the Goodrich plan, maintaining, however, the integrity of the government harbor lines as established, and has it not been and is it not yet the intention to ask the government to amend these harbor lines in the event the Supreme Court confirms the city in the title to these tidelands, and only in case of reversal of judgments and loss of title to fall back on plan 1221?

Answer: Plan 1221 was not a compromise plan. Its lines follow the Goodrich lines as far as they go, "maintaining, however, the integrity of the government harbor lines as established," inasmuch as the city has no power to change government harbor lines.

(d.) Considering the dedication of these lands for which permit is asked, can the city lawfully grant permits for manufacturing purposes for lands dedicated to public use for commerce and shipping, etc.?

Answer: It is our understanding that the location for which this permit is asked is not covered by any dedication prohibiting the use for which the permit is asked. Neither is the location on land under litigation.

NO SUCH LANDS.

(e.) Has the Harbor Commission reserved a portion of the harbor for industrial purposes exclusively, or is it proposed to permit industrial and commercial development along the harbor front indiscriminately?

Answer: It has not set apart any lands for industrial purposes exclusively because it has no such lands to set aside.

The Harbor Commission is not reserving any portion of the harbor for industrial purposes for the reason that we have at present very little to reserve. We believe in developing the harbor as far as possible and at once. We cannot discriminate until we have something to discriminate on. We believe this city wishes to see the harbor developed to the highest state of efficiency in the shortest possible time, and we are exerting all our endeavors along that line.

IN THE LEAD—AS USUAL.

Most Successful Bookstores in Country on This Coast, and Los Angeles Has Best of All.

Here we go again—the Pacific Coast in general, and Los Angeles in particular, in the lead as usual. A recent issue of the Publishers' Weekly asks these pertinent questions:

"Where are, on the whole, the most successful book stores in the United States?" "Which is the best managed store?" and goes on to observe:

"These two questions were asked recently at a booksellers' gathering in New York. The answers given were interesting, partly because of their practical unanimity. To the Pacific Coast was awarded the general verdict, and while in no sense underrating other excellently-run and splendidly-successful stores, both on the Coast, and in other parts of the country, the name C. C. Parker cropped up oftenest in the commendatory comments. Are the congratulations of the trade due Los Angeles in this respect? Certainly, Philadelphia, Boston, Indianapolis, Portland, Me.; Springfield, Mass., and a score of other cities, have A-1 book stores."

They have—but Los Angeles leads—as usual.

HARVARD ALUMNI ASSOCIATED FOR ALMA MATER.

All Western Chapters to Work for University and Suggest Policies to Aid Pacific Needs—Applied Sciences Gradually Replacing the Time-Honored Classics.

A Pacific Coast Harvard Association, which will include the alumni associations of not only the cities on this western slope, but also those of Japan, the Philippines and Hawaii, was announced at the twelfth annual dinner and meeting of the Harvard Club of Los Angeles at the University Club last night.

Wilbur Bassett of this city arrived from San Francisco just a few days ago from the meeting of delegates from all parts of the Coast which was held there last week at which he was elected secretary, and he brought with him full plans of the proposed amalgamation, announcing also that the date of the first convention will be 1914, and it will be held here.

To the Harvard alumni this concentration of organizations means much for the reason that the university is largely ruled by the opinion of its alumni and many of the proposed innovations and changes are brought about by them. With the Pacific Coast represented in its entirety, anything that may be desired for introduction into the curriculum, with a view of educating young men for specific purposes of life in the West, can be advocated and will be adopted.

Edward H. Wells, member of the Harvard staff, who came here from Cambridge, was the principal speaker and discussed this topic at length. He touched upon the fact that Harvard has finally broken away from the old system of classical education and today has millions available to increase the work of the School of Applied Sciences, allowing for the building up of this branch of college education which has been set aside at Harvard in the past as secondary.

Wells spoke of the work of the School of Tropic Medecine, a branch of the Applied Science, and the wonderful training given the young medical students who desire to take up the practice of medicine in the tropics, or have a working knowlege of these diseases in this country.

"They are solving the problems of bubonic plague, yellow fever and other virulent and infectious diseases of the tropics," he declared and cited the incident of the Harvard graduate physician who recently, in China, after all other foreign doctors had run away, stayed to diagnose the cause of seventy-five deaths of bubonic plague.

Mark Sibley Soverence was toastmaster after the well-ordered menu, which was served amid decorations of crimson and white, the colors of the alma mater. In the business session Roy Jones, was elected president of the club succeeding John Murray Marshall, and Wilbur Bassett, secretary, succeeding Marshall Stimson. Then the toastmaster introduced a pleasant surprise when he announced the presence of William R. French, director of the Art Institute of Chicago, the oldest Harvard graduate present.

French spoke pleasantly and reminiscently of days at Cambridge during the war-time and of the graduation of his class in 1864. "Old institutions are not favorable to military patriotism," he said in speaking of the time when the university frowned on the idea of leaving school to enlist. He expressed himself rather against the idea of the elective system.

"I have found that the product of the classical college is better than that of the scientific school for the principal reason that discipline is one of the best parts of education, and the student who does his own choosing picks the easiest course and forgets that great factor in education."

There were about 100 alumni present at the banquet.

who sat closest to the Anti-Saloon League leader.

Dr. Chapman spoke of the evils of liquor, of blasted homes and ruined boys and girls. He classed the wineries with vices and criminal pursuits.

F. Q. Story spoke for the vineyardists. Dr. Chapman again delivered a hot blast, in which he said: "Show me the Supervisor who won't carry out the will of the people and he will be numbered among the unburied dead. I told the board all about the effect of the submission of the wet or dry vote of the people. They passed the ordinance with their eyes open."

SEEKS PLAIN JUSTICE.

"I don't care if I am recalled or not," said Supervisor Butler. "It won't cost the voters much money if I am not wanted because I want simple justice done. I believe in temperance and would like to see liquor put out of the way but cannot consent to seeing business men lose property. There should be restrictions and I favor an ordinance which will prevent local liquor houses from selling in dry districts as is now the case. We should have a law that applies equally."

However, when he saw he could not move the other members of the board, Pridham being absent, Butler voted with the rest to deny the applications for winery licenses.

WINE MEN'S RECOURSE.

Chief Deputy District Attorney Hanna gave the following legal opinion as to the possible remedy of the wine men:

The action of the Board of Supervisors this afternoon resulted in the following situation: Wineries, under the definition of our county ordinance, are places where wine is manufactured and sold. The manufacture of wine alone does not constitute a winery such as the law takes cognizance of. People who have heretofore conducted wineries may hereafter continue to manufacture wine and may dispose of that wine in any way that may appear feasible, except that they cannot sell or deliver the wine to any person in the county of Los Angeles outside the limits of incorporated cities, neither can they deliver the wine to common carriers in Los Angeles county for shipment. If they take the wine inside incorporated cities, the county is not further concerned and they are then subject to the laws of the incorporated cities.

As far as the delivery of intoxicating liquors is concerned, our present law prohibits the sale of intoxicating liquors in dry territory. A sale of personal property takes place where the property changes possession or is set apart and identified. For this reason if a person comes to a liquor store in Los Angeles and orders certain intoxicating liquors, having them set apart and identified for him, the liquor store may then, at his request, deliver those liquors to his residence in dry territory in Los Angeles county.

On the other hand, if a person from a dry territory telephones to a liquor store in Los Angeles, or sends a note by mail, ordering certain intoxicating liquors, there is no identification or delivery of the liquors until they are finally delivered to his residence, and, in that event, the sale takes place in the county and the dealer would be liable.

FINAL CAMPAIGN SHOTS.

Arguments on Power Distribution and Methods Thereof Presented to Evening City Club.

Unmasking their guns, representatives of the private power companies and those in favor of city-controlled light and power distributing systems, in debate before the Evening City Club at Christopher's last night hurled volley on volley at each other and opposing contentions until the very dining-hall was electrified with retorts-direct.

Pros and cons as to whether the city should issue bonds for continuance of the power projects and municipally own, control and distribute light and power were argued by E. F. Scattergood, aqueduct power expert, and Attorney H. J. Goudge, special counsel for several private power and light concerns.

As no vote was taken at the close of the debate nor expression of opinion received in any other way and the proposed "discussion" of the issue minimized itself to three unimportant questions, the impression made on the women voters was not evinced.

Error in presentation of figures by both sides was repeatedly alleged. President E. E. Leighton's humorous reference to the reason he sat between Scattergood and Goudge was apropos.

Goudge says the city is overbonded now and appeals with comparative statistics for the public to save the utility corporations from going to certain death by the city's distributing plan. Scattergood was vehement in his argument in favor of the bond issue and all it means.

WOMAN SLAYS HERSELF.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

VISALIA, March 31.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] Despondent over the death of her only sister, Mrs. Mattie Stevens, with whom she had made her home several years, Miss Belle Roberts, a native of McDonough county, Illinois, committed suicide this morning by shooting herself through the head with a .38-caliber revolver. She was 63 years old.

Miss Roberts was engaged this morning with a friend, Miss Marshall, packing personal effects preparatory to a visit with relatives in Los Angeles. In the course of her work she found a revolver, which Stevens had given his wife years ago. After carefully inspecting the weapon, she fired out of the window. Miss Marshall left the room and immediately a shot rang out. Miss Roberts's death was instantaneous. As far as known here, Miss Roberts had no near relatives in California. Her sister, Mrs. Stevens, was the wife of Richard Hubbard Stevens, influential pioneer merchant of Visalia.

GREAT AMOUNTS GIVEN SECRETLY.

Says Only Loss of Life Is Exaggerated.

Unheralded have been the great sums of money which have been sent to the flood districts by the secret orders of Los Angeles and of all California. Practically none of the contributions, which are understood to aggregate several hundred thousand dollars, have appeared in the published lists. Nevertheless the work has been timely and vast in importance.

Just as an example of what the lodges of the city are doing in a quiet way, the Royal Arch Masons made up a fund of $7000 at a meeting last night at Masonic Temple. The money will be sent to the Grand Lodge in San Francisco, and from there forwarded to the flooded zone.

It is reported from reliable sources that the Royal Arch Masons of California have already contributed more than $100,000, of which amount the Los Angeles members raised about one-fifth. The Knights of Columbus are known to have expressed several checks of ready cash to Ohio to be used for the aid of lodge brothers and their families. Other lodges have made remarkably large donations. The officials of the orders are modest in discussing this benevolent work and an effort has been made to keep it secret.

The need for more money for the unfortunates of the flooded districts is urgent, as indicated by the following telegram received by The Times yesterday from John Kirby, Jr., of Dayton.

REAL SITUATION.

"I am informed of press reports exaggerating actual situation. You will realize extent of flood from the fact that there was eleven feet of water in first story of my home and ten feet at Third and Main streets, the center of business section of city. Fire totally destroyed entire business blocks both sides Third street, between Jefferson and St. Clair, except Fourth National Bank building, corner Third and Jefferson; also one entire business block and one residence block on Third street, West Dayton; ten or twelve dwellings on South Main street and numerous other dwellings in various parts of city, all during highest flood stage. No reliable estimate of property loss can yet be given, but it will run well up into millions. Suffering indescribable. Sick and homeless are being cared for in best manner possible. Loss of life not so great as first expected. Will probably not exceed 500. City under martial law. Federal government officials have in charge of sanitation. State and Federal troops guarding city. Water works in operation. Electric light, artificial and natural gas still out of commission. The people of Dayton can never repay John H. Patterson, president National Cash Register Company, for the Herculean service he has rendered and is rendering in this terrible emergency and which surpasses human imagination."

The Rotary Club wired $500 to Dayton Saturday for the relief of the sufferers. The children of the Jewish Orphans' Home at Huntington Park contributed $12.27 in small sums for the relief of the flood sufferers yesterday. The money will be telegraphed to Secretary Wilson of the Columbus Relief Fund, today.

CHAMBER'S FUND.

The pledges of the relief fund reported to the Chamber of Commerce amounted to $13,853.54 up to last evening. These new subscriptions were reported yesterday:

Cash, $2; Olivet Presbyterian Church, $11.90; Stevens A. M. E. Church, $40; G. S. Ade, $5; John P. Nurnell, $5; George A. Rawson, $10; M. Studer, $1; J. M. V., $10; First Presbyterian Church, $62; F. W. Weeks, $20; Mr. Jones, $1; employees of Department of Buildings, $27; a friend, $10; cash, $1; Women's Civic Aid of Hyde Park, $5; Pilgrim Congregational Church, $27.80; employees Thorpe Engraving Company, $5.25; Oscar C. Mueller, $50; Mr. Mosher, $1; cash, $3; C. H. Kincaid, $5; W. J. Hole, $100; Harrington Brown, $25; Anchor Laundry, $25; M. R. W., $10; C. M. S., $10; Kuno Baum, $2; Plymouth Congregational Church, $28.60; University Christian Church, $10.85; cash, $1; F. Q. Story, $50; Clark F. Parry, $25; cash, $5; Church of the Brethren, $26; Rev. Robert Renison, $5; Mrs. Mary D. Little, $5; Associated Manufacturers of Los Angeles, $1000; J. H. Crawford, $5; United Presbyterian Church, $6; a friend, $6.

MORE OHIO MONEY.

PASADENA, April 1.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] The benefit entertainment given at the Hotel Maryland by the management last night as a benefit for the Ohio flood sufferers netted about $500. The money had not all been counted at a late hour last night, but a hat that was passed around in the dining-room, where the concert was held, was filled and refilled until $350 had been gathered, and the sale of flowers and punch by a committee of young society women and the one-third of the dinner receipts, which was the hotel's contribution, made practically another $150.

The programme was varied and interesting. Those who took part were: Miss S. Beatrice Wheeler, member of the Imperial Grand Opera Company of Madrid; Miss Zona Gale, Mrs. Clara Bryant Heywood, Stephani Andreyev Schutze and Miss Carrie Jacobs Bond.

Tonight a bridge party benefit will be held there at $5 a chair.

Eighty-seven dollars was realized at another benefit at the Maryland last Sunday night when Dr. Henry Van Dyke spoke.

Raising Fur-Bearing Animals.

[New York Times:] The rearing of fur-bearing animals has become a great American industry. The report of the Biological Survey shows that extensive preserves are now under the control of breeders of skunks, muskrats, mink and foxes. The breeding of black foxes and mink has not proceeded very far, but successful methods are being determined in co-operation with the National Zoological Park. The muskrat marshes of Eastern Maryland are worth more, "measured by their actual income," than cultivated farms of like acreage in the same vicinity." No other animal than the European rabbit equals the muskrat in the number of skins marketed.

FLOOD VICTIMS STILL IN NEED.

A telegram received by The Times last night from Dayton says that the suffering and distress there is beyond description and that more money is needed to care for the helpless. The same is true at other points in Ohio and other States. The Times will continue to receive pledges to the relief fund. Cash or checks should be sent in at the earliest possible moment. The list of pledges to date to the fund started by The Times follows:

OUT IN FORCE.

The cold-water disciples were out in force last evening in the rooms of the Federation Club, and placed in nomination a complete municipal Prohibition ticket upon which appear the names of several well-known national party leaders. Thomas D. Kanouse presided.

L. M. Davenport is the party's choice for Mayor and the nominees for the Council are Frederick Freeman Wheeler, Thomas D. Kanouse, James H. Blanchard, Mrs. M. W. Laws, Charles E. Jones, Wiley J. Phillips, Col. John Zobieski, Dr. W. D. Lowder and Miss Clara Bella Weaver.

Emery D. Martindale is the candidate for City Attorney, A. H. Seccombe for Auditor and Horace J. Winslow for Assessor. For the Board of Education the nominees are Mrs. Lydia Gertrude Zobieski, Prof. G. H. Spangler, Dr. William C. Bailey, Mrs. Lucy H. Blanchard, Mrs. Hester T. Griffith, Dr. C. Elwood Nash and Reynold E. Blight.

The nominating petitions will be circulated immediately and Frederick Freeman Wheeler said last night that his party hopes to elect several of its candidates. Fred C. Wheeler is a Socialist candidate for the Council, thus renewing a confusion in names which has occurred before. Frederick Freeman Wheeler is president of the Board of Public Utilities.

EXPECTING A RUSH.

City Clerk Wilde is preparing for the inundation of nominating petitions and has a large staff of extra help on immediate command. He expects that the petitions will begin arriving today. Each must contain at least 500 and not more than 1000 bona fide names of honest-to-goodness voters, and each must be carefully checked over. The Clerk has five days to do this work after the closing day. This requires the completion of the checking by the 10th inst. Any petition certified to as insufficient may be amended within five days thereafter.

At the close of business last night there were fifty-three candidates for Council nomination. This list may reach seventy-five by Saturday. There are to date six candidates for Mayor, twenty-one candidates for the Board of Education and three candidates each for City Attorney, Auditor and Assessor.

The Socialist Labor party is said to be having more trouble than the old woman who lived in a shoe in finding qualified candidates to fill out its ticket, or signatures to the nominating petitions.

New Scheme of Burglars.

[Liverpool Post:] A young couple, who had recently set up housekeeping, found in the letter box a couple of tickets for seats at a place of entertainment in the city. No note of any kind accompanied the tickets to explain from whom they came, but the recipients accepted them gratefully and unquestioningly.

When they returned home toward midnight they found that in their absence their house had been neatly and efficiently burgled. They have not yet discovered to whom they owe the theater tickets, nor have they discovered to whom they are indebted for the burglary. But the feeling grows upon them that the same hand was responsible for both these anonymous favors.

Fate of Pacific Electric's in the Balance.

Reversed Dissolution Plans Inspire Rumors.

With the return from New York yesterday of President Shoup of the Pacific Electric, the simultaneous arrival of W. P. Bliss, a Southern Pacific director, for an inspection of the Pacific Electric, and First Vice-President Bancroft of the Salt Lake, ostensibly for a consultation with local officials, and the anticipated arrival tomorrow of C. A. Peabody, a director in both the Southern Pacific and Union Pacific, rumors are flying thick and fast anent the disposition of the Pacific Electric and the Salt Lake in the revised Union Pacific-Southern Pacific dissolution plans.

According to local rumors, the Pacific Electric and the Salt Lake will be apportioned to the Union Pacific under the new plans. Shoup, when questioned last night, refused to discuss the rumor, while both Bliss and Bancroft were non-committal, Bliss stating that it would be mighty unadvisable to make a statement at present. Today, Bliss and Shoup will inspect the Pacific Electric in Shoup's private car.

Regarding his eastern trip, Shoup stated that financial affairs occupied the principal part of his time while away. Asked if he brought back any ideas for the amelioration of local traffic conditions he said that because elevated roads and subways in the eastern cities, the problems are rather different than here, but he has some ideas that he may work out.

NOTHING DEFINITE.

Yesterday afternoon, Shoup and the Mayor had a consultation, but the only statement forthcoming as a result of this conference was from the Mayor to the effect that the proposed agreement between the city and the Southern Pacific and Pacific Electric for a right of way for the harbor boulevard between Fourth and Fourteenth streets, San Pedro, had been under discussion and that he believed a satisfactory agreement would be reached, thus saving the city much money through the abandonment of condemnation proceedings.

It is understood, Shoup will hold another conference later with the Mayor, at which plans will be discussed for new elevated tracks in the rear of the Main-street depot, together with new trackage on the ground level in the rear of the depot.

Shoup did announce yesterday, however, that part of the special work for the San Pedro-street line will arrive within thirty days, which will give the company a chance to start the work. In connection with this work it is practically certain that a new station will be erected on Los Angeles street, while an elevated way from this station to San Pedro street is also contemplated. Shoup also announced the probable arrival of fifty-three interurban cars within a few days. By midsummer, the company expects to receive thirty-six stepless, center-entrance cars of the type now used in New York, for the Watts and Hollywood local lines.

FINANCES REST EASY.

Bliss, who, with his wife and daughter, are at the Alexandria, expects to remain about three days here, then go on San Francisco and the Northwest. Questioned as to the probability of a financial flurry as a result of the death of J. P. Morgan, Bliss dismissed the question with the remark that this event had been anticipated and the market safeguarded.

Peabody, who is to arrive tomorrow, is a big man in the financial world, and has long been actively connected with the Harriman interests. In addition to being a director of the Southern Pacific and Union Pacific, he is also a director of the Illinois Central and Yazoo and Mississippi Valley, two other Harriman-owned roads, and of the Bank of Commerce of New York, as well as president of the Mutual Life Insurance Company.

Colorado's Highest Peak.

[San Francisco News Letter:] What is the highest mountain in Colorado? "Pike's Peak," nineteen persons out of twenty will answer, and incorrectly. The twentieth may know that the two highest mountains in the State are Mt. Massive and Mt. Elbert, both in Lake county, in the Leadville district. The altitude of each of these mountains, according to the United States Geological Survey, is 14,402 feet above sea level. The height of Pike's Peak is 14,108 feet. Moreover, there are fifty or sixty other peaks in Colorado approximately as high—over 14,000 feet. The lowest point in Colorado is 3350 feet above sea level. Of all the States, Colorado has the highest average altitude, estimated by the Geological Survey at 6800 feet. Although not the highest mountain, Pike's Peak is probably the best-known peak in the United States. There was at one time a weather bureau station on its summit, and it now has a substantial railway station at the terminus of the highest railway line in North America. It can also be reached by an excellent wagon road and trail which connects the summit with Colorado Springs.

BY SYDNEY FORD.

The presence in Los Angeles of W. M. R. French, director of the Art Institute of Chicago, has been the impetus for a round of entertainments in art and club circles. Last night he was the dinner guest of the Harvard Club and Saturday evening Mr. and Mrs. William Wendt gave a reception at their pleasant studio home on North Sichel street, to which some sixty-five guests were bidden. Mr. French was the speaker at the Friday Morning Club last week when he held spellbound an audience that taxed the seating capacity of the auditorium with a lecture illustrated by drawings in colored crayon by means of which he brought out the principles which underly painting. Afterward he gave the drawings to Mrs. Randall Hutchinson, chairman of the Art Committee of the Friday Morning Club, who, with characteristic generosity, placed them on permanent exhibit at the clubhouse. At the luncheon which followed Mr. French's lecture he and Mrs. French occupied seats at the president's table and two local artists—Miss Caroline Wood and Mr. Winterburne of the Polytechnic art department—were the speakers. Miss Wood, who came to Los Angeles early in the winter from New York where she had been assistant to Arthur Wesley Dow of Columbia University, talks and writes well. Her five-minute address concerned "Art in Los Angeles." Mr. Winterburne, who is at the head of the Polytechnic art department, spoke of the pleasure of the morning lecture by Prof. French, and of the co-operation of the club in art circles.

Other guests at luncheon included Mrs. French's brother, Judge Lynn Helm and his wife, Mr. and Mrs. Wendt, Mrs. F. S. Daggett and her mother, Mrs. Axtell, Miss Leta Horlocker, Mrs. Dickenson Green of Princeton, N. J.; Mrs. Karon and Mr. Daggett, who has recently come from Chicago to accept his appointment as director of the Museum of History, Science and Art at Exposition Park. Mrs. McCan called upon Mr. Daggett for a few remarks at the after-luncheon symposium and later he took the guests for an automobile ride which included Exposition Park, where the flag was hoisted over the Museum in honor of the distinguished visitors.

On Friday evening Prof. French gave his famous lecture, "The Pied Piper of Hamelin," for the children of the West Adams Presbyterian Church, drawing and speaking the lines of the poem as he went along in the most fascinating fashion. Prof. French is a Harvard man—class of 1864—and is called the man who made the Chicago Art Institute, to the upbuilding of which he has given his life and which with its 3000 students is now recognized as a great American art center. He is a brother of the famous sculptor, Daniel Chester French, whose "Minute Man" group at Concord and colossal statue of the Republic in the Columbian Exposition are widely known.

A Fine Philanthropy.

Chicago is to have a million-dollar woman's hotel—not, however on the order of that Hill-street million-dollar woman's clubhouse planned for Los Angeles. This Chicago hostelry is to be modeled and managed along the lines of the Mills hotels of New York and will be capable of housing hundreds of self-supporting girls and women. The Chicago chapter of the Daughters of the American Revolution is conducting a strenuous campaign to raise funds for the building and site which will be within or near the loop district. Already $150,000 has been pledged. According to statistics there are about 80,000 women and girls in Chicago in business life and only 1400 of these can find cheap and adequate accommodations.

This Week at Friday Morning Club.

Mrs. May Wright Sewall, for years a prominent figure on the lecture platform and in women's work, will address the Friday Morning Club this week on "Internationalism—Its Progress and Its Agents." She is a member of the International Council of Women and chairman of the Committee of Peace and Arbitration.

On Saturday evening Nell Lockwood McCune, assisted by Mrs. Helen Lotspeich Gale, pianiste, will repeat her delightful recital of Indian songs in costume as the April guest programme of the club.

Badgers to Nominate Officers.

At the monthly meeting of the California Badger Club next Wednesday nominations for officers for the ensuing year will take place, and it is desired that all members be present. The meeting will be held as usual at the Ebell Clubhouse, at 2:30 o'clock.

The programme of the afternoon will consist of Norwegian folk songs, in costume, by Miss Vesta Cornell, and recitations by little Miss Loraine Elder, who entertained the club at one of its meetings last year, and will be well remembered by those who had the pleasure of hearing her then. Hostesses for the day are: Mrs. E. E. Nott, chairman; Mrs. Comings, Mrs. Eastman, Miss Harvey, Mrs. Fletcher and Mrs. Durant.

CITY ATTORNEYS MEET.

Municipal Franchise Bill Before Legislature Causes a Meeting of Municipal Legal Heads.

To discuss the municipal franchise bill presented by Senator William Carr of Pasadena to the Legislature was the primary cause of a meeting Saturday, held in the offices of James S. Bennett, City Attorney of Pasadena, of all the City Attorneys of the San Gabriel Valley Inter-City Commission.

It was reported directly from Senator Carr that the bill, which had been referred to the Committee on Municipal Corporations, had been altered considerably amended, but that as no final form had been agreed upon. In these circumstances the committee appointed by the Inter-City Commission to suggest amendments decided to postpone action until they received copies of the revised bill.

At this meeting the advantages of organization of the City Attorneys for their mutual benefit was so strongly felt that it was decided to form an association under the organization of the Inter-City Commission, and such an organization was formed with James S. Bennett of Pasadena as chairman and Charles R. Hollopeter of Whittier, secretary. These attorneys will hold occasional meetings, and a general exchange ideas upon the legal questions of municipal action.

It was stated by the officers of the commission that it is the hope of the body to form subsidiary organizations of the corresponding officials in different cities, so that ultimately not only the attorneys, but the city assessors and health officers may co-operate for their mutual benefit. Through such association it is thought much good will come to the cities embraced in the commission.

PIT ANKLE DEEP IN RATTLESNAKES

Deputy Kills Burglar for Resisting Arrest.

Charge Ojeda Federals With Deliberate Murder.

[Special Correspondence of The Times.]

PRESCOTT (Ariz.) March 30.—About twenty miles south of Flagstaff, in the Oak Creek section, near Sedona, is a natural wonder locally termed the "Devil's Kitchen," and only made accessible during the past month. It is a depression from sixty to 100 feet deep, with precipitous sides, where, seventeen years ago, the surface ground fell with a mighty roar and with a cloud of dust into an immense cavern. Old timers tell how the surface at that point was in no wise different from the rest of the landscape. About a year ago Clayton Dykes was lowered into the pit by a single companion with most exciting results, for he found the bottom swarming with rattlesnakes and had to fight his way around on his tour of exploration of the open space, which in area is about 125x200 feet. When he sickened of his loathsome surroundings his return to the surface was found a most serious matter, finally accomplished only by the strength and pluck of Charles Stemmer, the comrade who had lowered him. Now, a long ladder has been put in place and only the snakes remain as an element of danger. Exposed are beautiful stalactites and the walls appear as though frescoed by a master hand. Without doubt tremendous caverns stretch away from the pit, but their entrances are choked by the fall of earth from the surface.

SCALE HIGH PEAKS.

Ellis M. Perrin, younger son of Dr. E. B. Perrin of Williams, and Milton Farnsworth have achieved the fame of being the first to scale the San Francisco Peaks in winter, returning with good photographs. Shortly after midnight Thursday morning they left a ranch on the western slope of the peaks and, by sunrise had reached the summit, making the climb on snowshoes without other disagreeable incident than fatigue, for the snow in the early hours of the day was firm and no avalanche of any size was started. The depth of the snow could be only guessed at. In Flagstaff it lay two feet deep. The cold at the summit was intense, made the more cutting by a high wind. The peaks are the highest in Arizona, rising about 13,000 feet above sea level, but are readily accessible in summertime by a good trail.

MURDERED AT CAMPFIRE.

Three miles from Ash Fork has been found the body of a man assumed to have been James Campbell, at one time resident in Phoenix. It is evident that he was murdered as he was sitting by a campfire, smoking after having eaten. The skull was crushed by a blow of a club, from behind. The man had made camp under a cedar tree, far off any beaten track, and around him were found such provisions as could have been carried in a pack upon his back. What he was doing there and what could have been the reason for his assassination are puzzles that the authorities are trying to solve, but with scant degree of progress. The man was about 65 years old, six feet in height and heavily built.

A mysterious and fatal malady is attacking horses and mules on the range in this vicinity, believed a phase of pneumonia, due to the late severe weather. Horses affected die within a few hours.

RIFLE MATCH AT TUCSON.

[Special Correspondence of The Times.]

TUCSON (Ariz.) March 29.—At the Winsor range the Phoenix Rifle Club won the adjutant-general's cup in a sensational match against a picked team of the National Guard by a score of 757 to 756. Co. K, First Infantry of Tucson won the officers' team cup. Capt. Seeley of Tucson won the Governor's cup match at 1700 yards, making forty-three of a possible fifty. The same officer won the all comers' match at 1000 yards by the same score. The prize in the State Secretary's match went to Sergt. Mellen, who tied with Lieut. Sigala, crack State champion shot, whose long-range shooting was a bit below that of his opponent. On the range was held the annual meeting of the State Rifle Association. Dr. Lorenzo Boido of Phoenix was elected President, G. J. Roskruge of Tucson secretary-treasurer and Col. L. W. Coggins of Phoenix executive officer. It was determined that challenges be sent to a number of clubs in California to shoot telegraphic matches.

TOLTEC IS PROSPERING.

Toltec is a new settlement in the Santa Cruz Valley, eight miles east of Casa Grande, with residents mainly from Southern California. The land is of the richest and an ample water supply has been provided by wells on which have been placed powerful pumps, with gasoline engines for power. One company is plowing by traction engine and a large acreage is being planted to milo maize and other summer crops. Four hundred acres will be set in olives.

At Patagonia Monday, Francisco Tapia was shot and killed by Deputy County Ranger G. L. Stevens and Deputy Sheriff J. L. Tremaine, while resisting arrest for the burglary of several ranchhouses and stores. The officers have been adjudged as acting in accordance with their duty.

BIG SUIT AT TOMBSTONE.

At Tombstone, apparently at the instance of both contestants, the famous Cunningham-Costello law suit has been reopened. Neither side is satisfied with a judgment for $140,- given the plaintiff in February. The suit was for $540,000. The Cunningham interests are represented by Thomas S. Ives of Tucson and Roy Hunt of Bisbee. The defendant, Mr. Martin Costello of Los Angeles, has as attorneys, Ben Goodrich and Frank Scott of Los Angeles and E. E. Ellinwood, J. S. Williams, J. M. Ross and Edward Flannigan of Bisbee.

MEXICANS SHOT DOWN.

CHARGE MURDER AT NACO.

[Special Correspondence of The Times.]

BISBEE (Ariz.) March 30.—American witnesses unite in charging as cold-blooded murder the late shooting at Naco of Maximino Bautista and his son, Henrique. They were walking along the International street, parallel to and about twenty feet south of the line, when accosted by Capt. Miranda of the Ojeda forces, who rode down upon them with leveled rifle. The Bautistas, apparently appreciating their position, promptly put their hands above their heads and in that position were deliberately shot down. The younger died instantly. The elder dropped and then painfully dragged himself to the body of his son. Miranda dismounted and, standing over his victims, celebrated his triumph by drinking ostentatiously from a bottle of mescal. The assassination was witnessed by many Americans, among them Capt. White of the Ninth Cavalry, who assisted in bringing the elder Bautista over the line, where he died within a few minutes. He was a member of the Masonic fraternity, which officiated the next day at the double funeral in Naco, Ariz. The cause of the killing is said to date back four years, to a time when Bautista was a Mexican Federal judge in Cananea, in that capacity sentencing Miranda to life imprisonment for shooting two policemen. But in the political turmoil of the past few years in Mexico few such sentences have been effective.

At Douglas a Coroner's jury has exonerated Albert Rust of blame for the killing of Andrew Arnaut in a saloon Wednesday night. It was found that the action was taken in self-defense.

Malcolm Morrison, a Copper Queen employee, died yesterday in the company hospital from injuries received last Saturday at Lowell in being run down by a frightened delivery wagon team. He and a companion, walking on the road and unable to get out of the way, were knocked down and were taken unconscious to the hospital. The second man, Fred Corrin, will recover.

Ben Williams of Los Angeles is an honored guest this week of friends in Bisbee and Douglas. For years, from as far back as 1880, he and his brother, Lewis Williams, were at the head of the mining and smelting activities of the Copper Queen Company, starting when the mine comprised an open cut in the hillside above the present library building and when the ore "in sight" would not have fed the present smelter a single day.

PROHIBITIONISTS MOURNING.

Avalon White Ribboners Will Do Deference to Dead When the Barrooms Close Their Doors.

AVALON, March 31. — Crepe and "black ties" will be worn here April Fool's Day among the prohibitionists. But despite this, many affiliated with this party have decided to wear their "broadest smile" for the entire day, April 1. After 12 o'clock tonight it is claimed that the doors of the three Avalon saloons will be artistically draped with the "darkest of black." "We like to show our profound respect to anything departed," said a prominent prohibitionist, "hence, the crepe. Dry!—Just as dry as Mojave."

All day beer, wines and other alcoholic beverages have been sold wholesale to residents who appeared at the swinging doors with bottles, demijhons and lard pails. Barrels of beer have been stored in cellars, bedrooms, and even in the cold blige of several fishing launches. Old ice-boxes were sold at a premium early this morning.

With the closing of saloons tonight, Avalon's only poolhall will suspend business, pending action upon a petition now under consideration by the Board of Supervisors, to grant special privilege for a poolhall license for the Catalina precinct.

It was announced today that Avalon's only drug store would post the following notice over its doors immediately upon opening its doors Tuesday: "Positively no wines, or alcoholic liquors will be sold without a physician's prescription. Don't blame us. If you don't like the laws — change them!"

WRITER COLLAPSES.

B. E. Pierce of Los Angeles, short story writer and advertising manager of the Wilson's Guide Company, collapsed today while crossing the channel upon the steamer Cabrillo. Hemorrhage of the lungs was given as the cause of his illness. He was removed to the home of Rev. J. H. Wilson, as soon as the steamer arrived.

SUPERLATIVE TALKERS.

South Pasadena High School Orators Yield Palms to the Glib Ones of Hollywood.

SOUTH PASADENA, March 31.—The South Pasadena High School was defeated in its debate with the Hollywood High. Miss Lois Baker and Miss Margaret Faries represented the local school, and they defended the affirmative side of the question, "Resolved, That a Tariff for Revenue Only Will Reduce the High Cost of Living for the Wage-earner."

Although both gave excellent papers, the representatives of Hollywood were adjudged the winners.

A unique feature of the debate was the fact that last year Hollywood won the championship of the league by the defeat of South Pasadena, but this time they were contending for the lowest place instead of the championship.

NEWS BRIEFS.

Wool and silk culture and manufacture will be the subject of the next exhibit which Mrs. Nellie Keith, the librarian, will arrange for the benefit of the children at the South Pasadena library. Many photographs showing the processes of manufacture and also samples of the material at different stages will be shown and all the children of the city are invited to examine them. The exhibit is in the children's room in the library.

Officers for the year were elected Saturday at the regular monthly all-day meeting of the Ladies' Aid Society of the Presbyterian Church. Mrs. Knox was elected president; Mrs. Williams, vice-president; Mrs. C. H. Terhune, secretary; and Mrs. E. B. Kuykendall was re-elected treasurer. The annual report showed the finances of the society to be in a flourishing condition. It was decided to give the annual dinner on Wednesday of this week in the church parlors, which will be served from 5:30 to 8:30 o'clock. Mrs. G. W. Lawyer is chairman on arrangements and will be assisted by Mrs. Stacey and Mrs. C. M. Hoard.

Time for the bidding on the Manual Training and Domestic Science, the two new buildings to be erected for the South Pasadena High School has been extended two weeks, and the bids will be opened at noon, April 10. Several bids are already in the possession of the board, and the time was extended to allow other contractors time to make their bids. The men on the board are anxious to begin the work on the buildings, but at the same time they are doing all in their power to see that the city gets the best for the money.

A meeting was held in Herlihy Hall this evening on Mission street over the Model Grocery Store in the interests of annexation to Los Angeles. J. B. Lippincott, assistant chief engineer of the Los Angeles aqueduct, was the principal speaker. He gave stereopticon views of the aqueduct and answered all questions concerning annexation. The meeting was held under the auspices of the Citizens' League that is working for the annexation of South Pasadena to Los Angeles and they have elected officers as follows: Louis Luckel, president; Fred W. Treen, secretary; I. L. Spencer, treasurer; precinct officers, H. B. Lanfair, George W. Penfield, Phil F. Dodson, S. F. Van Patten, Mary E. Hayes, W. W. Huntington and W. C. McNeil. Campaign officers are William Jochum, W. C. McNeil and H. S. Perkins.

Miss Margaret Wotton, daughter of Rev. and Mrs. W. H. Wotton, and Miss Florence Lowe, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Thaddeus Lowe, returned today to La Jolla to continue their course at Bishop's School for Girls.

BILLIONS OF ASSETS.

Investigations of the Municipalities of the United States Show More Assets Than Liabilities.

A preliminary statement of a special report on financial statistics of cities of over 30,000 inhabitants in the United States in 1910 was issued today by Director Durand of the Bureau of the Census, Department of Commerce and Labor. The statistics were prepared under the direction of Le Grand Powers, chief statistician for Finance and Municipal Statistics.

The report presents with considerable detail the most important facts relating to municipal indebtedness, assets, and public properties of 184 cities. The facts thus presented show that the gross receipts from the issue and sale of city debt obligations during the year 1910 amounted to $558,982,298 and the gross payments during that period for the redemption and purchase of city debt obligations amounted to $401,183,243; the excess of receipts, $157,799,055, being the resultant of the debt transactions of 136 cities which increased, and those of forty-eight cities which decreased their indebtedness. Of the eighteen cities of over 300,000 inhabitants, seventeen increased, and one, or 5.5 per cent., decreased their debt during the year. The percentage for the cities from 100,000 to 300,000, 50,000 to 100,000, and 30,000 to 50,000 that decreased their indebtedness were 22.0, 20.4 and 37.3 per cent., respectively.

The gross debt of the 184 cities at the close of the fiscal year 1910 was $2,438,906,747; of which $2,302,577,335 represents the debt of the city corporations; $57,122,242 that of the independent school districts, and $78,909,169 that of other divisions of the government of the city.

The assets and public properties of the 184 cities had a reported value of $3,919,232,043.

WAS ADAM A WOMAN.

Speculations of Scientists as Result of Finding the Piltdown Skull Older Than any History Reaches Back

[Baltimore American:] Adam has been shorn of his honors. But, after all, the Hebrew of Adam is simply the word man, and therefore, the name is not so much a mark of identity as the statement of fact with regard to the creation of the original of the race. Just where the human race began its career science has not been able to ascertain. But that it has discovered the first man in the line of evolution from the past, it now declares.

The cave dwellers are made modern in comparison. The glacial age is shown to have been but an episode in the continuity of human inhabitancy of the globe, and the upward rise of the human from the animal is declared to have started in a distance so dim that only the finding of the Piltdown skull has served to throw light upon it. The skull, which was found in a tertiary deposit, makes him the Methuselah of fossil humans. If the skull belongs to the bones found in association with it, then one scientist declares that the possessor of the frame must have been, from the modern anatomical point of view, a monstrosity, and certainly the owner of the brain pan must have been little above that of the chimpanzee.

In fact, it is asserted that the individual must have had reason without speech. As it is probably the skull of a woman, the fact may be regarded as a refutation of those who declare that woman has speech without reason. But, entirely aside from the facetiousness bred of the easy guesses of the scientists from very fragile data, it may be taken as a fact until discovered otherwise that here is an extraordinarily ancient skull of either a human being or some form of animal not readily recognizable. As to the missing link theory and the belief that this skull is the missing link between man and monkey, the conviction is a harmless one, and, considered one way or another, it adds nothing to the present sum of human blessedness.

TRUST BUSTING IS EXPENSIVE.

Over a Million and a Half Dollars Thus Far Expended by the Government, and Others by the Trusts.

[Leslie's:] Trust busting is an expensive business for taxpayers. The Bureau of Corporations at Washington has thus far expended $1,600,000 for its investigations of so-called trusts, most of them without result so far as the public good is concerned. The stockholders of the corporations had to foot bills aggregating millions of dollars for expenses to defend actions that were thrown out of court. It is a curious fact that most people imagine that the Sherman anti-trust law applied only to a few great corporations. The wholesale grocery men of the South, the cotton growers and the dairymen's union, and the Butter Dealers' Association had no idea that theye were violating the law until they were haled into court. Recently fifteen wholesale produce dealers in Portland, Or., were fined $8450 because they had organized a Produce Merchants' Association to regulate and control the sale of perishable products. Such an association would be regarded by most persons as desirable, but that makes no difference. The law is inexorable. Let the people rule!

Santa Monica.

ANNUAL ROAD RACE ASSURED.

SANTA MONICA MAYOR ASSURES AUTOMOBILE ASSOCIATION.

Letter from the Southern Body Is Transmitted With Favorable Recommendations to the Council of the Beach Town—Capt. Carter Will Take Charge of Guard.

SANTA MONICA, March 31. — In response to a written question from the Automobile Association of Southern California, whether Santa Monica would again entertain the annual road races, Mayor Dow today assured the auto-racing magnates that, as far as he was concerned, the coming of the speeders would be welcome this year as before.

The Mayor sent a letter with a favorable recommendation to the City Council tonight, and this body took steps for the holding of the races. It is expected that the races will be held in the middle of the summer, and the streets forming the course will be put in better condition than ever. Santa Monica boulevard paving will be completed and may be made one leg of the course.

NEWS BRIEFS.

Capt. W. H. Carter will assume command of Co. E, Seventh Regiment, N.G.C., tomorrow night at the regular meeting of the company. He was unanimously elected three weeks ago, but formalities prevented him from assuming active command until now. For twelve years Capt. Carter served in the regular army, and he is otherwise eminently qualified to lead the reorganized company. Many new recruits are being received into the ranks, and the future of the company seems bright.

The Board of Education held its first meeting in the new High School this evening, the furniture of the board having been moved to the new building Saturday and today. Commodious quarters have been retained by the board in the north wing of the new High School.

Reading of the finding of an egg measuring 6½ inches in a Pomona man's chicken yard, Charles H. Carter, salesman in a local feed store, brought an egg measuring 7½ inches around to the office of a local newspaper. Hearing of the big egg find, Robert F. Dockery reminded Carter of the egg he brought to the same office some months ago which measured 8½ inches around the longest way.

OUR FIGHTING FORCE.

Twenty Million Men in the United States are of Militia Age. According to a Census Bulletin.

[New York Times:] Figures recently compiled by Director Durand of the Bureau of the Census give the number of males comprising the natural militia of this country by divisions and States, on the basis of the returns of the thirteenth decennial census.

In the total population of the United States, (exclusive of non-contiguous territories or possessions,) there were in 1910, 20,473,684 males of militia age, that is, from 18 to 44 years inclusive. In 1900 the males of militia age numbered 16,182,702. While the total population of the country increased by 21 per cent. in that decade, men of militia age in the same period increased 26.5 per cent., and as a consequence constituted a somewhat greater portion of the total population. Of the total population of both sexes and all ages in 1910, 22.3 per cent. were males of militia age, as compared with 21.3 per cent. in 1900. The increase is accounted for partly by the fact that immigration in recent years, to a greater degree than in earlier years, was predominantly male.

Among the States the percentage for Wyoming is the highest, males of militia age there constituting in 1910 37.4 per cent., of the population. Other States with high percentages were Nevada, 35.9; Montana, 32.8; Washington, 29.8; Arizona, 28.9; Oregon, 28.3, and California, 28, all of these States being Pacific Coast or Rocky Mountain States. The percentage for North Carolina, 17.8 per cent., was the lowest.

Of the 20,473,684 males of militia age in 1910, there were 2,156,361 in New York State alone. Of the increase for the decade, amounting to 4,290,982, nearly one-fourth, 1,074,424, was in the Middle Atlantic Division, comprising the States of New York, New Jersey and Pennsylvania. The male population of militia age in New York increased 516,966; in Pennsylvania, 382,703; in California, 286,645; in Illinois, 239,084; in Texas, 205,759.

British Railway Wages.

[Railway Age Gazette:] The British Board of Trade has made an inquiry into earnings and hours of labor of the working people of the United Kingdom, a report of which was published this year. For railway employees, it took reports of the actual payments made during the last week of October, 1907, and it should be said at once that wages have been advanced since that time. In nearly all cases the wages earned and paid were greater than the regular rate of wages, because of extra payments for overtime and Sunday work. The highest weekly wages paid were $11.17 to enginemen, whose regular weekly pay was $9.83. Firemen got $6.67, signalmen, $6.60, passenger guards $7.12, freight guards, $7.58, foremen $8.70, and mechanics received an average of $2.82 per week. There were 35,536 of these and 365,901 adult employees.

Growing Inverted Trees.

[Chicago Tribune:] A foreign railway company has solved the plan of getting good shade trees in a short time, though they may be small.

These trees are so arranged that after two years' time they will give as much shade as trees in the ordinary way of setting out would give that are fifteen or twenty years old. The company gets a small elm tree, preferably digging this, roots and all, from the ground. The tree then is set, the top part being set into the ground, and the roots are left in the air. The tree then grows, forms roots on what originally was the top of the tree, and the original roots that now take the place of the branches begin to leaf out and form a complete foliage very quickly.

A WEAK BROTHER.

EXPLAINED.

A morals court has been instituted in Chicago. When it is understood that a morals court is for the immoral we can understand why it is located where it is.

THE GLORY OF THE WORLD.

The flowering peach, the yellow poppies, the white cherokee hedges and lilacs are all here this week. If you want anything more you will have to go to heaven for it.

UNPLEASANT TO CONTEMPLATE.

The Bulgarians captured 60,000 Turkish troopers and thirteen generals at Adrianople. We would not like to be captured in such numbers. The enemy might decide that it was cheaper to kill us than it would be to feed us.

DOWN TO BUSINESS.

A secession congress will be held at the capital of Sonora April 15 to formally declare the Northern Federation of States. If they elect a provisional President and keep him on the job they will have the nearest thing to government that has been experienced in Mexico for some time.

THEIR FINISH.

The Socialists of Tacoma have organized a branch in their party to fight the regular organization at all points on which they disagree. As no two Socialists ever fully agree, the strength of unity is not likely to make them muscle-bound. There is a good opening for an insurgent branch of this kind of the Socialist party of Southern California.

AN AWFUL ROW.

Believe us, brethren, our Democratic friends in California are come disturbed over the politics of Senator Works. You see, he would not stand for the Roosevelt steal of this State in the Presidential campaign, so he voted for Wilson. Now he is suspected by the Democrats of offering the President too much gratuitous advice about the Federal office-holders, and job-seekers would give much to squelch him.

ZAPATA GETS THEM.

The elder Orozco and five other Mexican gentlemen who desire to quit being soldiers in order that they may eat more regularly and sometimes sleep in peace went to the town of Cuautla as envoys to Zapata and that prominent, picturesque and most effective brigand promptly placed them under guard. If they knew no better than to try to carry peace to a robber they quite deserve their fate, and Zapata is most wise to put them in jail, as they cannot possibly misreport what he said when they do not return.

NEAR TO NATURE.

On Santa Cruz Island a young Dane is trying to demonstrate that clothes and cooking are superfluous. A man might do that on a lonely isle, but who wants to live alone? He is following the line of least resistance, which is neither logical nor militant. He and his goats and fish have a sort of ideal and harmless socialism as far as it goes, but it does not meet the needs of modern existence. The business of life is to develop faculty and not to destroy or suppress it. Humanity can always respond to its environment, and the wisdom of life is to know how the individual shall act upon his world and how far he will permit his surroundings to act upon him. The line of least resistance does not solve this with any satisfaction to anybody. Job Harriman wrote a book on this subject. We trust he will make his ineffective campaign along this line. We have no doubt it would work wonderfully well on an island with a few goats, but Los Angeles people must be excused if they refuse to be the goats.

FIGHTING AIRSHIPS.

"Britannia rules the seas" and many islands and continents that are washed by the seas. To this she proposes by act of Parliament to add so much of the air as hovers above the British islands. Parliament has passed an act prohibiting airships from flying over certain areas and giving authority to attack airships infringing the act. This law is said to be the product of the rapid growth of German and French aerial fleets.

It will be necessary for the nations of Europe to provide by treaty against the use of aeroplanes for offensive warfare. Otherwise war will mean simply mutual extermination. How comparatively easy it would be, notwithstanding the act of Parliament, for a dozen French or German aeroplanes loaded with dynamite bombs to cross the channel on a dark night, hover over London and at a signal discharge their loads, blow the world's capital out of existence, and return to their homes unharmed.

That London aeronauts might also thus terminate the existence of Paris or Berlin would be reason for an international agreement not to use aeroplanes in war time except for purposes of observation.

It is on occasion of some surprise that Bulgaria or Greece did not, during the present war, organize an aeroplane force and dynamite Constantinople into the sea.

Everybody is counting the days when the California Assembly concludes that the oxygen treatment as a means of prolonging life is not to be encouraged.

MULHOLLAND FOR MAYOR.

The man for Mayor is William Mulholland.

He is the man to defeat the coalition of Socialists, unionists, dynamiters and grafters who are trying to get a strangle-hold on the city.

He is the man to rescue the municipality from the plight it is in as a result of the follies and blunders of the present administration.

It is a critical juncture for Los Angeles. Her tremendous public enterprises are held up, her progress is impeded and her credit is impaired because of the failure of those she had placed in charge of her affairs to adequately grasp them and properly conduct them. Unless a firm and skilled hand takes hold, the city will suffer grievously. Our harbor must be built; our power plant must be financed; our aqueduct system must be completed; the surplus water must be sold. The man to put in charge of these great operations is Bill Mulholland.

Weeks ago The Times said it would support Mulholland for Mayor if he were properly nominated. The Times hopes he will be the nominee of the Municipal Conference and that other civic organizations will stand solidly behind him. If he were placed on the ballot, that would be the end of it. His election would as certainly follow as the night the day; the onward march of Los Angeles would be assured and her financial standing would be restored; there would be no question as to the completion of the great works she has begun or the sale of her municipal bonds.

The situation cries aloud for Mulholland and The Times urges him to consent to be a candidate—that is, to be Mayor. The Times knows he does not want the office; but the office certainly wants him. Heed the rescue call of your city, Mr. Mulholland!

The Times hopes Mr. Mulholland is not declining to serve because his nomination has been maladroitly urged in certain quarters, to his great chagrin. He can well afford to forget that. It is not a faction nor a clique which now demands that he take the head of the column; it is the voice of the great army of his fellow-citizens.

The Times believes that if the Municipal Conference shall nominate Mr. Mulholland he cannot fail to take the post to which his civic duty would seem to call him. He should not be asked to make too great a sacrifice, but mere details could be arranged. The desire of the Municipal Conference and of the people at large to have Mr. Mulholland serve is unmistakable. It is a call that cannot very well be disregarded by you, Mr. Mulholland—and one of the greatest tributes ever laid at the feet of one of our fellow-citizens!

With admiration, kindness and love, Mr. Mulholland, not with any ulterior purpose and certainly not with a big stick in hand, The Times gives utterance to the summons of your beloved city to become its Mayor!

LAW OR ANARCHY.

The public mind in some localities—such as Milwaukee, Butte and Berkeley—has been at times and still is to a certain extent in a state of turmoil with regard to matters political as well as industrial, owing to the pernicious disturbing activities of men who promote agitation and live upon it, even as birds follow the feet of a horse in summer for the insects his tread disturbs. Agitators such as Gompers, Tveitmoe, Darrow and Harriman are joined by jack-legged politicians who aid them to create dissatisfaction and disorder in the minds of a class of uninformed and misinformed citizens, who follow in the trail of the labor agitators and "help to fan into a conflagration the embers of socialism and anarchy which for centuries, and in all countries, have been in evidence and ready at all times and on every occasion to make manifest the doctrine of hate and destruction which threatens the stability of our institutions and the constitutional guarantees of security to personal and property rights."

It is the duty of all citizens, whether rich or poor, and independent of mere pecuniary considerations of business, and regardless of partisan politics, to throw their whole efforts against the malign influences, from within and without, which attack the solidarity of our institutions, laws and industrial liberties.

Socialist agitators seek to overthrow a government of law and substitute therefor a government lacking in stability and changeable with every popular whim that noisy agitators may fan into a gust of popular clamor.

"It cannot be denied," said John Kirby, Jr., in an address before the national convention of manufacturers, "that while there are some men in public life who are conscious of their duty and honestly strive to perform it, there are many who apparently care not so much about performing their sworn duty as they do for what seems to them to be for their individual or their party's interest."

Legislation which strikes at the very heart of personal liberty and property rights and which has no sound reason to support it has been favorably reported to Congress by committees because members were too cowardly to oppose it. Said Mr. Kirby.

"Among the measures reported was a proposition to take from the American workman the right to work more than 480 minutes in any calendar day under penalty against his employer of $500 for every man permitted to labor 481 minutes, even for extra pay.

"Another was to prohibit any Federal court from issuing an injunction in labor disputes restraining unlawful acts. Another was to take from the courts the right to enforce its own orders and turn contempt of court cases over to a jury; which would practically destroy the potency of the judiciary to make the injunction writ effective as against lawless unionism.

"And still another was to legalize the affiliation of government railway employees with outside labor organizations and thus subject the business of the country to stoppage at the will of such organizations as the American Federation of Labor.

"Is such proposed legislation intended to promote one's right to follow the calling of his choice without undue interference, or to insure to man the reward for his own energy and skill, as guaranteed by the Federal Constitution, or is it designed to take away those indelibly-written principles which, if removed from the sunlight of our liberties, would record the beginning of the end of freedom under the law?"

It will be for the voters of Los Angeles at the coming municipal election to determine whether they are afflicted with softening of the brain, whether this is a city of imbeciles or whether we will hound red, anarchistic, dynamiting socialism to death at the ballot box and stand fast and stand sure for the maintenance of a government of law.

DODGING INCOME TAX IN ENGLAND.

"The income tax makes the English a nation of perjurers," said an eminent British lawyer to the London correspondent of the American Economist of New York—a lawyer and adviser of the government, who knows as much about the workings of the English income tax system as anyone in the United Kingdom.

The income tax is one of the most unfair methods of raising revenue that can be devised, especially when incomes under a certain sum are exempt. To make it fair all incomes, big and little, should be taxed. The ideal tax is that which exacts from each citizen his fair share of the national expense. Taxation by customs and excise comes as near the ideal in taxation as anything can. The poor man pays little because he uses little, and what he does use is generally home product. The rich man who buys imported luxuries pays his larger share for the support of the government in the tariff tax that has been collected before the goods entered the country.

Under the income tax system as it is worked in England—and it can hardly be better worked elsewhere—all sorts of people dodge their responsibilities, says the correspondent quoted. The men who have to pay their full share—and more than their full share because when some dodge, the rate must be increased against those who do pay, in order to keep the national treasury full—are the men on fixed salaries, whose earnings can be ascertained unfailingly from an examination of their employers' books. It will work just that way in this country. The employer can and does (in England) "dodge" the tax as to his profits by writing sums off for "depreciation" or other assumptions of loss. The mechanic, if his income reaches beyond whatever may be the legal exemption, may have two or three employers during the year, can keep his income tax return down by alleging periods of unemployment, while the salaried man must pay.

In England the greatest income tax loss by dodging is caused by the thousands of men who invest their capital abroad and also reinvest abroad the dividends or interest earned by that capital. This is a double loss to the income-taxed country, for these investments abroad build up the industries of competitive countries.

Another income tax leakage in England comes from the large class of men who have good incomes, but no settled residence. In London today, and in Paris tomorrow and so on. These and many others escape, but the salaried man pays first, last and all the time.

"UNCLE SAM—LAWBREAKER."

"Everybody's" for April, under the caption of "Uncle Sam, Lawbreaker," presents facts with respect to the sale of electric power in Phoenix, Ariz., that makes "mighty interesting reading."

The United States, under a contract with the Pacific Gas and Electric Company, agreed to furnish it with electricity generated at the Roosevelt dam at 1½ cents per kilowatt hour for a period of ten years. The contract included no restrictions as to the amount the company should charge the people of Phoenix, but it did include an agreement on the part of the United States "to refrain from entering into a general retailing of power to customers in the city of Phoenix, Ariz., or from furnishing power to anyone in said city to be again sold or retailed."

"Shades of John Sherman," says Everybody's. "If that clause is not a contract in restraint of trade, what is it?"

What is to be done about it? Uncle Sam cannot bring a civil action against himself for damages. He cannot prosecute a criminal action against himself, and fine himself, and take the amount of his fine out of one department of the Federal treasury and put it in another department. He cannot lock himself up in a Federal dungeon (the more's the pity.)

The Pacific Gas and Electric Company demonstrated its business skill by charging consumers 20 cents per kilowatt hour for the power for which it paid 1½ cents. The consumers squealed and the company reduced the price to 15 cents. Still there was squealing and there was a further reduction to 12 cents. And there the company stopped. It said to the Phoenicians, Do you want the earth? Are you hogs? We have to pay the government $60,000 per annum for the power for which we first collect from you only $480,000. We are content with a meager profit of 700 per cent. on our investment. What investment do you ask? Well, our investment in jawbone.

The virgin State of Arizona is lighting her public offices with 12-cent electricity for which the United States receives 1½ cents, and the Pacific Gas and Electric Company receives 10½ cents. If the State of Arizona does not like it she can buy candles. "If you don't like bacon," said the host at an overland stage station to a hungry traveler, "just help yourself to the mustard."

LOYALTY.

An Irish dame in Chicago admits that she was approached by an attorney who asked if she would not testify favorably to a poor man named Murphy. The lady fell for the name, for it sounded like the ould sod. This reminds us of the way the members of a certain Los Angeles organization stand together. A man was away from home all night and his wife, who lives in a city no farther away than Tropico, sent a telegram to five of his associates in this city asking if he was with any of them. About 8 o'clock the next morning two horses brought the husband and his broken automobile to the door. While he was explaining that his breakdown had kept him on the road between Owensmouth and his home through a night of hardship, she received a return message from each of the five men she had addressed and all of them read, "Don't worry. Your husband spent the night at my home."

The Inevitable.

UNCLE WALT.

The Poet Philosopher.

This is the day when foolish folks think they've a license for their jokes, and multiply our woes; they fill abandoned hate with bricks, the which the wayworn pilgrim kicks, and busts a dozen toes. By exercise of brutal guile they have us journey many a mile on errands wild and crool; they trap and trick us every way, and take the sunshine from our day, and call us "April Fool!" But when all things are said and done, the fool is not the stricken one who's badgered and beguiled; though he has suffered, he has not conspired to make the neighbors hot and drive companions wild. The fool is he who plays the trick; he always makes sane people sick and weary of his game; though years may pass, and he may pant for people's confidence, he can't shake off his foolish fame. I'd rather be the guy who kicks an old plug hat that's filled with bricks than be the skate who grins and thinks it humorous to see a fellow-mortal break his knee and lacerate his shins. I'd rather try to take a chair, and find the blamed thing isn't there, and fall like ton of hay, I'd rather have my backbone bent than be the feeble-minded gent who takes the chair away.

WALT MASON.

[Copyright, 1913, by George Matthew Adams.]

Yes, It Shrunk.

[Harper's:] A man who was greatly troubled with rheumatism bought some red flannel underwear recently, which was guaranteed in every respect, and a couple of weeks later returned to the store where he made his purchase.

"These flannels are not what you claimed them to be," he said to the clerk.

"What is the trouble with them?" asked the clerk. "Have they faded or sharunk?"

"Faded! Shrunk!" cried the purchaser, indignantly. "Why, when I came down to breakfast this morning with one of them on my wife asked me:

Played Herself Out.

[Cleveland Plain Dealer:] "Your wife doesn't play bridge at all, does she?"

"No. She's stopped entirely."

"What was the cure?"

"She lost $7 to her dearest friend."

"Exactly."

ROMANTIC PLATONISM.

BY HARRY BOWLING.

Where can you find a girl so frankly feminine, and therefore so spontaneously attractive, as in Western America? I have visited many parts of the world and still have failed to discover them. There may be better housewives in Germany, more finished flirts in France, more tempestuous beauties in Castile, more extravagant enthusiasts in England, easier sweethearts in Erin; but for the jolly, companionable girl, the take-me-as-you-find-me and leave-me-if-you-don't-like-me brand, give me every time the western daughters of Uncle Sam.

This companionable superiority I attribute to the spirit of romantic platonism, so natural in America and so artificial in every other country. In France such a relation would be too stormy, in Germany too pacific, in England too matter of fact, in Spain too romantic. The happy fusion of these two opposite qualities can only be found in the United States of America. The American girl possesses it in all its joyful exuberance. It has been perfected on the shores of the Pacific Ocean; where the west ends and the east begins again.

A whole lot of ink, paper, tears, blood and grey matter has been wasted over the divorce evil, unhappy homes, eugenics and social purity. Believe me, all quite unnecessary. Romantic platonism is a sovereign cure for the differences, real or imaginary, between the two sexes. Only we must understand what this implies.

Chiefly it means a supply of abundant humor—not necessarily good humor in the weak meaning of the term—but robust, "Mark Twain" humor. Such humor is a compound of storm and sunshine; those who can be platonic and romantic at the same time must have their hearts stored with it. This compound makes affinities and soulful cults and grand passions and psychic yearnings ridiculous; it laughs humbug into hysteria. Placing comradeship first, it leaves love to ripen naturally afterwards, should the scion take kindly to the stock.

Love-making when too intense is a painful pleasure; the modern world loves to find pleasures in its pains, but not to put pains into its pleasures. When too superficial, courtship becomes a serious trifling. In this optimistic age we prefer to trifle with serious things rather than be serious over trifles. But marriage is one serious thing dangerous to trifle with. Romantic platonism strikes the happy medium. It can end in just good comradeship, without causing broken hearts or breach of promise cases. When it leads on to the inner shrine it does so by a safe road. You can start in jest and end in earnest, but you can't start in earnest and end in jest. Not where a man and a woman are concerned.

In spite of the number of divorce suits filed in America, we have here more happy homes than in any other country in the world. When this ceases to be true American humor will be played out. All over the world the number of those who want to be divorced, and can't, far exceeds the number of those who want to be divorced—and can. In America those who want to generally can; in other countries those who want to generally can't.

Divorce statistics, as an evidence of domestic infelicity, are about as valuable as the defense set up by a certain man accused of feloniously removing goods from a certain house. The prosecution called three reliable witnesses to swear they saw the defendant removing the said goods. Whereupon the defense called thirty equally honest citizens to swear that they didn't see any such removal. Married happiness is hard to arrive at through statistics because the happily married possess too much humor to talk about it.

But does this bon camaraderie, this easy friendly, humorous, exaggerated tie make for more marriages? Perhaps not. It is opposed to both hasty marriages and leisurely repentances. True comradeship, however, is the only lasting tie between the sexes—after marriage. Surely then it is better to establish it before marriage. Romantic platonism makes for this lasting spirit in home life in that it ensures comradeship as a foundation, instead of waiting to build it on afterwards as an upper story, or worse still, to dig it out for a cyclone cellar.

Our humorous, sincere, merry-making, home-loving, sensible, spirited, frolicsome Californian lassies possess more of this quality of comradeship than any other girls living in less platonic climates and among less romantic surroundings. A summer camp in our mountains is an excellent matrimonial school. Girls and boys have both to be "good fellows."

STREAKS OF WIT.

Testing His Goods.

[Le Rire:] "You are the proprietor and a pharmacist of the first class?"

"Yes, madam."

"And you know your business well?"

"From the foundation."

"That is well. Give me 2 cents' worth of gum drops."

He Went Home.

[Wisconsin Sphinx:] Time—10:30 p.m.

She: Do you really mean that you would put yourself out for my sake?

He: I certainly would!

She: Then please do it, as I'm awfully tired!

A Reason for It.

[Tit-Bits:] Lady: Why, you naughty boy, I never heard such language since the day I was born.

Small Boy: Yes, mum; I s'pose dere wuz a good deal of cussin' de day you wuz born.

The Turning Point.

[Stanford Chapparal:] Wife (2 a.m.:) And when did you first notice the change in your sick friend's condition?

Not a Home Rooter.

[New York Times:] Mrs. Knicker: Did your husband take you to the ball game?

Mrs. Bocker: Yes, and I wonder why I can't ever make him talk to the cook like he does to the umpire.

Makes a Difference.

[New Orleans Times Democrat:] Mistress: Jane, we are going to have company for dinner, and I want to speak to you about the cooking.

Maid: Yessum; are they your relatives or your husband's?

Demonstrates His Condition.

[Judge:] Calvin: I have my opinion of your rector. The idea of his preaching on humility! Why, he never goes to church excepting in an automobile!

Martin: I know he doesn't; but he uses a 1910 machine.

This is the day when the near-humorists are likely to send fool packages by parcel post.

The box score will be in our midst after today. Nobody now cares what Congress does.

What, Secretary Bryan but 53? It seems he has been a candidate for the Presidency longer than that.

Editor Earl contemplates a tour in the role of Casabianca, "the boy who stood on the burning deck."

Something to worry about—it is claimed that the firing of guns on the battleships kills the life in an egg.

The statement of Dr. Wiley that pork and beans is the ideal dish is a clear bid for the Bostonese vote.

Buffalo gets the next session of the American Bowling Congress. It should have been fixed for Milwaukee.

Col. Roosevelt has again declared himself in favor of woman suffrage. Is he preparing to run for something?

That bright spot you see away up in the sky is the Los Angeles building record for 1913. It is likely to go out of sight.

Scutari is next on the list of the Balkan allies. If they capture the stronghold of the Turks, hope they will change the name.

But we do not understand that Dr. Friedmann claims that he can cure tuberculosis of the nerve of the Democratic office-seekers.

President Wilson has selected Windsor, Vt., as his summer residence. It will reserve to remind him of the royal family at Windsor Castle.

With the inauguration of Democratic simplicity at Washington the piece de resistance at all social events is the walk-round, "London Bridge Is Falling Down."

It is claimed that President Wilson is the only scholar in American politics. Gadzooks, what is the matter with the colonel who set the table at the Sorbonne in a roar?

And the old-fashioned woman who still dotes on the plain, full, roomy flannel nightgown is still in evidence. And it will be a long time before her favorite goes out of fashion.

A contemporary prints a story about the origin of vegetables, but we note that no one seems to be able to tell where spinach came from. Perhaps, like Topsy, it "just growed."

The message of President Wilson on the tariff issue is confined to about 1200 words. Now if only the country is able to tell where he stands after a perusal of the document.

What is more beautiful than the carpets of green on the mountainsides just now. The good Lord might have made something more beautiful than the sward, but we cannot call it to mind just now.

And, after all, we should not now be celebrating the anniversary of the birth of David Livingstone if he had not been discovered by Henry M. Stanley, an Englishman, backed by an American newspaper.

The Socialists ought to see to it that they get a slice of that $15,000 easy-money fund Job Harriman got from Clarence Darrow defense. That came so easy some of it ought to be pried from the pocket of the jobless Job.

Don't worry about President Wilson not being a politician. He was President of Princeton, and there is no more politics in a Methodist conference, a Presbyterian synod or an Episcopalian convocation than in a college faculty.

J. Pierpont Morgan, the son of a Connecticut clergyman, who in his business activities succeeded in writing his name high in the financial "Hall of Fame," lies dead in Rome. And six feet of earth makes us all of one size. Hic jacet.

It will require all of the cleverness of J. Rufus Wallingford and his side partner, Blackie Daw, to extricate Dr. John Grant Lyman, now in the County Jail, from his present trouble. Meanwhile the project to incorporate a company to harness the sunshine will languish.

APRIL.

Fashioned of tearfulness, tenderness, chastefulness;
Changeable, shy, as the ways of a maid;
Spring's sweetest miracle, lovely and lyreal,
Showers and flowers, and sunshine, and shade.
Making the merry land fragrant as fairy land,
Thrilling the heart with a wonderment new.
Laughing and serious, moonlit, mysterious
April's a month that was molded for you!

Current Attractions.

MENU FOR PLAYGOERS VARIED AND PALATABLE.

The opening of the big "Tik-Tok" show dominated theatrical interest yesterday, but in no way lessened the importance and interest in the current attractions at the other playhouses. Especially is this true in the case of Florence Reed, charming and talented emotional star, who made her debut last night at the Morosco in "The Easiest Way," in the role created by Frances Starr. She was supported by Harrison Hunter, Morgan Wallace, Grace Valentine and others. The performance will be reviewed tomorrow.

Orpheum.

Jack Norworth tops the Orpheum bill this week with his Honeymoon Four. It is one of Jack's own productions, and is worth investigating. He wrote the famous "Shine on, Harvest Moon," it will be remembered. The act will be reviewed tomorrow. Others on the list are Lida McMillan in a sketch, Howard & Snow, Wolpert & Paulan and other features.

Empress.

The bill this week at the Empress, and which the reviewer will take in today in his daily round, looks like a winner. It is headlined by Lawrence Crane with his "Den of Mystery," while other features include the five Loja Troupe of Gymnasts, Morrisey & Hanlon, the ginger boys; Mamie Flemming, comedienne, and the Sailor Comedy Four.

Pantages.

Music dominates the bill at Pantages this week, for the big act is Sirignano and his band. The show is real variety, however, for others on the programme are Charles A. Loder in "The Night Doctor," the Gray Trio, classic musicians; Quick, the lightning cartoonist; Williams & Stirling in a conversational duel, and Mme. Mersereau in Egyptian dances.

"TIK TOK" DREAM OF LOVELINESS.

BRUNTON'S GORGEOUS SCENERY BIG FEATURE.

Morton and Moore, Dolly Castles and Vera Doria Score Individual Hits—Superbly Costumed Beauty Chorus Developed by Stammers Talk of Town Today.

BY ZIP.

Of course I went to the professional performance of "The Tik Tok Man of Oz" Sunday at midnight. I also know that as a rule a prophet is without honor in his own country. But I am sure everyone in that big appreciative audience will agree with me when I say "Throw away the key, Mr. Morosco, for Tik Tok is wound up for a long run."

It is an enchanting kaleidoscope of bewildering, fairylike scenes, wonderfully costumed beauties, fascinating dances and a good old Amazon march, introducing phalanx on phalanx of shapely girls, and conjured up the days when extravaganzas dominated the American stage.

The music is tuneful and musicianly. Louis F. Gotschalk composed it out of his experience as a show man, and it could not be otherwise. It is best when it is descriptive, and the storm music, which carries the prologue, is immense.

I must admit I was not so favorably impressed with the book lyrics. To be sure it formed the basis for the wonderful scenic conceptions of Robert Brunton, but there is little real sparkle. Compared with the music and the setting, the work of L. Frank Baum must take third place.

Yet it can easily be moulded into a real knockout, and I'm sure that Mr. Baum is the man to do it, for I am still laughing over the one real line he puts over:

"It is better to suffer remorse than to miss a good time." Take it from me, some mayoralty candidate is going to steal that epigram for campaign purposes.

But please do not construe me to mean that the book is not good. It is all of that, and tells a story which is just connected enough and interesting enough to hold all the pretty pictures together and keep the ravishing dances going, in delightfully rapid succession.

I have but one request, Mr. Morosco, and that is, please cut out that travesty number. It's out of place in fairyland, it brings us back to earth with a rude jolt.

I refer in particular to the Oliver Twist burlesque. No matter in what droll guise it is presented, it cannot help but bring to the minds of those who ever saw the play, the grim, gruesome, may, horrible scene in the real drama, and I maintain that it has no place in anything so lovely, so fanciful and so ethereal.

Nat Goodwin sat directly behind me, and if I am any judge of faces it made no greater hit with him than with me. Dave Hartford, up in the upper right box, looked dubious, and Hartford is an optimist.

But away with gloom; like the travesty, it has no right to exist. For really I am tickled to death over Mr. Morosco, the author and composer, most of the players, and especially with Scenic Artist Brunton and Frank Stammers, who staged the production.

Can I pay a better compliment than to say that it recalls the days of the old New York Casino, and Al Chamberlain and George Lederer?

I'm not going to try to tell you anything about the plot. Doubtless you know all about the Tik Tok man, the Shaggy man, Betsy Bobbin and Hank the mule, Princess Ozma of Roseland and Polychrome the rainbow girl.

Jim Morton is immense as Tik-Tok, who is right "according to my machinery," and Frank Moore as the Shaggy Man is a close second. Of course one is reminded of "The Wizard of Oz," but this is a sequel to the other success, so the resemblance is both natural and desirable.

Fred Woodward as Hank is capital from the moment of his entrance in the storm scene prologue with Betsy, to his hee-haw at the final curtain. Lenora Novasio plays Betsy.

I was quite carried away by Dolly Castles. She is blonde and spritely as the rainbow girl, contributes some charming song numbers and some perfectly delightful dances, in many of which she shares honors with others of the principals.

Vera Doria is a splendid rose princess. She is stately, yet spirituelle, and superb of voice. Her song, "A Rainbow Bride," is the most exquisite number in the show.

And you should see our own Charlie Ruggles. He is the only private in Oogaboo army until the Tik-Tok Man, influenced by the love magnet, takes the job. Josie Intropodi is Queen Ann and Eugene Cowles the Metal Monarch. It is the effort to rescue from him the Shaggy Man's brother which starts the ball rolling.

But really it is the wonderful scenes, the work of Brunton, and chorus numbers that make the "Tik-Tok Man." The chorus is dandy, a real extravaganza aggregation with beauty of face and limb as its chief asset. Their ability to sing is added measure.

I would like to enumerate the sequence of exquisite song and chorus numbers, but they baffle adequate description.

There is that wonderful flower song of daisies, buttercups and summer girls with its enchanting finale of prone loveliness and waving blossoms.

And the royal garden with its gorgeous rainbow.

And that novelty tik-tok song. Did ever clocks sport more entrancing faces?

And what a surprise the opening of the last act affords—all red and warm, with forges and anvils and its fair workers.

Let me conclude by assuring you that "The Tik-Tok Man of Oz" is the prettiest, daintiest, girliest, spectacular extravaganza I have seen in many a day.

As a consistent frequenter of the baldheaded row and lover of all that is beautiful, sparkling and tuneful, I want to say to Oliver Morosco, in the words of Tik-Tok—Many thanks.

These are only a few of the things I would like to tell you about, but if I did you never would appreciate them until you saw them for yourself.

The way it looked to "Sal."

Times artist loses beauty sleep to see first performance of Tik-Tok, but felt recompensed for loss by beauty he saw there in both animate and still life. These are some of his impressions.

MRS. LESLIE CARTER TO APPEAR IN VAUDEVILLE.

Mrs. Leslie Carter has signed a contract to appear in vaudeville next season at a salary of $2000 a week in an act similar to that which has served as a vehicle for Amelia Bingham for many years. Mrs. Carter will appear in scenes from "Zaza," "Du Barry" and "The Heart of Maryland." Her contract with John Cort expires at the close of this season, and has not been renewed because of the impossibility to secure suitable plays for the actress.

"WITHIN THE LAW" FOR BUDAPEST.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

NEW YORK, March 31.—[Exclusive Dispatch. Archibald Selwyn announced yesterday that he had disposed of the Hungarian rights to "Within the Law," and there is a stipulation in the contract that Bayard Veiller, the millionaire elongated playwright, shall be given a free trip to Budapest and all the goulash that he can eat while sojourning there by the management. Mr. Veiller is now in training to do justice to the contract.

Imaginative.

"TIK-TOK MAN" QUAINT WHIMSICAL DIVERSION.

BY HECTOR ALLIOT.

WHILE "The Tik-Tok Man of Oz" is based on the metal man and his monarchy, L. Frank Baum has retained about the central figure of the play all the demi-gods that his fertile imagination placed in the Olympus of the Oz.

Only one is absent from the Majestic stage—the yellow hen. The author, fully realizing the unadvisability of introducing a feminine "chantecler," omitted that great favorite.

In this he has been wister than Rostand, whose admirable drama was better suited to reading than production on the stage.

Hank, the mule, plays admirably the part of the animal love for men and that expression of intelligence in beasts, second only to our own.

Mr. Baum has devised a diversion which is an extravaganza of good taste, much sentiment, quaint with humorous irony without bitterness, which carries one to the whimsical land of imagination.

A child can understand, his parents follow with ease, the kaleidoscopic changes of characters and achievements.

Very fortunately for the enhancing of the lyric fairy play, Louis F. Gottschalk has been invited to write the musical score.

Years of practical experience, a thorough training in musical direction and composition have come to aid in the polishing of the "Tik-Tok" metal garb by a musician enamored of the possibilities of the subject.

Oliver Morosco, pontifex producer of plays, was attracted by the "Tik-Tok" magnet and gave carte blanche as to expense.

Frank Stammers staged the production with thoroughness and imaginative conception that alone would make this initial production of the play an occasion of importance.

Costumers and electricians were all drawn by Baum's magnet. Robert Brunton, to whom we owe some clever scenery in recent productions of the Morosco and Burbank theaters, was specially under the spell of the Land of Oz, in his devising of unique scenic effects.

It is seldom that a musical comedy is presented with eight changes of scenery of beautiful effects and of such great complexity.

It is difficult to really say if the wonderfully realistic "storm at sea" of the prelude, the transformation of the royal gardens, the rainbow chariot of Polychrome, the home of the field flowers or the three scenes of the metal forest are one better than the other, so different and cleverly conceived each one is, without any suggestion of effects heretofore seen.

The ingenuity and absolute novelty of the acts constitute a new contribution to scenic and electric stage effects.

In this setting of fascinating charm, Betsy Bobbin, impersonated by a little girl, Lenora Novasio, and Hank, the mule, pass through remarkable experiences. The storm wrecking the vessel and the escape of Betsy and her friend are especially realistic. Gottschalk's musical arrangement emphasizes the tempest in the orchestration of his overture.

The hothouse of the rose kingdom, which follows, introduces Frank F. Moore, well-known comedian, as The Shaggy Man, who drops from a very high and invisible apple tree in the midst of the subjects of rose kingdom clamoring for a king.

The subjects constitute a chorus of pretty, young women, selected with great discernment by Mr. Stammers. The action, however, is somewhat slow, and would be much improved by concentration of dialogue and action.

In the following scene Dolly Castles, a clever Australian singer, appears as Polychrome, the rainbow daughter, and James C. Morton as Tik-Tok.

Vera Doria, who has been heard in recital, is the attractive Ozma of Roseland, the princess, and Eugene Cowles, the metal monarch Ruggedo, comes on after the second act.

The cast is strong and capable in principals and chorus who carry their parts with commendable efficiency.

Sunday night at 11:30 p.m. was given a dress rehearsal of the "Tik-Tok Man" before a capacity house composed of invited professionals. This was the first use the company had had of a theater. Some inavoidable shortcomings will naturally be remedied in the course of the week.

The music of Louis F. Gottschalk is catchy, brilliant, with a profusion of topical themes from "An Apple Is the Cause of It All" to "Ask the Flowers to Tell You."

Among the seventeen musical numbers, "I've Lost My Bow," by Polychrome; "Ask the Flowers to Tell You," by Princess Ozma; "Work, Lads, Work," by Ruggedo; "A Rainbow Bride," and the "Waltz Scream" are original, pleasing and infectious under the able leadership of the composer.

If a fault is to be found with the premiere of the "Tik-Tok Man" it is the bewildering sequence of scenic effects of great richness and too intricate complexity of actions, many of which are very clever.

The initial production of this elaborate diversion to the eye and the ear casts great credit upon author, composer, managers, players and musicians.

The "Tik-Tok Man of Oz," when fully well lubricated, has as many attractive features for young and old that it will run many seasons and celebrate many birthdays.

If enthusiastic applause is indicative of the future of a play, "The Tik-Tok Man of Oz" is launched on the sure road to success.

The audience called for the author and the composer, who gracefully acknowledged the hearty approval of the capacity house that had come to welcome the production of the first musical play here.

It called also for Oliver Morosco, who expressed in a few words his appreciation of the support and encouragement that Los Angeles was giving to his efforts in producing fine plays.

He, then, very graciously introduced Frank Stammers, the stage manager, and Robert Brunton, the artist, who were dragged away from the flies, appeared in their working clothes and received an ovation.

This simple wholesome recognition of work well done added a charming incident to an eventful evening in the history of the drama in Southern California.

NEW YORK AS HEADQUARTERS.

Drama League to Co-operate With MacDowell Club for Benefit of Its Members.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

NEW YORK, March 31.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] With the co-operation of the MacDowell Club and other local activities, the Drama League of America will establish within a few days a New York center for the benefit of its Manhattan members, and a better service to the country at large. The league is now in its third year and has an affiliated membership of over 50,000 in twenty large cities, from Boston to San Francisco, and many smaller towns between.

The privileges of membership embrace the bulletins which are issued as soon as an important play appears, describing the play and urging attendance; also printed courses and outlines for the study of drama, reading lists, library lists; a quarterly publication announcing recent dramas and books on drama and magazine articles; advice from specialists on selecting plays for amateurs; recommendations as to readers and lecturers on the drama; benefits of the junior department for work with children and frequent public conferences.

The educational work is under the guidance of President George P. Baker of Harvard University, Brander Matthews of Columbia University and others of eminent standing. The yearly dues being nominal the league is very democratic and has gained a widespread influence wherever it is firmly established, as in Chicago, its birthplace, and Boston, where its membership runs into the thousands and its activities have entered into civic life.

JOHN MASON RETURNS TO AUGUSTUS THOMAS.

John Mason is to have another play by Augustus Thomas.

It is worthy of comment that only Augustus Thomas plays have brought big success to Mason for a number of years.

From artistic and financial standpoints this star did far better with "The Witching Hour" and "As a Man Thinks" than with any other material of recent seasons.

He turned aside from the Thomas path with "An Enemy of the People," "None So Blind" and "The Attack," none of which produced admirable results. And the same seems to be the case with the revival of "Liberty Hall," in which Mason is now appearing in at the Empire Theater.

It is no wonder, then, that Mason has turned to Mr. Thomas to write him another play.

Another curious coincidence is that the only successes which Mr. Thomas has had in recent years have been of plays produced by the Messrs. Shubert.

"The Harvest Moon," "Mere Man" and one or two other dramas of his brought out under other managers have been failures.

It will be interesting to see how a new combination will turn out—Mason, who never failed in a Thomas play, again in a drama by that author, and not produced by the Shuberts, who are the only managers under whose direction Thomas plays have been successful for some time.

APRIL.

Filled of tearfulness, tenderness, cheerfulness;
Changeable, shy, as the ways of a maid;
It's sweetest miracle, lovely and lyric,
Hills,
Flowers and flowers, and sunshine, and shade.
Days of the merry land fragrant as fairy,
Thrilling the heart with a wonderment new.
Days grave and serious, moonlit, mysterious,
Such a month that was molded for you!

Trout "Crusade" Starts Today With Many Flourishes.

They're Off.

OPENING OF TROUT SEASON PROMISES MUCH SPORT.

Dozens of Fishermen Traveled Far Afield Yesterday and Others Will Go Today for the First Day's Fishing. Outfits Are Diversified, but Every Man Will Go Prepared for Best or Worst.

BY GREY OLIVER.

IF I was going out trout fishing today, and I don't know why I should, I would take along with me what I call an ideal outfit. Here it is:

Two gallons of whisky; two dozen bottles of beer; two decks of cards; two stacks of poker chips, two flies, two dice, two poles, two gallons of kerosene, $200 in small change, and four fellows who would stand for anything.

All you should take in the way of fishing tackle, the ponderous articles in the railway guides and the sporting goods houses will tell you without any worry.

I figure that you can get anything you want to eat along the road or at the last country store you happen to pass. Some fellows don't think so, but I know it, for I've heard a lot of them say so.

I figure that two gallons, two decks, two stacks and $200 is about enough for three days' fishing, and that's about all that any set of men care to stay away for from civilization on a fishing trip. You take a 10-cent forced blind with a $5 limit and you'll find that you need to have a lot of money for three days, if you don't get to bed until breakfast time.

It's pretty hard to hold nothing but two pair all night unless you bluff about every hour and get it all back, and particularly if it's a house rule that every man has to take a drink every time any one wins a pot that has $3 in it.

I went out on an opening day once, where after we got the camp established, they started a perpetual jackpot game that only broke up when it got too dark to see whether you had two pair or one after the draw.

I'll be hanged if I know what a lot of fellows go on trout-fishing trips for. I guess the principal reason must be to get their names in the papers and to tell when they get back about the length of the fish that got away.

They make the sporting goods houses look like a bargain day affair, a day or two before the season opens, buying all kinds of fancy tackle and flies and leggings and poles, and if they haven't got enough to sit in the poker game with, they go to bed and spend all the night knocking the red ants out of their ears.

It's dry bread for breakfast and a slice of bacon and black coffee about daylight and then a walk of four miles over all kinds of rocks to sit for hours trying to catch a trout as long as your shoe.

MANY FISHERMEN.

I guess this is sport, all right, for a big lot of them are going out after it today, and there will be about a hundred men and boys along every stream in this section that is half as big as the Los Angeles River.

It doesn't make any difference where you go, for you will need about the same kind of stuff in one place as another. Two two-gallon jugs for three days ought to be about enough, because there are generally country drug stores within twenty-five miles of any fishing grounds.

It is always necessary to take along about four gallons for medicinal purposes, for Dr. Wiley is said to have said that the bite of a trout, unless it is properly sterilized, is dangerous and it is always best to be prepared for anything, for no man, no matter how experienced he is, can tell when a trout will bite him, if he happens to catch one.

Ordinarily but few hunters or fishing parties carry with them any apparatus for sterilizing the bite of a trout, and it is better to take along enough medicine for any emergency.

Properly taken, before and after meals and seven or eight times between meals, whisky will ward off the ill effects of any fish bite, whether Steelhead, Rainbow or Loch Leven, and these are the only kinds we need be afraid of in this end of the State.

CARDS NECESSARY.

Two decks of cards are absolutely necessary, for if any one of the fellows happens to get two pair beaten about three times when he is trying to steal the pot, he is liable to throw his hand into the creek, and when you dry the cards out before the fire, they always curl up and you can tell what the other fellow has, sometimes.

I was on a fishing trip once where one of the crowd bit a king in two after he had bobbed to a flush and then got a straight and bet $7 that it would beat a full house. That's why I say you should always take two decks, and even three, instead of one.

TWO POLES ENOUGH.

Two poles ought to be enough for a crowd of four, if you have the other parts of my ideal outfit. Not more than half the bunch ever fish on a fishing trip anyway, for the others want to lie around camp and shoot craps, eat or fight ants.

Ants are what you need the kerosene for, and it's good to build fires with. You'll find that two flies are enough to take along with you, for you will be able to catch 9638 off your nose if you try to lie down and sleep in camp during the day.

By the way, two stacks of poker chips should be plenty, because you are bound to lose a few and some of the gang always put some in their pockets so they can have something to cash in when the game breaks up.

Some of them are too sleepy to cash 'em and keep them until they get home, and forget about them until the wife finds them.

When you start out, about the best thing to do is to think up a lot of excuses. The old ones about muddy water, trout not bitin', someone beat me to that hole, and all that stuff is too old.

Forget all that stuff about there being no fish, for The Times printed a story about a week ago that the Fish Commission had planted about 900,000 fry fish last year in Southern California streams. If you can't catch some of these, it's because you are trying to hold an ace on your lap, instead of putting it in the discard.

It doesn't make much difference what kind of flies you take with you. Down at a store yesterday I saw White Millers, Royal Coachmen, Professors, Gray and Brown Hackles, Silver Doctors, Dusty Millers, Black Ants, Jungle Cocks, Governors and Wickham's Fancy, in addition to a lot more that I didn't see the use of. If a trout feels right, he would just as soon snap a Royal Coachman as a Red Ant, and I would, too.

It is not necessary to give the names of the men who are on the way to the proper places, for you could not think of all of these, and you wouldn't if you could. It would be easier to print three or four pages out of the telephone books.

Jim Jeffries is one of them, and he and Gus Knight and Ed Hopperstead went to Bear Valley yesterday. Last winter they brought back from there a story about ducks being frozen in the ice on the lake, but they will probably come back this week or next with a worse one about the fish they caught or didn't catch today or tomorrow.

SAN GABRIEL POPULAR.

Judge Rose went to the San Gabriel River, as did dozens of others, and the Seape, Ventura and Malibu sections drew dozens of others. Some of the parties, I believe, took along my ideal outfit, and I actually believe those that did will catch just about as many fish as those that didn't. Anyway, they can tell just as many stories about the big ones that got away as those that didn't. Good luck to all of them.

I almost forgot to state that the opening of the season promises much sport; that the streams are full of big fish, from what we see in the various advertisements of the different camps; that the water is clear in almost every stream and that there should be some good-sized catches. The limit can be caught in almost any stream, if you can catch it and can find the stream that dozens of others are not fishing in.

"Everybody is doin' it,"

For the trout season is now open, and good sport is promised.

SCHIMPF READY FOR FINAL ACTION IN CONTROVERSY.

BY BERT C. SMITH.

WILLIAM SCHIMPF, chairman of the contest board of the Automobile Association of America, will remain in this city until tomorrow at least. Important conferences will claim the attention of the big chief today, and he may be persuaded to remain here for two days after the clinics, in order to see some of the beauties of Southern California.

Every moment of his time has been occupied. This visit is most important. It is impossible to give out anything definite concerning the meetings already held, but to report progress would be putting the matter lightly. Schimpf has made many friends. In fact, he carries the olive branch of peace with him everywhere, and without half trying has everybody happy no matter how he rules.

FACTS IN THE CASE.

Here are the facts in the case. William Schimpf is square. He does not know how to be otherwise. He is also fair and unbiased. He has taken time to study the situation here carefully. He is willing to concede many points and when it comes to the final settlement, which may occur today, it will be give and take, with Schimpf willing to give as much as any man concerned in the controversy.

There will be no ultimatum. There will be no demands that are unreasonable. It looks as if a compromise with honors to both sides is possible. Schimpf is one of the easiest of men to approach and to reach with an argument. He has no desire to be pig-headed and he represents the A.A.A. with full authority to act.

GOOD TIME COMING.

This visit will mean much. Chairman Schimpf has given his time and his money to help solve a problem which appeared difficult, but which now seems simple. He has been met by the biggest men here and has been treated courteously. Now he is to be honored during remaining few days he can spend with us and everyone concerned is hoping that today will see the final conference and the settling of all questions.

Frank Garbutt, president of the Western Automobile Association, has done, and is doing, all in his power to make the stay of Mr. and Mrs. Schimpf and their son pleasant. The leading motorists are vieing with each other to honor the "Big Chief" and when Chairman Schimpf leaves Los Angeles those who seem to know, feel confident that it will be with every moot question definitely settled and with the future of automobile racing on a surer basis.

At Berkeley.

POMONA-OXY TEAM IS READY FOR U.C. BEARS.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

BERKELEY, March 31.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] The Pomona-Occidental track delegation arrived on the campus today. No time was lost in getting to work and the California oval was tried out thoroughly. The men were bothered by the sharp curves of the track.

All but one of the southern barrier men are right-foot hurdlers. The sharp bend in the low hurdle course will handicap these right-foot men seriously. Though the southerners are in better shape than when they met Stanford even the most confident of them can see only forty points possible. Gillette with his 10 1-5 seconds record in the 100-yard dash will have to buck Stanton Wadsworth and Woods, all 10 and 1-5 second men. In the 220 Baer from "Oxy" seems to be the dangerous boy since Gillette is left out. Todd has the quarter easily, with Clark to place second.

In the half, Annin of Occidental will be a mighty dangerous lad. Capt. Wood of California should have no trouble in getting the mile, while Crabbe should win the two mile by a good lead. In the field, the high jump and pole vault will bring a hard fight from first. Beckes leaped six ft. 3-4 in. at Stanford and he should give McFie and Hill keen competition. With Vail out of the game, Barnes will have the chance of a life time to nail first honors in the pole vault.

SOUTH COAST CLUB AFTER "TIMES" CUP.

Programmes have been issued by the South Coast Yacht Club for the season that is to open on May 3 and continue until late in the fall. The opening day card will consist of a formal flag raising, the review of the fleet and a ball in the evening at the clubhouse. A cup will be given to the best dressed yacht.

The club has a big new float in the water below the clubhouse and on this are to be about twenty-five lockers for the use of the members in addition to those in the clubhouse. Land has been secured for a garage, which will be large enough for at least a dozen autos.

One of the principal events for the club this season will be the effort to bring back to this city The Times cup, which is now held by the San Diege club. The race is to be sailed sometime in the latter part of July. The local club will send enough boats down there to not only lift The Times cup, but to get all the others possible. About forty new members have joined the club this year.

SCHOLZ WINS THIRD GAME IN TOURNEY.

A. Scholz made his score in the amateur pocket billiard championship tournament three straight victories by winning from W. C. Pennell last night at the Majestic in fifty-eight innings. The points scored by the two were 100 to 70, with high run of 13 for Scholz.

Pennell held the game even through the thirty-first inning, after which he seemed to lose heart over a couple of scratches, and left his opponent easy pickings.

Further games are slated for Wednesday evenings.

Adding and Subtracting
Typewriter
(Wahl Adding Mechanism)

The machine is accurate. But this is not all. It enforces accuracy on those who use it. Likewise it admonishes to accuracy all those on whose work it affords a check.

It detects errors. It likewise prevents errors. Fewer errors are made in every office where the Remington Adding and Subtracting Typewriter is used. Why? Because every clerk knows that this machine will infallibly detect his errors and this knowledge makes him more careful in everything that he does.

Thus the machine adds accuracy to mechanical labor saving in every kind of work where writing and adding are done on the same page.

OVERALL SIGNS WITH THE CUBS.

Hank O'Day Clinches Contract With Former Star.

Orvie Will Not Leave Until Middle of April.

To Work Out With Local Club for the Present.

BY AD G. WADDELL.

Hank O'Day slipped quietly into Los Angeles yesterday morning and after signaling "Orvie" Overall to attach his name to a contract which ties him up to the Chicago Cubs, left for San Francisco on the Lark last night.

Overall will not leave for Chicago until about the middle of April, but will work out daily with the Los Angeles club at Washington Park, after which.

Bobby Finley, the Angel trainer, has been engaged to assist in putting the finishing touches to Overall's conditioning and says he will send the big fellow to the Cubs in excellent condition.

For the past several months, Orvie has been working out regularly and doing work in the gymnasium, with the intention of getting back into baseball again this season, and he is in better condition now, according to his own statement, than he was when he pitched his last game in the big league.

SPLENDID TERMS.

When asked if he had made O'Day up his terms, he said they had done better than that, and he had accepted the offer without any argument.

O'Day refused to make known the salary Overall is to receive, but said it is a figure which would make any ball player think twice before turning down a job with a big league club.

O'Day attended to several other matters of business while in the city and had a conference with the pitcher just before he left.

It was remarked that Overall must be considered a good man by the Cubs when they send a recruiting officer out for his signature.

"He is just so good that we wanted him and wanted him enough to go to a little extra trouble to get him," said O'Day, "and when he reports he will be in condition to start work right away."

"I am right," said Overall last night. "It should be a big year for me. I have had a long rest, but I have worked enough to keep my arm from going back on me, and I think the vacation has done me a lot of good.

"When I get to pitching again I think I will have more on the ball than ever before, and I know it will last that much longer on account of the rest I have had."

BASKETBALL IS PROMISED AT Y.M.C.A.

Members of the Y.M.C.A. are basketball mad this week over the close finish of the series in the Bible Class league, and indications are that there will be a large attendance at the finals of leagues A and B, which are to be played on Friday and Saturday nights.

In division A the Calgary Baptists are leading with a record of seven games won and two lost. The Bethel Temples are one game behind and should they win in Friday night's contest the result would be a tie for first place. On Friday night games are scheduled in division A between the Calgary Baptists and the University Methodists; the Emmanuel Juniors and the Calgary Baptists; the Trinity Methodists and the West Adams Methodists.

In division B, the Westlake Methodists and the First Baptists are tied for first place. On Saturday night the Westlake Methodists will play off a tie with the First Baptists; the Church of Saint Paul will meet the Hollywood Methodists, and the Emmanuel Presbyterians will tackle the Hollywood Presbyterians.

MARATHONERS ON THE ROAD.

The directors of The Times Modified Marathon will stage a trial run over the new course of the race, Thursday morning, starting from The Times building at 10:30. Cecil Smith of the Moreland Truck Company will handle the transportation on this trip.

Any runners who wish to take a trial spin over the course are requested to hand in their names to Wallie Robb, Bert Eling or the sporting editor of The Times. The run will be taken at an easy gait and no records will be tried for. It is only to get used to the new road that runs of this nature are staged.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

BERKELEY, March 31.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] U.S.C. gave the varsity nine a mighty tough tussle today. It was not until the sixth inning that the Bears were able to break up the two all score. In this frame Dodson's lucky double brought in Price and the score board changed to California 3, U.S.C. 2. And thus it remained during the rest of the game.

With their usual promptness the Trojans made two round trips in the first inning, with one down, with Gault on second and Crossman holding down the initial sack. Critchley tripled to deep center, Gault and Crossman going home.

In California's half, Young tripled and came in on Adair's bingle. U.S.C. led until the fourth frame, when Price romped home with the tying score. In the sixth Dodson's double scored Price again. After this inning, neither side hit to advantage and no one saw third. Line up:

CUBS MAY BE IN THE FLOOD ZONE.

[BY FEDERAL (WIRELESS) LINE TO THE TIMES.]

CHICAGO BUREAU OF THE TIMES, March 31.—[Special Dispatch.] Owner Murphy of the Cubs became greatly agitated today when he had not received any word from the team. The players started on a thirty-five-hour trip from Louisville to Kansas City last night and are circling around in Kentucky and Southern Illinois, trying to avoid the floods along the Ohio River.

"I would give $1000 to know that they were north of the Ohio River," said Murphy. The players were expected in St. Louis this evening.

BOXING AT THE L.A.A.C. BENEFIT.

Coast Champions to Battle for Flood Sufferers.

Ladies Can See Fast Boys in Roped Arena.

Crack-a-Jack Vaudeville on Programme, Too.

For the first time in the history of Southern California, society women will have an opportunity to see some real boxing and under the most refined conditions.

This is made possible by the benefit that will be given next Friday afternoon by the Los Angeles Athletic Club for the flood sufferers of the Middle West. The bouts will be open to the general public and the announcement means that the elite of Los Angeles will be present in the giant gymnasium Friday afternoon.

A splendid programme of vaudeville artists, singing, dancing, gymnastic feats, wrestling and boxing has been arranged, but it is the last-named feature which will dominate the bill and make this benefit the greatest of the week.

CHAMPS TO BOX.

Ernie Clarke, middleweight champion of the Coast, will be seen in action, as well as Buzz Hughes, the famous lightweight who is premier in his class. Another lad, who has made a name for himself is clever Pete Towne, regarded as the next amateur champion in the 158-pound division.

Roy Snyder, one of the best boys on the Coast, will be a contender and it is planned to have at least three fast bouts as the climax of the afternoon programme.

One of the features of the afternoon will be the exhibition bout between Mr. and Mrs. Roger Cornell, which will show the women of the Southland that it is possible for members of their sex to defend themselves in true masculine style.

For those who love wrestling a treat is in store. Al Treloar, physical director of the club, and Dan McLeod, the wrestling instructor, will go to the mat and illustrate all the known holds, including the strangle and toe grips. An announcer will explain the holds as the contest proceeds.

THEATRICAL CLASS.

The theatrical part of the programme will be of equal class and interest. Morton and Moore, the stars of the "Tik-Tok Man," with the permission of Oliver Morosco, are to appear in some of their inimitable stunts, and the famous Yap Quartette, headed by Bill Murray and Dave Hartford, is scheduled for a turn.

Manager Deane Worley of the Empress and Carl Walker of Pantages have offered their best talent, so that a vaudeville show of unexcelled merit is assured.

A splendid feature of the bill will be the Shriner Patrol, fifty strong, in uniform, led by that beautiful young singer, Alice Lyndon Doll, who is conceded the vocal rival of Mary Garden. They will sing the great State song, "I Love You, California," and other numbers as well.

Arrangements for Friday afternoon's benefit are in charge of Amusement Director George Towle and Superintendent Walter Patterson. Al Treloar has charge of the athletic division of the programme.

Seats are on sale at the club and at the sporting-goods houses, and the limited capacity of L.A.A.C. gym makes it advisable for those wishing to attend to get their seats early, as the sale will stop when capacity has been exhausted.

SPRING PRACTICE AT DEAR OLD HARVARD.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

CAMBRIDGE (Mass.) March 31.—Spring football practice was begun at Harvard today with twenty-four men out. Capt. R. T. P. Storer was the only veteran present, most of the candidates having been members of last year's freshman team. The work today was almost entirely rudimentary. The practice will continue for two weeks.

GUNBOAT IN ACTION.

NEW YORK BUREAU OF THE TIMES, March 31.—[Special Dispatch to The Times by Federal (Wireless) Line.] Most important of all the boxing events staged at the local clubs this week will be the match between Gunboat Smith, who just at present is the most interesting figure in heavyweight affairs, and Fred McKay, the gigantic Canadian. They will appear at the Fairmont Athletic Club on Wednesday night. The result of this encounter is not expected to bring out any particular change in the heavyweight situation.

Big Chief Here.

SULLIVAN IS WELL PLEASED.

Secretary of A.A.U. Honors Us With Short Visit.

Much Pleased With Conditions in This Section.

Believes that Exposition Meet Will Be Hummer.

BY GREY OLIVER.

James E. Sullivan, secretary of the A.A.U., arrived here yesterday on his way to San Francisco, and stopped off just about long enough to say how do to his friends, before continuing the journey to San Francisco.

He had only words of praise for the California athletes and said they were deserving of everything. Donahue proved that he is an athlete of sterling worth and the fact that he was given second place in the pentathlon shows that he is a wonder. It was certainly a great thing for a Los Angeles boy to make such a showing in the Olympic games.

"The success of Donahue," said Mr. Sullivan, "shows that the conditions here are good for amateur athletics, for, from what I have heard and seen the training methods and the conditions are right. The West needs all the encouragement we can give it and I am glad that I am here to assure you of our hearty co-operation in all that makes for amateur athletics on the Coast.

KELLY GREAT ATHLETE.

"There is much to be done to prepare for the big meeting in San Francisco in 1915, but with the help of the western athletes and the lovers of clean sport, we should make the coming meet one of the best that the world will ever know. Kelly is a great athlete and his presence alone at the coming meet should make it a success. You have a grand lot of young athletes in the West, and they will have their opportunity to show what they can do at San Francisco.

Mr. Sullivan held short conferences with the local representatives of the A.A.U. yesterday on the condition of athletics in this end of the State, and left last night for the north. He expects to return here within a week or ten days.

SOX WIN AGAIN.

YUMA (Ariz.) March 31.—[By A. P. Night Wire.] The Chicago White Sox regulars played the first game of their homeward journey here today, defeating a local team, composed of men in the Reclamation Service, by a score of 10 to 0. In the sixth inning, Chicago loaned Pitcher White and Catcher Kuhn to the locals and further demonstrated their generosity by letting the locals have two bats, of which they were in sore need. The big leaguers left tonight.

FAVORS BOXING.

CHICAGO BUREAU OF THE TIMES, March 31.—[Special Dispatch to The Times by Federal (Wireless) Line.] Everett C. Brown, ex-president of the Amateur Athletic Union, is in favor of the proposed boxing bill that is now before the Illinois General Assembly. Like others, he says boxing must be divorced from politics.

SAN MATEO WINS.

HILLSBOROUGH (Cal.) March 30.—[By A. P. Night Wire.] The San Mateo Slashers polo team defeated the All-Hawaiian team today, 10½ goals to 5½. About 5000 persons saw the game and $20,000 is mentioned as the approximate amount that changed hands. Today's event was the first of three between the teams for the merchants' cup.

A Very Subtle Compliment.

[Detroit Free Press:] Senator John Sharp Williams of Mississippi had a sharp tilt one day with a Republican antagonist in the Senate. At the end of a long argument by his opponent the Mississippian replied with a profound bow and an air of finality:

"The gentleman is always enlightening, even when he is entirely wrong."

Although educated at the University of Virginia and at Heidelberg, Senator Williams, whose home is near Yazoo City, Miss., delights to refer to himself as a "simple countryman." He was fencing with Senator Lodge of Massachusetts in the Senate one day over the proposed reduction of some government salaries at Boston.

"Of course, I always differ with the Senator from Massachusetts with great hesitation," he said, with mock deference, "not only because of our respective localities of residence, but because of his general intellectual superiority."

COAST LEAGUE TEAMS FORM IN BATTLE ARRAY.

Season to Open With Decorum and a Big Parade. Many Notables in Line of March — Cheeh to Heave for Angels, Tiger Pitcher Is Unknown—Other Teams in Splendid Condition.

BY AL G. WADDELL.

SIX teams start in the 1913 pennant race of the Pacific Coast League today. The Angels are to open with Hap Hogan's Venice Tigers, at Washington Park; the San Francisco Seals will entertain the Portland Beavers at San Francisco, and the Oakland club is scheduled to deploy against the Solons at Sacramento.

Capt. Dillon has commissioned Charley Cheeh to pitch for the Angels, and Walt Boles is to be behind the bat when the initial contest starts. Ernie Johnson has recovered from his injury rapidly, and it was announced by Dillon last night that Johnson would play short today instead of Fahey, who served in the skirmish with the Chicago White Sox Sunday afternoon.

Mystery shrouds the Venice slab representative who will work today. Hogan was unable to announce the name of the man who will start in the box for the Tigers at a late hour last night, but admitted that he had told five members of the club to be prepared for mound service.

"SPEC" OR HITT FOR HAP.

When questioned further, Hap said that Roy Hitt, "Spec" Harkness and Johnny Raleigh were the leading candidates for box berth. One of the Venice players told a friend in a burst of confidence yesterday afternoon that Baum was slated for the grand opening, but it was discovered that "Spide" was not in the best of condition yesterday morning, and it was believed by members of the club that Harkness or Hitt would be sent out to draw fire this afternoon.

Hogan was quoted yesterday as saying in the presence of several Venice fans that he intended sending a left-hander against Los Angeles in the opening game. When questioned in regard to this last night, Hap said that he would not know who was going in to pitch, until a short time before the game was started this afternoon.

Tonneman will catch this afternoon. Elliott is able to walk, but it will be several weeks, according to his physician, before he will have fully recovered from his injury and be able to stand up under the strain of a game.

THE TIGER LINE-UP.

Patterson is to start at first, with McDonnell ready as a substitute. Hosp has been given preference over Hallinan on short. Brashear is slated for second and "Lou" Litschi has an option on the third sack. Carlisle, Kane and Bayless will be in the outfield when the contest begins.

Charley Moore is the principal of the Los Angeles third base cast and will be sent in at the start of the game. Moore is good for the job, but there is another player named Metzger who is also a sweet bird, and who will be in the background ready to step on at third if Moore should meet with a mishap.

Ellis, Maggert and Howard will be in the outfield for Los Angeles, according to Dillon, and Gill and Page will complete the infield list.

The game today is to start at 2:30 o'clock.

According to custom, the Mayor of this city will pitch the first ball and Chief of Police Sebastian has been signed to catch during the pre-game ceremony.

BIG PARADE EXPECTED.

Henry Berry said last night that he expected more than one hundred automobiles in the parade today, which starts from the City Hall at 12:30.

This procession is to be led by Blanchard's band, followed by the forty or fifty players of the two clubs in uniform.

The Mayor, Chief of Police and other city officials are to ride in machines. Membeps of the Jonathan, California and Los Angeles Athletic clubs have been assigned positions in the line of march.

President Eddie Maier of the Venice club will be in the parade with a party. Manager Henry Berry of the Angels will also have a machine in the column. Barney Oldfield has been assigned a position in the line and Jack Jeffries gave up his trout fishing trip to attend the opening game and ride in the parade.

There are a number of cars to be driven by women who are fond of baseball, and who will be accompanied by other lady friends. Hen Berry has received many inquiries regarding the annual parade, and said that there were to be more private cars in the line today than in any other baseball parade in the history of the game here.

The route of the procession as announced is, south from the City Hall on Broadway to Ninth, east on Ninth to Main, north on Main to Temple Block, around and south on Spring to the junction, out Main to Washington and west on Washington to the ball park.

There is one Los Angeles player who will not be seen in the parade, according to "Scotty" Finley, the club trainer. This is Cheeh, the man who is to pitch.

FINLEY ON THE JOB.

Finley says that while the other players are riding around town smiling at the girls, he will have Cheeh on the slab giving him an osteopathic treatment which will send him into the game at his best.

Since Finley has been with the club, the last three years, Los Angeles has never lost the opening game; and, strange to say, each pitcher who has opened the season for the Angels during the period has gone to the big leagues the following season.

Three years ago Dillon started off with Nagle. He won the first game and went up the next year. Delhi won the opening game for Los Angeles two years and went to the big league. Last year Dillon won the initial match with Leverenz, and this season he is in the big smoke.

Remembering this, the Los Angeles players are certain of a victory today; but the Tigers fail to see where the Angels have a chance.

"What an awful trimming we are going to give those dubs," said Dick Bayless last night as he started home. "They will see us running around the bases like hobby horses on a merry-go-round."

There were three boxes unsold yesterday afternoon, but it is believed that they will be taken this morning. For the convenience of those who will not be able to get out to the park until late this afternoon, the management has placed tickets on sale at West's cigar store, No. 534 South Spring street; Levy's cigar stand, Seventh and Spring; Yonkin's cigar store, No. 219 West Third street, and at Hap Hogan's place on Spring street.

BUSH AND M'CARTY UMPIRES.

Al Baum, president of the league, has detailed Garnet Bush and Jack McCarty to umpire the first series in this city. Frank Newhouse and "Red" Heid will work at Sacramento and Ed Finney will officiate with Billy Phyle in the series at San Francisco. Phyle arrived on the Coast only a few days ago from the East, having umpired in the International League last season.

President Baum had his umpires attend a course of instruction at San Francisco, and all of the league rules were explained, as well as special rules which are in effect at the different parks on the circuit.

OAKS READY FOR SOLONS.

The Oakland Commuters, twenty strong, went to Sacramento last night. Howard Gregory will pitch, and Rohrer will catch for Mitze's forces. Jack Ness is slated for first and Cook is to appear at short.

Harry Wolverton's Sacramento Wolves are all in excellent condition, with the exception of three pitchers. Drucke, Harden and Lively, and are confident of a win over the Oaks today. Arellanes or Munsell will go in to pitch if Stroud does not feel at his very best just before the game starts, but the former Buffalo pitcher is Wolverton's first choice for today.

SENATORS TAKE DAY OFF.

Instead of the Mayor of the city, City Commissioner M. J. Burke is to pitch the first ball in the Sacramento-Oakland series. There is to be no parade, such as will be held here, in the Capital City. A band and the two teams in tallyhos will make a tour of the main streets before the game and call it enough.

The legislators have all been taken care of by the Sacramento management with passes and are expected to attend in a body.

After Mayor Rolph of San Francisco delivers the first ball, Pitcher Henley is to take the box for the Seals and Spencer is to catch.

Higginbotham or Krause will do the heaving for McCredie's Beavers and Fisher has been announced as the catcher in the opening game.

Johnny Kilbane

Shows some Mexican laborers what a Mick can do with a pick and shovel.

No Chance.

VAN COURT FROWNS ON THE ASPIRING JOHNNIES.

Both Kilbane and Dundee Would Have Hard Row to Hoe in Lightweight Division — Few Boxers Can Go Out of Their Class and Make a Showing — Attell an Exception, Also Wolcott.

BY DE WITT VAN COURT.

BOTH Johnny Kilbane and Johnny Dundee are seriously thinking of stepping up into the lightweight class. Each also claims there is nothing left in the featherweight class for him to box and make any money.

While it is quite true that there is little class left for them, a jump to a higher class is a long one and a very dangerous one for either of the boys.

I believe Kilbane would have a better chance with the lightweights in the shorter-round bouts, while Dundee would do better in the longer distances.

Kilbane is fast, clever and a good ring general, but it is doubtful if he could stand a hard fight against a fast and hard-hitting lightweight.

Dundee's stamina would stand him in hand much better in the longer routes. He is much tougher and stronger.

Both Kilbane and Dundee can make the featherweight limit without carrying any extra weight and the best they could do at a catch-weight, would be around the 128-pound mark.

TROUBLE WITH WEIGHT.

Most of the lightweights train down from around the 140-pound mark and hardly make 133. The several pounds advantage they would have over Kilbane or Dundee would be a hard matter for either boy to offset.

Joe Rivers, Willie Ritchie and Jack Britton are as clever as Kilbane and much better than Dundee. Then there are several other very tough boys in the lightweight class that would give either boy about all he would care to handle in a twenty-round contest.

Many boxers outgrow their class from natural development and make good. But there are few that give away weight and get by with it.

Abe Attell was an exception in this respect. He met and defeated many good lightweights. But Attell, at his best, was a much superior man in every way to Kilbane or Dundee He was also a much harder hitter than either of these boys.

Joe Wolcott was another who went out of his class and made good on several occasions. But Wolcott was as tough as nails and could hit like a heavyweight; he was also very fast and clever.

Johnny Kilbane should not overlook the fact (although he knocked Rivers out) that Rivers has improved a lot since they last met. He is a better boy in every way.

Ritchie and Britton are both heavier and much taller than Kilbane or Dundee and each would be under a handicap for this reason.

We must not overlook Ad Wolgast or Tommy Murphy either. I believe if Wolgast ever returns to anything like his old-time form, that Kilbane or Dundee would have a small chance to win a decision, or be able to stick out twenty rounds with that tough little Dutchman.

Now, how about Freddy Welsh who has just arrived in this country, claiming the world's title in that class?

That memorable fifteen-round bout between Freddy and Abe Attell, which took place at Vernon several years ago when both were at their best, should make Kilbane and Dundee sit up and think.

ATTELL'S FIGHT WITH WELSH.

As fast as Attell was he hardly landed a blow on Freddie. Welsh's fast left hand was placed so hard and often on the game little Hebrew's face that he had to stop in the middle of one round and remarked to the newspapermen, saying, "Gee, but this is some speedy guy."

Johnny Kilbane should be pretty well satisfied to be the champion of his class and let it go at that, and for Dundee, it might be better for him and his manager, Scotty Monteith, to wait until they win the title before talking of taking a step into the higher class.

However, Tom McCarey is ready to match Johnny Kilbane with any lightweight in the country for a $25,000 side bet, in a twenty-round contest.

As for a match of this kind it would surely be an interesting one no matter who the little champion met, but for making good as a lightweight, that looks like a horse of another color to me. But we will hand it to you both for your gameness in being willing to take the chance.

WILLIAMS CLAIMS BELT.

Sammy Harris, manager of Kid Williams, telegraphs that Williams made a punching-bag out of Frankie Conley last night in a six-round contest at the National Club in Philadelphia.

Harris also says that he is willing to give Campi a return match, but would like to know how Johnny Coulon can claim the championship, when Williams beat Campi and Campi defeated Frankie Burns. Frankie Burns claims a decision over Coulon, so Harris now claims the championship for Williams in the bantamweight class.

Do not get stuck on yourself, Sammy, because Kid made a punching-bag out of poor Frankie Conley. He has been a punching-bag out on this coast for the past four years, seldom letting anything pass that looked like a punch.

As for claiming the title for Kid Williams. Go to it, Sammy. But you will be in a bad box. Johnny Coulon is the champion and will be until he is either licked or openly declares that he has retired.

Literary "Hits."

DIAMOND POETS GOING AFTER SEASON PASSES.

THE limericks that have come to the sporting desk thus far seem to show a decided inclination toward Mr. Hogan, Mr. Dillon and Mr. Maier, all worthy and deserving persons, while the winning of the pennant also seems to figure a great deal in the subject matter of the rhymes.

This contest, the winners of which are to receive two season passes to the baseball games, is limited only to the Los Angeles and Venice teams, but any member of the said organizations can be made the subject of the poetical talent. There are a lot of players on both teams, and they have pulled off a great many stunts, which should make the field a big one.

It would be a good thing to get some limericks as examples and try and follow out the idea of the rhyme, as nothing but real limericks are to be considered by the committee.

The following limericks have been received at the sporting desk of The Times. Read them over and see if the muse can do any better by you.

There's a man in the popular eye,
Whose exuberance average is high;
He is called Happy Hogan,
And this is his slogan—
"We'll capture the pennant or die."
MISS MARIAN MATHEWSON,
Tik-Tok Company.

This year old Cap Dillon and his Angel host
Make up the team on the western coast.
Just watch them pass the Beavers,
the Wolves and the Seals,
And show the Oaks and the Tigers their fast-flying heels;
And by winning the pennant make good their boast.
W. A. DELL,
No. 430 South Grand avenue.

Our Hap Hogan is a Jim Dandy,
As a manager he is quite handy.
And, with his mighty Tiger crew,
Strengthened by Ed Maier's brew,
He is sure to bring home the candy.

There is a man named Dillon,
Who is out for a killin';
The pennant he'll grab,
And poor Hogan will crab,
But your uncle is perfectly willin'.

SPORT ANSWERS.

[Special Correspondence of The Times.]

"Sporting Editor Times: Can you tell me why Johnny Kane always holds his bat choked up in the middle? Yours truly, J. M. T."

Mr. Kane states that, when he first began playing baseball, he was a cross-handed batter; that is to say, he held the stick the left hand above the right. Being laughed at by the other players, he found he could bat the right way by sliding his right hand far up toward the middle of the bat, as one does for a bunt. Finally, both hands slid up to the middle of the bat.

Kane says that he doesn't bat as most fans suppose by the use of his wrists. He bats almost entirely from the shoulders with a downward movement. He strikes the ball with a slice as a tennis player "cuts."

Poetical Dope.

A FEW OF THE BEST GIVEN TO SHOW STYLE.

Contestants in Rhyme Tournament for Season Baseball Passes Request that They Be Shown—Read These and Get the Swing, Found Only in This Particular Type.

Several requests have been made, since the starting of the limerick contest, for examples of this particular style of poetic wit. The following rhymes are some of the most famous limericks, and in order to qualify for the season-pass prize those sending in poems would do well to build the same along the following lines:

There was a young lady in Niger
Who smiled as she rode on a Tiger;
They returned from the ride
With the lady inside,
And the smile on the face of the Tiger.

There was an old maid lived in Wooster
Who owned a very fine rooster;
She shut the front gate
On the poor chicken's pate,
And now he can't crow like he use'ter.

There was a young man from Mifipitas
Who thought his girl was the sweetest;
He sat on her hat,
And right after that
Died with a pin in his seatas.

The Sultan got sore on his harem
And invented a stunt for to scare 'em;
He caught him a mouse,
Which he loosed in the house:
(The confusion was called Harem Scare 'em.)

There once was a pious young priest
Who lived almost wholly on yeast,
For he said, "It is plain
We must all rise again,
And I want to get started at least."

There was an old monk in Siberia
Whose life grew wearier and wearier;
He broke from his cell
With a hell of a yell,
And eloped with the Mother Superior.

In sending in the limericks address the sporting editor of The Times and be careful to write your address and the limericks very plainly.

POLICE CHALLENGED.

Sergt. Bill Tyler of the police department and manager of the police baseball team has received a challenge from the police team in Chelsea, Mass., for a game. Tyler says the scheme is to have the local team go back East and play en route and for the Chelsea team to come West in 1915.

Wants to Know.

LOS ANGELES, March 30.—[To the Editor of The Times:] The Express and Tribune praise the city administration, or did some time back before they found that the G. G.'s and Progressives were too weak to carry the freeholders' charter. Then he (Earl) found out all at once that the G. G. administration ought to go out. Like Roosevelt right up to the Chicago convention, after he found that he could not be nominated, he all at once saw how awfully rotten the party was that he all the time before had belonged to and worked for. As I said, Mr. Earl has been praising the administration for its wonderful economy, stating that the taxes were only $1.54 per hundred. Yes, but there are special assessments for almost everything done. For instance, I bought a sixty-foot lot; assessment against lot for oiled street, sidewalk and curb $230. Now comes the library assessment, sewer in front and at the side. I suppose about $200 more. Then, if one wants to attach to water, there is another cost, I think about $12, for perhaps 10 real cost. If they can only raise more money by taxing the people they can employ more assessors. How can one assessor assess the poll tax and personal tax at the same time? This last I believe is Progressive county business. Can anyone claim this law is fair?

"TAX autos at 40 per cent. of original cost." We have an auto that the list price is $2500. We gave $200. By the wonderful Progressive law we could be taxed for five times as much as it cost us, five times as much as it is worth. Then there is a license. No wonder the taxes are only $1.54. Now I wonder if Mr. Mollycoddle Earl can find anyone good enough for him? He has positively refused to support any nominee of the Citizen's Municipal Committee before they have done a thing. His wonderful moral insight has warned him that the ones he worked with so harmoniously before the freeholders' charter was taken have suddenly changed from little gods to big devils. He won't support Socialism!! No! but he well knows that if he can work the Progressives into nominating a ticket against the citizens' ticket he will help the Socialists a thousand times more than he could by going over to them honestly, where he really belongs. But do they want him? Could he be boss among them? No! He can no longer rule.

It was first split the Republican party, and now comes the time he is going to split the G. G.'s or denounce the whole business and throw what little influence he has left over to the Socialists—and yet pretend not to be a Socialist.

Some say: "If we own the electric power and distributing system we will have much cheaper service," and they refer to the water system. Now, is it not a fact that we have to pay for all service direct and that pays for service and salaries, and are we not paying the water bonds and interest on those bonds besides, and is that not added to our taxes, making them higher? I have been told that this is so. If this is so, would not the bonds and interest on the bonds have to be added to the cost of service to make the real cost of the water to us? Would the cost of the electricity to us be all they would have to pay for electricity? Or would there have to be added the amount of bonds and the interest on those bonds?

RULING FAVORS COAST GROWERS.

COMMERCE COURT DECISION IS AGAINST RAILROADS.

Pre-cooled and Pre-iced Shipments Call for Lower Rates Than Other Citrus Fruits and Saving Means Much for Southern California—Charges Adjusted.

Promising an immediate saving of $5,000 to $37,500 a year to the citrus growers of the State, with future savings of untold amount, the Commerce Court's decision yesterday dismissing the petition of the Santa Fe, Salt Lake, and Southern Pacific to set aside the order of the Interstate Commerce Commission reducing the charge for refrigerating citrus fruit from $9.90 to $7.50, where such fruit is shipped and pre-iced by the shipper, was greeted with enthusiasm in Southern California.

According to figures prepared by the Citrus Protective League, the saving to the shipper per car under the reduced rate will be $20 to Missouri River points, $22.50 to Chicago, $32.50 to Buffalo and Pittsburgh, $35 to New York and $37.50 to Boston. The reduction rate per car charged by the railroads is $60 to Missouri River points, $62.50 to Chicago, $72.50 to Buffalo and Pittsburgh, $75 to New York and $77.50 to Boston. The charge of pre-cooling and pre-icing, which is the charge of $7.50, is uniformly $10 per car.

During the year about 1000 cars were sent from this State pre-cooled and pre-iced. It is on this basis that the saving is based. According to General Manager Powell of the California Fruit Growers' Exchange, an immediate increase in the number of cars pre-iced and pre-iced cars is promised by the affirmed rate, because of the marked saving per car.

The most material benefit, however, will be to pre-cooled fruit uniformly arriving at the market in better condition than when shipped in ice, which has been a readier market for the fresh product and probably higher prices.

While this case has been stoutly fought by the railroads, it is not improbable that an appeal will be taken to the Supreme Court. In 1911, the Interstate Commerce Commission, at the instance of the California Citrus Protective League, decided that the railroads may pre-cool and pre-ice shipments of oranges, and the railroads in handling such cars without pre-icing, may charge not to exceed $7.40 per car for refrigeration service.

While this was a provision, however, that the railroads might require shippers to load cars of oranges seven tiers high and two tiers high, the former being six high and two high. Proceeding this decision the railroads charged $30 a car for refrigeration alone.

Action was sought by the railroads from the Commerce Court, but was denied. The railroads then filed tariffs showing the $7.50 rate per car, but immediately afterward filed other tariffs cancelling the former tariffs and withdrawing the privilege of pre-icing on the part of the shippers. Upon protest from the Citrus Protective League the new tariffs were suspended by the Interstate Commerce Commission, May 20, 1912. The case then went to the Commerce Court on petition of the railroads. It is this petition that the court has just denied.

NEW CHINESE MISSION.

Congregationalists Celebrate Opening of Rooms in Oriental Quarter With Enthusiastic Rally.

The formal opening of the handsomely appointed new rooms of the Congregational Chinese Mission at No. 321 North Los Angeles street took place Saturday evening. There was a general rally of all the Christian missions in Chinatown—superintendents, Chinese pastors, students and friends.

For several weeks the work of rehabilitating what formerly was a mere loft into commodious dormitories, classrooms and large auditorium, has been going on under the capable direction of the pastor of the mission, Rev. Lee Hong. He worked out and executed the plans, backed up by the cash and encouragement of the mother church, and the result is the largest and one of the most delightfully situated mission headquarters in all Chinatown.

A large number of American guests were present to share in the general rejoicing. Horace Day led the devotions and addressed the audience, which filled the large assembly-room. Dr. Morris H. Turk, junior pastor, and Mrs. Warren F. Day and Dr. William F. Pond of San Francisco, Coast superintendent of Congregational mission work; superintendents and pastors of the Methodist, Presbyterian and other missions, and A. P. Watts, who has been of invaluable service to the mission in collecting funds and giving his personal advice and attention to the work, spoke. Mrs. E. M. Findlay, for fifteen years superintendent of the mission, presided.

FACES MORE ACTIONS.

Riverside County Irrigation District Sued by Switzerland Bankers for Deferred Interest on Bonds.

The Perris irrigation district in Riverside county was made defendant in two more actions filed in the United States District Court yesterday to recover an aggregate of $45,055.60 alleged to be due on bonds and deferred interest coupons issued by the defendant corporation under the provisions of the Wright act in 1891. The original amount of bonds issued was $442,000, on which the district defaulted on account of alleged illegal issue of the securities.

Plaintiffs in the new actions are Conrad Escher and Louis Rahn, a banking firm of Zurich, Switzerland, who ask judgment for $13,129.50, and J. L. Thompson, Marion Thompson Funk and Robert H. Thompson of New York, who are suing for $31,926.10.

Judgments against the Perris irrigation district were secured in the United States District Court several months ago for an aggregate of more than $200,000. These later suits are brought just in time to be within the period in which it is necessary to begin the litigation.

The Perris irrigation scheme was one of the Riverside county water propositions that did not materialize and the property owners within the territory find themselves face to face with a number of judgments secured on account of the non-payment of the bonds and interest coupons. The plaintiffs in the suits filed yesterday were the same as those interested in the earlier judgments.

ALLEGES MENTAL ANGUISH.

Wife of Alleged Confidence Man Files Suit for Divorce as Heretofore Threatened.

To add to his other troubles Dr. L. O. Wilcoxon was served yesterday at the County Jail with a copy of divorce proceedings brought by his wife. Cruelty is alleged, principally of the variety called "mental anguish."

"My enemies are pursuing me," said Wilcoxon bitterly when formally served with the notice of divorce. "I treated my wife the best I knew how. I was never cruel. Of course, she has felt the humiliation caused by the publicity given my arrest. I want to vindicate myself."

Wilcoxon is in jail awaiting trial in the Superior Court on a charge of grand larceny. Deputy District Attorney Shannon professes to be in possession of much additional evidence against the defendant. Wilcoxon is alleged to be a professional confidence man and associate of crooks. Detectives working on the case say they have unearthed many instances where he is supposed to have swindled acquaintances.

FOR INDIGENT MINISTERS.

Manager of Relief Board Here in Interest of Ten - Million - Dollar Fund—Touring Country.

"The minister should be treated with the same thoughtfulness in old age as the railway clerk, the soldier, the policeman or any other worker, and with this idea in mind the Presbyterian church is creating a $10,000,000 fund to provide for indigent men and women who have devoted their lives to spreading the gospel," said Dr. William H. Foulkes, general secretary and manager of the Presbyterian Ministerial Relief and Sustentation Board, who arrived here yesterday.

The general assembly of the church, according to Dr. Foulkes, has for several years been working out this plan. It is for the purpose of effecting a system that he is making a tour of the United States and acquainting himself with conditions. He was recently elected to the position, after having served for two years as pastor of Rutgers Presbyterian Church, New York.

His knowledge of Pacific Coast conditions fits him for his work, he having occupied the pulpit of the First Presbyterian Church in Portland for four years.

More than $3,000,000 has been subscribed to the fund. Dr. Foulkes will remain here a week and will address the Presbyterian ministers.

TWO SOUTHERN GIRLS.

Annual Masque to Be Given at University Gives Opportunity for Display of Southland Talent.

UNIVERSITY OF CALIFORNIA, March 31.—Miss Miriam Suplee of Claremont is one of the two southern girls chosen to take parts in the Partheneia, the annual masque given by the women students, April 12. She will appear in the role of "A Little Maid," the attendant to "Everymaid" about whom the action of the masque centers. Miss Suplee has taken parts in several of the college plays and the winning of a part in the Partheneia is a tribute to her histrionic ability. She attained her bachelor letters degree in 1912 and is now pursuing a special course of study in the college of social science.

To portray the character of "Art" Miss Helen Waterman of San Diego has been selected. The character is one of the most important and competition for the place was keen.

DIVED FOR "STINGAREE."

Venice Man Captures Something When Bathing and Now Regrets the Disposition Displayed.

VENICE, March 31.—In an encounter with a very large stingaree in the surf this afternoon, Frank Smutzer, who lives at No. 2211 Ocean Front, received wounds which have proven serious and the condition of both his hands, which were struck by the creature's barbed tail, indicate blood poisoning.

Smutzer and little son, aged 5, were bathing in the surf. The boy saw the ray and ran to his father in anguish. The elder Smutzer, not realizing what sort of a fish it was, dove, and brought it to the surface in his hands. The stingaree immediately swung his tail and inflicted two deep wounds. The surf outside the bath-house will be seined to rid the vicinity of this and other poisonous animal life.

Cooking as a Fine Art.

FOR WOMEN HOMEKEEPERS.

FASCINATING TALK ON A FASCINATING ART.

Open House and Free Lessons Three Days in the Week, on Mondays, Wednesdays and Fridays, in Afternoon, Second Floor New "Times" Building.

Yesterday was a truly great day at The Times cooking school. The announcement, published in yesterday's Times, that Mrs. Haffner-Ginger would devote six sessions to serving luncheons, the proceeds to be used as a fund for the flood sufferers, bore fruit generously. There seemed to be a conspiracy among the large company of women who attended the lecture and demonstration yesterday to see which could be most generous in her contributions. Women, both in and out of the churches, volunteered cash and contributions of all sorts to help along this splendid philanthropy.

There are many women who, while they would gladly give money for the stricken people of Ohio and Indiana, are not able to do so, but they can contribute their assistance in serving the luncheons or eatables to help it along.

One woman promised five chickens, beside salads and cake; another who lives out of town said: "You can count on me for at least five dozen fresh eggs," another volunteered to bring baked beans and brown bread.

"I am a tourist and I live in an apartment, but I want to help, too," said another as she handed out a dollar and offered to come and help serve and bring a friend with her.

And so it went—everybody wanted to do something.

Benefit Lunches Next Week.

The benefit lunches for the flood sufferers will be served next week on dates hereafter to be published and any one who wishes to contribute toward the success of these benefits may communicate with Mrs. Haffner-Ginger by telephone or in person. It is hoped to realize a considerable amount of cash. The lunches will be sold at so much per plate and that they will be worth the price goes without saying when it is remembered that they will be prepared by some of the best cooks in Los Angeles, headed by the expert, Mrs. Haffner-Ginger, herself.

In this connection it may be mentioned that, when she was giving a course of lectures in Denver a few years ago, Mrs. Haffner-Ginger created a fund of several hundred dollars for the Brotherly Relief Colony, an institution for the care of destitute consumptives. She hopes to be equally successful in the beneficient work she has started here for the flood sufferers.

Iowans Win Prize Breakfast.

"I call this a splendid crowd for wash day," remarked Mrs. Haffner-Ginger as she appeared on the platform yesterday afternoon with a bright red rose in her hair which exactly matched the big bunch on the table—the gift of one of her admirers in the crowd of women who applauded a cordial welcome as the cook lady came forward.

There was keen competition for that meal served in courses you may imagine, for it was quite the most elaborate prize offered since the contest of State representatives began. The Iowans won out and eighteen of them congregated in the "prize corner" of the auditorium with The Times representative as their guest. Those Pennsylvanians certainly did set a delightful precedent.

Ohio and New York were close competitors in the race for the prize yesterday and Michigan and California were not far behind. There were present natives from twenty-four States, beside from Canada, England, Scotland, Ireland, Sweden and Germany—quite a cosmopolitan crowd.

"Instead of a dinner I am going to serve a breakfast," announced the cook lady as she began measuring the Iris coffee into the percolator, "and I'm going to have a regular 'down East' breakfast—like they serve back there in Vermont or Maine on cold, wintry mornings—good country sausages, hominy gems and maple syrup——" she could get no further, for the whole audience began clapping ecstatically.

Taking up a box of Empson's hominy the cook lady observed: "Ladies, this is a California product—good, old-fashioned hominy—and I use it for making these gems, together with some corn flour and other ingredients, like this," and she proceeded to measure out the Crescent baking powder, the milk and eggs and other things which she whipped together and dropped the batter into the gem pans.

Beads of Sausage.

"Did you ever see such cunning sausages?" asked Mrs. Haffner-Ginger as she held up a long string of little links of sausages daintily tied up in beads. "A regular rosary, isn't it?" she went on. "Our friend, Mr. Hall, of Young's Market, who was here the other day to tell us all about choosing cuts of meat, made these up for me—yes, he'll do some for any of you just like 'em if you want—he's a most obliging man—ladies, he had such a good time here the other day he wants to come again."

"Oh, let him; let him," chorused the housewives in concert.

Just before she popped the hominy gems in the oven to bake, the cook lady pressed into the center of each one a bead of sausage. Wasn't that a cute idea? There you were—gems and sausage all in a piece.

Making Maple Syrup.

"Now, ladies, if you want to make maple syrup in California I can tell you how," said the clever cook lady as she held up a bottle of Mapo extract, and she demonstrated before their eyes just how it was done, and when that delicious Mapo flavor had permeated that syrup, giving it just the right color and taste, you would have sworn it came from the maple woods of Vermont.

Peaches and Whipped Cream.

The first course of the breakfast was peaches—those great, luscious fellows that are put up in halves—Stetson's "Our Pride" brand—and they certainly had a right to be proud. The cook lady sprinkled each portion with powdered sugar and then made a lovely rose of whipped cream from the Los Angeles Creamery to decorate the top of each. That surely was "some breakfast." The hot coffee, hominy gems with maple syrup and the sausages followed the fruit course.

The generous cook lady always feels so sorry for the State representatives who do not win the prize that she usually softens their grief and disappointment by serving them something too. Yesterday it was a cup of hot coffee for each.

Tea or Coffee?

Those Iowans certainly did have a meal—and they deserved it, for many appreciative women never tested the viands of the cook lady. They had their choice of that perfectly-percolated Iris coffee or a brand of tea that was certainly some beverage—an imported tea, put up in London by a firm that has been in the business of putting up this same brand of Hornimans black tea for a hundred years—and kept in stock here by one of the fine grocers on Spring street.

For Information.

Mrs. Haffner-Ginger's office hours in the Times Building are from 9 a.m. to 12 noon. For information about free lectures or the school kitchen courses phone Mrs. Bertha Haffner-Ginger, Main 8200 or Home Phone 10391.

The Prodigal.

FATTED CALF NOT PRESENT.

But Dr. Lyman Is, Draggled and Despondent.

Here to Face Many Charges of Big Frauds.

Ruined, but Wants 'Em to Use His Full Name.

Dr. John Grant Lyman, former bon-vivant and society man with money to burn, and an alleged penchant for separating more of it from its legitimate owners by means of blue-sky schemes, had little of his quondam jauntiness when he appeared in the United States District Court yesterday for arraignment on the charge of using the mails to defraud, through the operations of the Panama Development Company.

Lyman's shirt was the sort they hand out at McNeil's Island; there were no creases in his trousers, the collar was a bit awry, the clothes were of the regulation prison cut. The only thing that recalled the old and prosperous days was his hair, cleverly parted in the middle, as he used to wear it when he rode to the hounds in fashionable Pasadena society.

Dr. Lyman was brought down by a deputy United States Marshal from Seattle, having completed his term of eighteen months for escaping from officers in San Francisco, on March 10. Three indictments returned by the Federal grand jury are to be faced in the coming trial.

When arraigned Dr. Lyman, apparently crushed in spirit, and broken of voice, said that he is penniless and could furnish no bond. But when Clerk Scott read the title of the case, "United States of America against Dr. John G. Lyman," the accused interrupted to say, "Dr. John Grant Lyman, if you please."

He did not care to read the indictments or have them read to him. He had no attorney, but suggested that the court appoint G. Ray Horton to defend him.

STRIPPED, HE SAYS.

Addressing the court, Dr. Lyman declared that he had been despoiled of all his personal property, consisting of notes and collateral valued at $25,000, by officers who took him into custody at San Francisco. He asked Judge Wellborn to make an order restoring his property to him, but this the court declined to do. Assistant District Attorney Regan declared that, so far as he knew, there is nothing in the hands of the government officers that belongs to Lyman.

"Will I plead guilty?" said Lyman in an interview. "No. If the District Attorney will allow me to have the books of the Panama Development Company so that I can get the names of the people who have invested in Panama lands, I will see to it that they get what was promised them.

"I am a ruined man. My poor old mother died during my incarceration at McNeil's Island on account of the disgrace; my wife, who is now in the East, has instituted divorce proceedings against me; I haven't a dollar; I have lost my health, my reputation, my money and my social standing here and elsewhere. I care nothing about this last, but I would like to show the world that I am an honest man.

"WILL MAKE GOOD."

"I am the only man who can make good the promises held out by the Panama Development Company. I am willing to take the persons who bought land to Panama at my own expense, and show it to them. It was never proposed to sell this land at $5 an acre, $2.50 down and the balance in four years, with certain improvements that must be done, without making good every claim of the company, of which I was but a third owner. I had sold a part of my interest to parties in Panama, but the men in charge of the Los Angeles office knew nothing of that."

Lyman inquired anxiously as to when the terms of the present officials in the United States District Attorney's office will expire. He seemed well pleased to hear that this will be long before his trial can be reached.

Dr. John Grant Lyman,

HUNDRED THOUSAND MARK.

That Many Complaints Filed in County Clerk's Office in Thirty-three Years—New Series.

When Attorney Lloyd L. Miller filed the complaint of Julia Smith against Daniel Donaldson, yesterday, seeking an annulment of marriage, it went on record in the County Clerk's office No. 100,000, completing an unbroken series from December 2, 1879. A new series was then begun with B1.

The ending of the old series and the beginning of the new was marked with more than the usual ceremony of filing complaints. It was handled by Deputies Robertson, Riggins, Adams and Ward with the interest attaching to a historical document.

Compared with the first complaint, a striking contrast was apparent. The original complaint is written on legal paper, and the honor of filing it fell to County Clerk Potts. It was an appeal from a decision of Justice C. N. Humphreys of Santa Ana, at that time a part of Los Angeles county. The litigants were D. H. Collins and Frank Wakeham, and the suit was to replevin a mare and a horse. The opposing attorneys were J. D. Bethune and Scott and Montgomery.

Complaint B1 was filed by Attorney Charles H. Mattingly, for George R. Tondas, against Max L. Huberman and others, in the foreclosure of a mechanic's lien.

The new series was suggested by Chief Deputy Wilson and approved by Dist.-Atty. Fredericks. At the close of business yesterday there had been filed 9877 complaints since March 31, 1911.

PRUNES IN THE BALKANS.

BY FRANK R. ARNOLD.

Boarding-house keepers and horticulturists will take a keener interest in the war that the Balkan states are waging against Turkey when they learn that dried prunes are the chief exports of both Servia and Bosnia. The value of the harvest in Servia has an annual average of $3,000,000, a little more than $1 for each of the inhabitants. Plum trees are everywhere. The roadsides, wild lands and slopes too steep for the plow, are all planted with them. The government does much to encourage this national industry. Each county is required to maintain a nursery from which young trees are sold at a low price to the inhabitants. Each year practical instruction is given to fruit growers in the best methods of cultivating, grafting and pruning the trees. In these nurseries there are sixty in Servia. France has her government breeding animals, but we believe that the Balkan States are the first to improve and cheapen fruit trees by a government supply. In Bosnia, even more than in Servia, the prune is king. The product in good years often goes beyond 100,000,000 pounds. Even in Servia, the State maintains nurseries and horticultural schools. All the roads are bordered with plum trees, and the groves of wild trees that used to flourish under Turkish domination are now all grafted and cultivated as orchards.

The Servian prunes are the cheapest in Europe. They are most in demand in Germany, where prune sauce and prune stuffing for roast geese are daily bread. England and Russia also take many and even France, which produces far finer prunes herself, buys a great many from Servia. This is mainly due to prunes that Servia thirty years ago a wretchedly poor province when she obtained her independence from Turkey, has now become a prosperous little Balkan state. Prunes are a staple in the provisioning of her army, as they are in that of Austria. In prunes she finds as much vigor as the Chinese do in rice and now that she is compelled for the moment to neglect her prune production her vast European markets are open to America.

Authorized Announcement by the Electric Service Companies of Los Angeles

What the Electric Companies Have Offered

ALL THESE PROPOSALS STAND—NONE HAVE BEEN WITHDRAWN

1.—To purchase aqueduct power at a fair price—from $750,000 a year upwards—according to the power developed.

2.—To become the power distributing agents for the city.

3.—To lease the present distributing systems to the city.

Los Angeles, Cal., Dec. 20, 1912.

Hon. George Williams, Chairman,
Special Committee, City Council,
Los Angeles, Cal.

DEAR SIR:—Since the receipt of inquiry from your committee in respect of the sale to the City of Los Angeles of our electric distributing systems within the city, we have had numerous conferences with the members of your committee, and with our counsel, and we have also discussed the subject with trustees under various bond issues.

After giving careful consideration to the various complicated conditions developed by these conferences, and without indicating any unwillingness to sell the properties, we find it necessary to direct your attention to certain conditions which make it impossible for us to give you a definite answer or name any price at this time.

In order for us to keep pace with the rapid growth of the city, in which we have undeniably materially assisted, we have each been obligated to create a number of bond issues; each of our properties, both electric and gas, within and without the city is covered by several different bond issues; the bondholders under these various issues are represented by different trustees; the trust deeds contain stringent and exacting terms, which make the release of the electric properties within the city possible only with the consent of the trustees and bondholders. We could not sell these properties without such releases, and the city is without power to purchase encumbered property and assume the payment of existing liens thereon.

Assuming that these properties can be released, the necessary agreements between the various trustees, the bondholders, the corporations and their stockholders, could not be concluded in a shorter period than from one to two years.

In view of the fact that the city's electric power will be ready for delivery at an early date, and long before these negotiations could be concluded, we suggest the following several plans, under any one of which the city's electric power would be immediately utilized.

Plan One:—Delivery of Power to Companies

The delivery by the city to us for distribution for some period to be agreed upon, of all the city's electric power, at a price to be stipulated by contract.

As the city will fix the rates to be charged to the consumers, and would by such contract fix the price to be paid by us, both the consumers and the city would be protected. This plan will provide an immediate market for all of the city's electric power, and secure the city a revenue of approximately ONE MILLION DOLLARS per annum, which revenue will increase as the power development increases. We submit this as better for the city and the people than the construction by the city of a distributing system, as it will make unnecessary:

(b) The tearing up and disfigurement of the streets by the construction of an unnecessary and unsightly duplicating distributing system;

The present indebtedness of the city, the necessity for using large sums of money in harbor development, water distribution and other purposes, coupled with the high rate of taxation, would seem to make an immediate revenue from the city's electric power essential. If the city creates this bond issue, it will be necessary for it to pay annually approximately one-half million dollars interest and sinking fund on these bonds, which must be raised by taxation of all property owners, whether consumers of electricity or not, or paid by the consumers of the city's electric power. The plan which we here suggest would make this bond issue unnecessary, would give the city an immediate revenue from its power without waiting to develop and build up its business, and without a wholly unnecessary interference with our long established business.

We have steam plants which are necessary to the continuity of service now received and demanded by the consumers of electric current in Los Angeles; apparently no provision has been made in the city's estimate for such an absolutely necessary steam plant; under this plan our steam plants would be available.

We feel that the advantages of this plan to the people are such that it should be presented to them specifically and in detail for their decision; it was not so presented at the time a straw vote was taken in March, 1911; furthermore the city's population is much larger now than then, and its financial situation materially different.

This results in an immediate annual revenue to the city of approximately ONE MILLION DOLLARS, as against the incurring of a debt by the city of not less than six million dollars, and the payment of half a million dollars annually for interest and sinking fund, and years of competition which must follow, to the great damage of both the city and the companies, and which we would be powerless to avoid.

Plan Two:—Agency Plan

Our employment by the city to distribute the city's electric power over our distributing systems; the price for this service to be determined upon the basis of the amount of electric energy distributed; in the event that the city shall at any time not have sufficient power to supply the needs of the people, the city to purchase additional power from us at a price to be fixed by contract.

It is not necessary in order for the city to itself deal directly with the people in the sale of light and power to duplicate our distributing systems. The city would under this plan deal directly with the consumers, contract with the consumers for light and power, fix the rates to be paid by the consumers and collect the money from the consumers. We would merely be employed and paid for the service rendered to the city in the distribution of the power to the city's consumers.

Plan Three:—Lease of the Companies' Distributing Systems to the City

The lease by us to the city of our distributing systems upon some satisfactory basis to be agreed upon, in which case the city would manage, operate and control the systems and the distribution of electric current.

Plan Four:—Profit Sharing Plan

A plan somewhat similar to that adopted by the city of Chicago for the solution of the street railway difficulties, under which our existing distributing systems would be used for the distribution of all the city's power to consumers; we to receive a fair return upon the value of our properties, to be agreed upon and fixed by contract, the profits arising from the distribution of the city's power over our lines to be divided between the city and us upon some agreed basis. This plan has been in effect in the city of Chicago for some years, and has been found to work satisfactorily.

In conclusion we respectfully call the attention of your committee to the fact that under any one of these plans the city will fix rates to be paid by the consumers, obtain an immediate market for all of its electric power, without increasing the burdens of taxation, without unnessarily interfering with our business, without tearing up the streets and the disfigurement of the city, and without injuriously affecting the stability and marketability of Los Angeles public and private securities.

December 31, 1912.

To the Honorable City Council of the City of Los Angeles,
And to the Honorable Board of Public Service Commissioners,
Of the City of Los Angeles.

Gentlemen:—

We understand that the City of Los Angeles will generate from its Owens River aqueduct at its proposed power house, San Francisquito No. 1, 37,500 electrical horse power continuous service, and that this power will be ready about April 1, 1913; that after deducting losses in transmission the city will have for delivery from its substation in Los Angeles 35,000 electrical horsepower continuous service. The city has no system for the distribution of this power, and of necessity could not have any such without the lapse of a long time and the expenditure of a very large sum of money, which would add to the indebtedness of the city and to the burdens of the taxpayers.

We have practically the entire city covered by our distributing systems which are supplying the people with satisfactory service. It would save the city all such expense and delay and make it possible to utilize all of this power at a very large and immediate profit to the city if our systems could be utilized. As the rates to consumers are fixed by the city, the consumers and the city will both be protected if the following offer be accepted:—

Therefore, we hereby offer to enter into a contract with the city for the purchase of this 35,000 electrical horse power continuous service, delivered at the city's substation in Los Angeles, and to pay the city therefor the sum of one million dollars ($1,000,000) annually.

Also, in the event that the power delivered at the city's substation or substations in Los Angeles shall at any time be less than 35,000 electrical horse power continuous service, to purchase all power delivered at such substation at the rate of one million dollars ($1,000,000) per annum for 35,000 electrical horse power continuous service.

We also hereby offer to purchase from the city during the period of any contract which we may make, all additional hydro-electric power developed by the city from its Owens River aqueduct, delivered at the city's substation or substations in Los Angeles, at the same rate.

We understand that the plans of the city provide for delivery of this electric current from its substation in Los Angeles with a frequency of fifty cycles at voltage of 16,500 volts and 33,000 volts.

We respectfully request your honorable bodies to appoint committees to confer with us concerning the details of such a contract.

January 14, 1913.

To the Honorable City Council of the City of Los Angeles,
And to the Honorable Board of Public Service Commissioners,
Of the City of Los Angeles.

Gentlemen:—

On December 31, 1912, we submitted to you an offer on our part to purchase the 35,000 electrical horse power continuous service which we had understood would be delivered in Los Angeles after having been generated from the Owens River aqueduct system at the proposed power house, San Francisquito No. 1. This amount of power we had understood would be ready about April 1st, 1913, and our offer was based upon such understanding. In making our offer we realized that there would be many hours in the day when the greater part of this power would be practically of no value to us. We find from the statements of the Electrical Engineer of the Board of Public Service Commissioners that the city probably cannot for years to come take care of the amount of water necessary to develop such an amount of power, but that it can generate an average load of about one-half the total with a peak load of approximately the full capacity of the plant. We realize that it must be several years before the city could possibly distribute and dispose of such an amount of power with any hope of a margin of profit to the city and that with our existing distributing systems we can certainly, surely and economically distribute any power which the city will generate, accomplishing thereby a great saving to the city and immediate and certain return upon its investment, and escape from additional taxation of property owners if not a lowering of the present high rates.

For these reasons and to meet the conditions stated by said Electrical Engineer, we make the following offer:—

We hereby offer to enter into a contract with the city for the purchase of all the electrical horse power just about to be developed by the city at its said proposed power house, delivered at the city's substation or substations in Los Angeles, in quantities as needed by the consumers upon our systems (but the city shall not be required to take care of a peak load or more than 35,000 electrical horse power, nor an average load of more than 17,500 electrical horse power) and to pay the city therefor the sum of sixty-five one-hundredths of a cent (.65c) per kilowatt hour meter measurement.

Based upon the said statement of the said Electrical Engineer this would give the city an annual revenue of approximately SEVEN HUNDRED AND FIFTY THOUSAND DOLLARS.

We understand that the plans of the city provide for delivery of this electric current from its substation or substations in Los Angeles, with a frequency of fifty cycles at voltages of 16,500 volts and 33,000 volts.

We respectfully request your Honorable Bodies to at once appoint a Committee to confer with us concerning the details of such a contract.

A Great Alfalfa and Stock Country

Maricopa County, Arizona, is the place to raise alfalfa. That is, to raise it profitably. There are lots of places where you can raise alfalfa, but neither the climatic conditions nor the water make it possible to make any big money from the crop.

The farmer who comes to the great Salt River Valley, located in the very heart of Maricopa County, Arizona, can come here expecting to get bumper crops and a good many crops each season off the same land. He will find here "good growing weather" for about ten months in the year. You don't have to buck against unfavorable conditions in Maricopa County.

Alfalfa has been a staple crop here for thirty years. Although thousands of tons of alfalfa hay are shipped out annually, selling on the cars from $10.00 to $16.00 a ton, still the biggest returns this miracle crop earns for us is in the fattening of nearly fifty thousand head of cattle for the Los Angeles market annually.

The feeding of eighteen thousand dairy cows, supplying milk to Phoenix and other home towns and making possible the great butter, cheese and condensed milk output; the pasturing of eight thousand ostriches, and the big profit it has made for the horse, mule and sheep breeders. Here is what they say:

"My first three crops of alfalfa on 35 acres baled 180 tons, and my year's receipts were over $75.00 an acre. Last year my six crops earned over $60.00, and as I will have a still better stand next year, I will surely get ten tons per acre. I think this is doing pretty well on 150 acres of land."

Another man writes that "$65.00 is the lowest returns per acre and $85.00 the highest from our alfalfa ranch the past three years."

A Buckeye farmer writes: "On eighty acres which I have in alfalfa I pastured pretty closely with a bunch of steers up to April 1st, then I irrigated the land thoroughly and cut a hay crop early in May. After irrigating again, I let it go for seed, this crop being made the last of July. It threshed over thirty-two hundred pounds of seed, or over $55 worth per acre, besides the straw. I then made another hay crop, and on half of the land made a second seed crop in October, which averaged 130 pounds per acre."

A Swiss who has lived in the Salt River Valley eight years, and who has been in the dairy business all his life, writes: "I never have seen a country where stock does so well and matures so quickly as here. I came here from Kansas, where I was in the dairy business. Because my milch cows are on green alfalfa pasture the year around, and because I have no money tied up in expensive barns and feeding pens such as are necessary in cold climates, I figure that I make 6c a pound more net profit, selling butter-fat at the same price that I got in Kansas." And prices average higher here, too.

If you want to know more about this wonderfully rich country, write Vernon L. Clark, Commissioner of Immigration, Maricopa County, Dept. Five, 403 Fleming Block, Phoenix, Arizona.

LIKES MASCULINE ATTIRE.

Los Angeles Girl Picked Up by Policeman at San Pedro Is a Persistent Offender.

SAN PEDRO, March 31. — Officer Redden of the local police force, this morning arrested Lucille Murphy, a 16-year-old girl, on Front street, who was masquerading in boy's clothes. The girl came here yesterday from Pasadena, having been on probation for a similar offense. The girl's father, C. H. Murphy, resides at No. 1438 East Twenty-first street, Los Angeles.

Lucille has caused the probation officers considerable trouble and worry. She insists on wearing boy's apparel and running about the country, with tramps and men of desperate character, doing odd jobs around grading camps and work of a similar nature. She has been provided with a good home on several occasions, but refuses to stay for any length of time.

The girl was returned to the juvenile authorities in Los Angeles this afternoon.

INQUIRY WAS DEATH FACTOR.

Iowa Banker Comments on Morgan's Passing.

Noted Financier Was Lovable Character, Says Friend.

Brilliant Social Event Marks Passing of Lent.

PASADENA, April 1.—That the severity with which he was questioned when summoned before the Pujo House Committee at Washington to testify in the "money trust" investigation was indirectly the cause of J. Pierpont Morgan's death is the belief of Arthur Reynolds, vice-president of the American Bankers' Association and a friend of the dead financier, who is passing the winter in this city. He is president of the Des Moines National Bank of Des Moines, Iowa.

"Mr. Morgan," he said last night, "was summoned before the Pujo committee at a time when his vitality was low following an illness, and the questioning at that time had a tendency to undermine his health. That undoubtedly indirectly had much to do with bringing on the state of health that caused him to go to Europe.

"I personally, and I think the bankers generally, greatly respected Mr. Morgan. I believe that Morgan operated as any other business man would have operated. He had so large an amount of money that he was able to fix a price for his services. When people came to him with propositions he fixed the price to carry them out. I think that he operated in a perfectly legitimate way, and personally he was magnanimous, and in a private and a charitable way he did a great deal of good that the public knew nothing about.

"I have received quite a little information today from the East, and I do not think the death of Mr. Morgan will be felt by the country in a financial way. His business enterprises were so well organized and lately he had been abroad so much and his son and partners, H. T. Davidson, especially, are such able financiers, that I think his death will make little difference in the business."

George M. Reynolds, president of the Continental and Commercial National Bank of Chicago, and a brother of Arthur Reynolds, is also passing the winter in Pasadena. He likewise was well acquainted with Morgan. He left yesterday for San Francisco.

KALEIDOSCOPIC SCENE.

The lawn at the Hotel Green was brilliant with many colors when that hostelry gave its annual fete there yesterday afternoon. Huge striped umbrellas shaded the tea tables and fashionably-attired guests danced on the grass to music provided by the red-coated Stanford Band, which was in the city for the day. It was probably the gayest social event that has taken place in Pasadena this winter and there was a large attendance of guests at the hotel and local society people.

Viewed from the street, with its background of palms and the massive pillars of the hotel, and with its shifting mass of color in the foreground, the scene was not unlike an operatic setting. Many gathered on the street to look on.

Miss Ethel Barroll and Miss Emma Forbes were the tea pourers. They were assisted by a bevy of charming young society women. The affair marked the opening of the social festivities among the four hundred of Pasadena, following Easter, and many handsome and costly gowns were worn.

FUND INCREASES.

Yesterday's contributions to the fund that is being raised by the Board of Trade brought the total up to $3310. Subscriptions were asked for by that organization last Thursday. Three thousand dollars was sent on to the National Red Cross Society at Washington yesterday. Several amounts had previously been sent. When the office of the Board of Trade was closed last night there was $310 on hand. This will probably be raised sufficiently by this noon so that another substantial sum may be dispatched today.

The Pasadena Ohio Society has raised over $300 and nearly $600 was sent on last week by the First Church of Christ, Scientist. Another contribution taken there last Sunday added $500 more to that church's donation. Several other churches in the city have contributed liberally to the Board of Trade fund and $205 raised by the Los Angeles County Medical Society also has been included in this fund.

WILL STAY HERE.

Because she expressed her desire to remain in the Pasadena City Jail until her trial, instead of going to the County Jail in Los Angeles, nearer her home, Mrs. Jean Thurner, who was arraigned before Justice of the Peace McDonald yesterday on a charge of grand larceny as the result of her confessed stealing of diamonds from Pasadena jewelry stores, was given that privilege. The woman, who is believed by the police to be a kleptomaniac, and who was operated on for that malady in San Francisco two years ago, will have her preliminary hearing April 10.

That there is a band of horse thieves operating in Southern California, and that they employ a boy about 15 years of age to secure horses from stables for them and then make away with them, is the belief of the police. A horse valued at $250 was taken from the Crown City Saddle Livery last Saturday, which has not yet been recovered, and Dr. Z. T. Malaby of No. 666 North Raymond avenue, has lost two valuable polo ponies. The Sheriff's office has been notified.

TO VISIT HERE.

Mrs. G. F. Swift, wife of the Chicago packer, arrived in Pasadena yesterday. She is at the Hotel Raymond and is accompanied by Mrs. H. J. Dunnels and Mrs. A. Anthony. Swift will probably also come here for a short stay later on.

The news of the elopement of Miss Iva Clayton and George A. Kane leaked out today. The couple were married March 26. Miss Clayton is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. F. Clayton, No. 979 Summit avenue, and the groom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. George Kane, No. 78 Walnut street. The marriage was secret to prevent prenuptial social attentions and discomfited friends are planning after wedding affairs which will more than compensate for lost pleasures.

STRIKE IS THREATENED.

Coastwise Shipping May Be Temporarily Handicapped by the Activity of Walking Delegates.

REDONDO BEACH, March 31.—The coastwise lumber shipping business will be tied up tomorrow unless the differences between the Marine Engineers' Association of the Pacific Coast and the Shipowners' Association are settled tonight at San Francisco. Notice has been issued by the Marine Engineers' Association that the engineers will strike tomorrow morning if the increase of wages and the shorter hours they ask are not granted by the ship owners.

This strike would affect the lumber steam schooners of the coast, but not the passenger vessels of the Pacific Coast Steamship Company's line and other large passenger lines, as these companies are paying the scale asked.

Tomorrow the steamer Northland is due here with lumber for this port and should the strike be called the Northland and other vessels due here would put into port here and the engineers quit.

DIED FROM BURNS.

H. C. Hunter, an aged man, died this morning at the Redondo Beach Hospital from burns he sustained last Monday. Hunter, who was 75 years old, lived alone in a cottage on South Irena avenue and upset a tub of boiling water on himself Monday night while preparing a bath, scalding himself from his waist down. The old man was unattended except for such aid as he could give himself until Thursday evening, as no one knew of his condition, and on that evening he managed to get to the office of Dr. A. T. Hembree. The physician at once took the aged man, who was suffering terribly, to the hospital, but owing to the lack of medical attention at first, blood poisoning set in, which caused his death.

Hunter leaves a son, L. S. Hunter, and two married daughters, who live in Eugene, Or. He was a member of a Masonic lodge in the north, but had not affiliated with the local lodge. He had lived here for the past four years.

Funeral arrangements will not be made until word is received from the relatives in Eugene.

POMONA WANTS GOOD ROADS.

POMONA, March 31.—There is much growing interest here in the ordinance which will be submitted to the voters at the forthcoming April election in reference to the providing of $50,000 funds for the improvement of the main arteries leading to and from this city north, south, east and west.

The money can be easily raised by tax and only seven and one-half mills on each dollar of assessed property valuation will be necessary to provide the entire amount. This taxation will extend over a period of three years, the amount necessary to be paid back each year being therefore but two and a half mills on each dollar of assessed valuation.

Pomona is fully awake to the advantages of good roads and will be much benefited by the proposed State highway which is routed this way. It is believed that the ordinance will be voted and then arrangements will at once be made to commence work on the roads, thus giving many local laborers employment. It is the plan to expend an equal amount in all of the four parts of the city, each section being benefited.

FRUIT SHIPMENTS.

The Pomona Fruit Growers' Exchange is packing out several cars of oranges from its Park-avenue house these days and the statements of orange growers and fruit men in this locality indicate that they are receiving splendid returns for good oranges shipped from Pomona Valley. The oranges are all precooled in the exchange plant before being shipped. There has been installed in the Park-avenue house a tester of frozen fruit on the Chase principle. This separator, which divides the frozen and good fruit is a large one and is being operated most satisfactorily. The fruit is emptied into running water, the good oranges, which are heavier, sink in the water and are carried under a horizontal partation. The lighter or frost-dried oranges rise to the top before the current of the water has opportunity to carry them under the partition. Three different grades are made by the use of these partitions and the separations are surprisingly accurate. Some of the fruit in Pomona Valley will be shipped under the famous "sunkist" brand as it is entirely free from damage. Altogether the growers, are commencing to feel considerably encouraged over the satisfactory returns being received from the good fruit shipped.

BUSINESS LOT IS PURCHASED.

EIGHTH OF MILLION PAID FOR LONG BEACH CORNER.

By Holding a Piece of Property Twenty-two Years a Family Makes a Profit of One Hundred and Eighteen Thousand Dollars—Railroad Begins to Repair Tracks.

LONG BEACH, March 31.—The northwest corner of American avenue and First street, comprising a quarter of a block, 450x250 feet, which was purchased twenty-two years ago by John Howell Darby, for $700 and has remained in the family ever since owing to a provision in Mr. Darby's will that it should remain intact, until all of his children had attained their majority, was today sold to a local syndicate, composed of P. H. Updike, George C. Flint, Fred Bixby, Thomas F. Riordan and R. Nelson, for $125,000 spot cash, the largest single transaction of that character in the real estate history of the city.

The site at present is occupied by a garage, four cottages and an old-style apartment-house, which for years has been a historic landmark. It was built in the fall of 1891, when the city was a hamlet, and was known as the Darby House, which in an old historical sketch is referred to "as a first-class hotel" which in time became Mr. Darby's special pride, and an all round credit to the town." Of late years it has been a cheap rooming-house, improvements being prevented by the provisions of Mr. Darby's will.

The intention of the new owners is not known, but it is probable that a modern business block facing American avenue, will take the place of the old landmark.

BEGINS REPAIRS.

Following the receipt this morning of the text of the decision in which the State Railroad Commission declined to accept jurisdiction over common carriers in Long Beach, as demanded by a recently adopted charter amendment, the Pacific Electric Railroad at noon made application for and received a permit from the Board of Public Works to at once begin repairs and relaying of tracks on three streets, a job held up for several months by reason of a pending suit before the commission.

The work embraces new tracks, ballast and paving on Pine and Pacific avenues and First street, and means an expenditure of about $40,000. The mooted question of what kind of rails are to be used in the new work was not mentioned in the short conference before the granting of the permit, but will probably be in conformity to the agreement originally made between the railroad officials and the Board of Works.

NAVAL VICTORY.

The United States navy won another victory here today—a bloodless but not an odorless, one.

The officers commanding the torpedo boat destroyers Whipple and Preble, sent here in response to urgent invitations from the Long Beach Chamber of Commerce, threatened to take the vessels out of the harbor unless a forty-eight-foot humpback whale, killed several days ago, was taken away from the municipal pier alongside of which it was on exhibition. They declared there was too much odor about the leviathan.

WOMAN GETS PRICE.

At a special meeting of the School Board today it was voted to accept the offer of Mrs. Mary Lovett for a five-acre school site in the eastern part of the city for $27,000. The tract is 660x330. The board recently made a counter-offer of $24,000, which was refused, with the added information that after April 1, the price would be $30,000. As the site is the cheapest one offered in the location, the board, at the eleventh hour, decided that action was necessary to save $3000 after an appointment committee had reported that the price was a fair and reasonable one. The offer is conditioned upon the sale of a school bond issue recently voted for which bids are to be opened by the Supervisors one week from today.

AUTO TURNS OVER.

Maurice K. Kuhn, his wife and two relatives of the family left Long Beach in an auto this morning for Los Angeles, but descending the hill by hill on the boulevard, the auto skidded on the fog-wet surface and started for a telegraph pole. Kuhn gave the machine a quick turn, causing it to turn turtle, pinning the quartette underneath a mass of splintered wreckage. Kuhn had his left arm broken near the shoulder. Mrs. Kuhn is badly cut about the face and head and the other two bruised and shaken.

NEWS BRIEFS.

March building permits broke all records in the history of Long Beach. During the month 234 permits were issued of the contract value of $1,-590, making a total for the nine days of 1913 of $1,011,944.

N. J. Leavitt, a Civil War veteran, died this morning at his home on East First street. He was a native of Indiana and 72 years of age. He leaves a widow.

Jaspar Watt, aged 57, died last night at his home on Temple avenue. He was a native of Canada and leaves a widow and two children.

HERMOSA BEACH.

HERMOSA BEACH, March 31.—The double funeral of Mr. and Mrs. La Fayette W. Bacon of this city who died within three days of each other was held this afternoon at Inglewood Park Cemetery.

On Easter Sunday the aged couple went to the Pisgah Home of Dr. Yokum at Pasadena, where Mrs. Bacon was treated by the healers. Mr. Bacon himself, a healer who has been at the head of the Pisgah Mission in this city and Redondo Beach, came back to his home on Centre and Real and left Mrs. Bacon at the home at Pasadena. He later became so ill from inflammatory rheumatism that neighbors took him to their home and cared for him until he died Wednesday. Saturday morning the wife, who was unconscious and not learned of the death of her husband, died at Pasadena at the Pisgah Home and a double funeral was held this afternoon.

NEWS REPORTS FROM CORRESPONDENTS OF THE TIMES.

Riverside.

AN INCENDIARY IS SUSPECTED.

Riverside Fires Cause the Police Much Worry.

Saturday Night Seems to Be the Favorite Time.

Aviator Bonney Will Try to Fly Wednesday.

RIVERSIDE, March 31.—It is the belief of Fire Chief Schneider and the insurance agents that the three fires extinguished Saturday and Sunday nights in the Indiana apartments, located at Fourth and Lime streets, were of incendiary origin. There are indications that a "fire bug" has been at work. The three fires were smelled out with little damage to the property, which is owned by J. H. Owens of Crown Point, Ind.

Practically all the fires occurring within the past several months have broken out on Saturday night, and this has given rise to the belief that their origin is due to some unusual source, and that they cannot be explained away on the ground of mere coincidence.

AVIATOR "SAILS WEDNESDAY."

Aviator Bonney, who arrived from Hemet in his monoplane Saturday with a split propeller and an engine that was working badly, will attempt the journey to Los Angeles Wednesday in company with Miss Margaret Dahl. A new propeller is expected from Los Angeles tomorrow, while mechanics are at work here on the engine. Miss Stahl went to Los Angeles this morning, and will return tomorrow evening in order to be on hand for the aerial journey.

OFFICES ON THE MOVE.

The first autoload of furniture from the Los Angeles offices of the Southern Sierras Power Company arrived today, and is being installed on the fourth floor of the First National building. This floor will be devoted exclusively to the offices of the company, as well as a part of the second floor. The officers have secured the best class of homes for their employes, about sixty in number. The move is made under the terms of a contract recently entered into with the city for power.

TWO FUGITIVES CAUGHT.

Police Chief Fred C. Taylor of the George Junior Republic arrived from Chino this morning to relieve the City Jail of two fugitives from justice as it is maintained in the unique institution located in the vicinity of the boys' town. According to Taylor, the youths broke away Friday evening, having tired of jail life in the republic. One of the prisoners had served all but two days of an eighty-day sentence. They were placed under arrest here yesterday by the local police, who identified the lads by a letter in one of the fugitive's pockets.

GOLF RESULTS.

In the finals for the Harry G. Patton cup, played off yesterday on the Victoria golf links, E. N. Hillegas was over Martin A. Chase by only 2 up, Hillegas turning in an 84 score for the eighteen holes. Chase wins the second prize, a cup donated to the club by A. W. Pequegnat. Mr. Hillegas also wins the cup for the best score in the qualifying round for the club championship. The fifth leg for the Ruby cup will be played Saturday and Sunday, April 5 and 6. This is to be played for seven times, the player whose name appears on the trophy the greater number of times to be declared the winner.

WITHDREW HIS COMPLAINT.

Boring Wife Induces Husband to Drop Charges and Alleged Paramour Will Be Prosecuted.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

SAN DIEGO, March 31.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] Saying he would agree to anything for the sake of his two babies back in Los Angeles, James E. Monell today caused to be withdrawn his complaint against his wife, Edith, charging her with co-habiting with E. W. Wheeler, former Los Angeles policeman.

Monell secured a warrant for the arrest of his wife here March 29, after he had traced her from Los Angeles and found her living here with Wheeler. When confronted with the warrant and a letter from Wheeler's wife today, Mrs. Monell decided she would prefer to go home with her husband. She persuaded her husband to drop his charge.

Mrs. Monell was at once taken before Justice Solon Bryan and on motion of Dist.-Atty. Utley was discharged.

WILL OPPOSE MOVE.

ESCONDIDO, March 31.—Deputy City Marshal R. B. Borden of Oceanside was in Escondido Saturday for the purpose of serving formal notice upon the directors of the Mutual Water Company that the city of Oceanside would take lawful means to prevent the water company from making the proposed diversion of water from the San Luis Rey Rivers on the grounds that such diversion would interfere with the supply of water at Escondido and other points below the point of diversion. At the same time Mr. Borden served a similar notice in behalf of the South Coast Land Company, which joins the city of Oceanside in the resistance. The directors of the Mutual Water Company have announced it to be their intention of increasing the capacity of the impounding reservoir in order to secure more of the flood waters of the San Luis Rey River, which is the source of supply for irrigation and domestic water for the valley.

ANAHEIM BRIEFS.

ANAHEIM, March 31.—With the characteristic of her citizenship, Anaheim was among the first in the State to respond to the appeal for aid for the tornado and flood sufferers of Nebraska, Ohio and Indiana. Henry Ahlborn of the local Board of Trade reported that $250 had been raised to today, and it is expected that more than that amount will be raised. Blank forms for subscriptions are at the various banks of the city.

Samuel R. Gates, president of the Orange County Christian Endeavor Union, has completed arrangements with Paul C. Brown, State field secretary of the organization, for a week's campaign in this county, beginning Monday, April 7. Mr. Gates will accompany Mr. Brown on his trips over the county, and will attend all meetings with him.

Twombly and John Dawson declared their intention to go to the Supreme Court of the State if necessary to secure the person of Mrs. Grace Beyers, held at the Detention Home here, as witness against her father, A. B. Smith, charged with incest, Dist.-Atty. H. S. Utley is busy attempting to convince Federal authorities that Smith should be turned over to San Diego authorities.

Utley has represented to Federal authorities in Los Angeles, who are holding Smith on a charge of defrauding through the mails, that the matter of his conviction here on a much graver charge appears to be assured with the evidence of Mrs. Beyers, who has made sworn statements accusing her father of the crime charged.

Utley insists that the Los Angeles attorneys are but trying to secure Mrs. Beyers to break down the prosecution against Smith and are not actuated by any concern for the young woman. Regardless of the repeated sworn statements of Mrs. Beyers that she desired to remain in the Detention Home until the case against her father came to trial, the Los Angeles attorneys persist in their efforts to secure for her a freedom which, she declares, she does not want.

ORANGES MOVING STEADILY.

Shipments from Santa Ana Are Going Out and Satisfactory Returns Are Being Received—Brief News.

SANTA ANA, March 31.—Oranges have been moving out steadily from this part of Orange county, and all reports received locally indicate that the fruit is bringing good prices. Thomas, Gowan and Willard, local packers, shipped out seven carloads last week. The same average is kept up by the Tustin Hills Citrus Growers' Association, which will ship about 200 carloads for the year, within 80 per cent. of last year's total.

WANTS MONEY BACK.

The county may have to go to the courts to get back part of the cost of the new concrete bridge constructed on West Fifth street across the Santa Ana River. The original contract was let to R. L. Hogue of Los Angeles for $18,130. Hogue threw up the contract and the Young Construction Company finished it under an arrangement with the county. The cost was over $28,000. Hogue's bondsmen may be sued for the excess.

NEWS BRIEFS.

With the opening of the trout season tomorrow, dozens of men will be on the trout streams in this county, the Santiago, San Juan and Trabuco creeks. Prospects for any great successes are slim, as the water has been quite low during the winter.

Marriage licenses: Fred Boucherie, 42, of San Diego, and Mabel Baker, 33, of Abbington, Ill.; Herbert C. Klem, 27, of Coronado, and Abbie M. Lund, 20, of San Francisco; Andrew F. Bingeman, 42, and Olive M. Hammond, 32; James Moran, 40, and Agnes Kyle, 36, all of Los Angeles.

San Bernardino.

NAMES WILL GO ON THE BALLOT.

City Primary Declared Valid by Two Judges.

Leader of Goo-Goos Is Much Discomfited Thereby.

Kettners Policy Disturbs the Hungry Bourbons.

SAN BERNARDINO, March 31.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] The nominees of the city primary held two weeks ago will go on the ballot for the municipal election to be held April 14. That was the decision of Judges Bledsoe and Oster, sitting en banc in the superior Court this afternoon after listening to arguments by attorneys for both sides.

A large number of election officers had been summoned as witnesses, but after hearing the arguments of Attorney H. H. Chase, who appeared for E. J. Gilbert, the complainant in the case, the judges announced that they did not care to hear further arguments or evidence, that the claims of the complainant did not constitute a sufficient cause for action. The case was immediately dismissed and the costs assessed against Gilbert, who, for the past two years, has been the self-appointed mouthpiece for a large faction of the goo-goo gang in this county.

The case was brought in the hope of keeping all candidates off the ballot except J. W. Catick, who is running as an independent candidate. Whether there will be further suits brought is not know known, the only other ones threatened being those to bar the names of H. H. Chase and W. J. Guthrie from the ballot as candidates for City Attorney.

The basis of a possible action against the former is the insufficiency of his petition and on the latter, ineligibility to serve if elected. The farcical outcome of today's court action is tonight the laugh of the city.

Democratic politicians tonight pricked up their ears when the news filtered in from Washington that Congressman Kettner will recommend the appointment of Ernest Martin, as postmaster in San Bernardino, to succeed S. F. Kelley at the end of the latter's term. It is also learned that City Clerk R. Warner Thomas of Redlands is to get the postoffice job in that city. Martin was Kettner's campaign manager in San Bernardino county, and has influential backing. His principal opponent, T. W. Duckworth, has been a member of the State Central Committee and had strong backing. He was offered the position of United States District Attorney in Los Angeles, but announced he did not want that job, but did want to be postmaster in San Bernardino. Now he will lose the latter in all probability. The action threatens to cause a wide split in the ranks of the Bourbons in this county.

SUMMARY OF THE DAY.

The estimates of the Fire Commission for the fire department's appropriation in next year's budget, approved yesterday, amount to $911,455, including outlays for ten new engine and hose-houses.

Lumbermen appeared before the Harbor Commission yesterday to protest against the proposed compromise freight rates on lumber between the harbor and the city. They assert it is unjust to the lumber concerns with yards at the harbor.

The Council's Public Market Committee filed its report yesterday recommending the immediate establishment of four public municipal markets.

Dr. A. D. Houghton yesterday filed with the City Council formal charges against the character of the work on the power-house in San Francisquito Canyon and strictures on the location. He demands a thorough investigation.

The will of Mrs. Ellen Withers, filed for probate yesterday, bequeathes the bulk of her fortune to her sister-in-law, the Hadley Memorial Home, and charities.

ESTIMATE OF COMMISSION TO BUDGET MAKERS.

Outlays Include Plans for Engine and Hose Houses at Ten New Sites and Apparatus and Equipment for These Districts—More Men Are Needed.

The Fire Commission gave its approval yesterday to the estimate of expenditures for the fire department for the next fiscal year. The total amount that the Budget Committee will be asked to provide for this department is $911,455. This covers increases anticipated in the outlay, expenses and salary accounts.

The amount needed for salaries, which includes salaries for the companies at the new houses proposed, for such portions of the next fiscal year as they may be needed, is placed at $518,440. Outlays are estimated at $302,539, and expenses at $89,376.

Under the head of outlays, it is proposed to erect engine-houses as follows: First and Reno streets, one-story brick, $10,000; at Santa Monica, and Western avenues, one-story brick, $10,000; Pasadena avenue and Daily street, two-story brick, $18,000; remodeling hosehouse No. 5, at Vernon and Normandie avenues, to an engine-house, $1000, a total of $39,000.

The provision for hosehouses includes one for East Hollywood, one-story brick, $10,000; Garvanza, one-story brick, $10,000; Dayton and Cypress avenues, one-story brick, $10,000; Florence and Moneta avenues, one-story brick, $10,000; moving house No. 3 to Vernon and Lima streets, $1500; a total of $41,500.

THEY PROTEST AGAINST RATE COMPROMISE.

A conference full of life and fireworks of the verbal order was held yesterday between the Harbor Commission, its special rate counsel, Joseph Loeb, F. P. Gregson, traffic and rate expert for the Associated Jobbers, and representatives of the Lumber Dealers' Association of Los Angeles, and individual representatives of large lumber concerns operating in Los Angeles and San Pedro.

The subject was the proposed rate compromise, whereby the 4-cent per 100 pounds rate on State business between the harbor and the city and the 6-cent rate on interstate freight would be set aside and the compromise rate of 5 cents per 100 pounds would be substituted on all freight, is proposed.

The representatives of the lumber dealers were W. I. Ely, president of the Lumber Dealers' Association, and H. Riddiford, its secretary; Manager Lynch of the Blinn Lumber Company, Manager Wheelock of the Consolidated Lumber Company, and others.

The lumbermen claim that the proposed compromise rate will be unfair to the lumber business, as the bulk of the lumber discharged at the Los Angeles harbor goes into the yards and is held there subject to orders, and thus becomes State instead of interstate business when it is shipped out by rail.

Gregson held that this is a point which the Interstate Commerce Commission will have to decide, and that it is the duty of the lumbermen themselves to present it. This produced some lively verbal tilts, and the conference adjourned without any definite action being taken.

MUST HAVE MONEY.
WHENCE SHALL IT COME?

Librarian Perry of the public library was before the Finance Committee of the City Council yesterday asking that provision be made by resolution for the maintenance of the new branch library to be erected from the Carnegie gift at Pasadena avenue and Piedmont avenue. The committee, after much discussion, decided to recommend that the necessary $2300 be provided. Just where the money shall come from is the question.

The Council feels that this should come out of the levy for library purposes; Perry said yesterday that the library board positively will not appropriate it from that source. The Council by a previous resolution when the Carnegie gift was accepted, obligated the city to provide 10 per cent. of the amount of the gift for maintenance perpetually.

Councilman Whiffen told Perry that the report has reached the Council that the library board plans to withhold a certain amount from its moneys so as to create a fund for the purchase of a site for the main library. Perry denied this, and said that for the past few years the public library has been in poor condition, "in administration and otherwise," and that now it needs all its funds for the extra expense entailed.

The budget Committee will have to decide from what fund the maintenance money for the Pasadena-avenue branch must come.

PUBLIC MARKETS.
FOUR SITES PROPOSED.

In an exhaustive report of sixteen typewritten pages, the City Council's Public Market Committee has summed up its conclusions. The report was filed with the City Clerk yesterday, and will go before the Council today.

The committee recommends that as a beginning an ordinance be adopted declaring and dedicating the following sites as municipal public markets:

Cahuenga avenue, Selma and Cosmo, 375 feet on the east side of Cahuenga, 375 feet on the west side of Cosmo and 167 feet on the north side of Selma.

Northeast corner of Fourth and Breed streets, 160 feet on the north side of Fourth and 100 feet on the east side of Breed.

The recommendation is made that these markets be kept open on Mondays and Wednesdays from 6 a.m. to 2 p.m. and on Saturdays from 6 a.m. to 6 p.m.

It is recommended that the ordinance be passed as an emergency measure, and the committee states that as soon as it is adopted a campaign of publicity will be started among producers in the country surrounding Los Angeles, and notices will be inserted in the papers of this county, Riverside, San Bernardino and Orange counties.

The recommendation is also made that the license tax on peddlers of food products be at once removed.

Houghton Objects.

Dr. A. D. Houghton, former Councilman, appeared before the Council recently and made the charge that the construction of power-house of the aqueduct power project in San Francisquito Canyon is faulty and that the sites are not suitable. He was asked to make his specific charges in writing, and yesterday he filed his statement of about 3000 words, in which he goes into details. Houghton says:

"The location of this power plant at this point is a glaring mistake, and may result in great and unnecessary expense to the city of Los Angeles, or cause serious trouble in the electrical service later. It is difficult to understand how a competent engineer could have advised the construction of a power plant in such a location. Even the boss contractors on the work there admit the weakness and unwisdom of this location." Houghton demands a full investigation.

Wig-Wag Bells Make Trouble.

The Board of Public Utilities has passed the buck to the City Council in regard to the trouble that has developed from requiring the Pacific Electric to establish wig-wag bells at the Sixteenth-street line crossings of Hoover street and Western avenue.

Immediately after these bells were installed the residents of the vicinity began their complaints. They declare the conditions created by the bell ringing at the passage of each car were intolerable. When the order was made the Utilities Board was not aware that an order by a previous board required the stoppage of all cars at Hoover street. In a statement issued yesterday this board says that if it had been aware of the previous order concerning stops it would not have required the installation of the electric bells. But as the Council made the request that the bell order be issued, the whole subject is sent to the Council for consideration.

Modest Fortune for Hiebel.

Who knows Charles Hiebel, formerly of Detroit, and last known to be located in Los Angeles? The Mayor yesterday received a letter from H. Colquitt, Hiebel's old neighbor in Detroit, asking that Hiebel be located, as his mother, Catherine Hiebel, died in August, 1912, leaving him $1000 in cash, and unless he makes his appearance before August of this year the money will revert to other heirs. As Hiebel is supposed by Colquitt not to be in good circumstances, the writer is anxious that Hiebel should know of the modest fortune that awaits his appearance.

City Hall Brevities.

Vincent Saltalamachia filed a damage claim against the city yesterday for $3152.50, alleging that he had suffered injuries to this amount because of falling into a hole on Santa Cruz street and hurting his leg.

Victor Campanella yesterday petitioned the City Council to set aside Glassell ranch, near San Fernando road, as a district within which a wholesale and retail winery may be maintained. The petitioner declares a winery has been located on the property twenty-seven years.

At the Courthouse.

FRIENDS AND CHARITIES ARE REMEMBERED.

Angeleno Woman Makes Sister-in-Law Chief Beneficiary — Orders Half Section of Land in Kern County Sold, Proceeds to Aid Strugglers.

In making her will Mrs. Ida Ellen Withers gave a thought to others. She owned 1120 acres in Kern county and ordered the undivided half of Section 23 sold, the proceeds to be devoted to charity. One-third will be given to the Hadley Memorial Home and the balance to women who are struggling to help themselves.

The petition for probate of the will was filed yesterday by Harry Quinn, who is named executor. The estate is valued at $50,000. The acreage in Kern county is valued at $30,000 and notes, mortgages, stocks, bonds and cash at $15,000.

The chief beneficiary is Mrs. E. Carpenter of Chicago, Mrs. Withers's sister-in-law. She is asked to take care of the personal effects and distribute them among friends as remembrances. A leather trunk is excepted. This contains things that were dear to her child, "and being new are suitable for some girl who is trying to help her mother by her own efforts and who would be unable to purchase a trousseau such as she would like." The clothing of her little daughter, she wrote, she would like to go to some girl who needs them and who will appreciate them.

Mrs. Withers desires Mrs. Carpenter to distribute her silverware to herself and friends. Eva and Florence Marriott are to have a piece of jewelry as an acknowledgement of their kindness to Mrs. Withers.

Should oil be developed on the Kern county land, Mrs. Withers directs Carpenter to devote one-tenth of the proceeds for the benefit of struggling women and little children, as it was the hope of her husband, George L. Carpenter, to do if the oil developed was in paying quantity.

WHO HAS REVOLVER?
SUICIDE OR MURDER?

What part, if any, a revolver played in the tragedy enacted in the house at No. 182 Broadway, Pasadena, last November, when Joseph Fear was found dead, may be traced by inference when Deputy District Attorney Richardson addresses the jury. Fear was discovered with his throat cut. The police saw the revolver under the sofa where the body lay. The weapon with which the deed was committed cannot be found.

Miss Nellie Greaney testified yesterday that Fear took the revolver from Avalon Cramley, who is charged with the murder. She said Cramley took at least one drink. There was no disturbance, she declared, and she heard no loud noise.

The prosecution is endeavoring to show that Cramley stabbed Fear, following an altercation. The testimony of Miss Greaney, however, disclosed nothing on which to hang this theory, except the taking away of the revolver. She said Fear seemed melancholy because his wife went to Redlands.

Miss Greaney says she was in the bathroom when the cutting was done. She could not recall how long she stayed there or whether or not she fainted. Cramley had bought her headache powders and she left the men to take the sedative.

On her return, she said, she found Fear alone, and in a dramatic manner which was startling she described how he threw up his arms.

HIS BROTHER PAYS.
OFFICER IS FINED.

Ernest W. Dorsey, a former Vernon police officer, who was convicted by a jury of extortion, was fined $150 by Judge McCormick yesterday. The fine was paid by Dorsey's brother.

Deputy District Attorney Doran showed Dorsey was discharged two years ago while an employee of the Sheriff's office. Witnesses called to testify as to other evidences of Dorsey's alleged misconduct, as reported to Doran, appeared to have misty memories.

Dorsey had endeavored to show that he had been advised by his attorney he had a right to accept the money given him by autoists arrested for failure to carry tail lights.

GOES TO PATTON.
INFATUATION—INSANITY.

Francis Olesen, whose infatuation for two handsome girls caused his arrest and appearance before the Lunacy Commission, consented yesterday to waive a jury trial and stand committed to Patton. The charge was induced by his attorney, Georgia P. Bullock, who convinced him a rest at Patton would be beneficial.

Olesen first got in trouble by his pursuit of Miss Anna Overland. He promised Judge Willis to be good and Dr. Brougher took him in charge. Then he met Miss Sophie Krause, who like Miss Overland, did not seem to fancy him. The Lunacy Commission found him insane.

COURTHOUSE NOTES.
BREVITIES MISCELLANEOUS.

CASE CONTINUED. The preliminary examination of Paul and Vincent Hardeman, charged with having contributed to the dependency of Elisabeth Delaney and Florence Smith, was continued to the 7th inst. by Judge Willis yesterday. The case went over owing to the absence of Judge Wilbur, who is at Santa Ana, having exchanged benches with Judge West. Vincent Hardeman, a medical student, looked ill at ease, but Paul, the amateur tennis champion, held his head erect and glanced defiantly about the courtroom.

THE INFERIOR COURTS.

Power Company Directors Charged With Manipulating Stock—They Say It's of No Value Anyway.

Assistant City Prosecutor Stafford yesterday issued complaints against B. Truvall, Thomas Natevage and Henry T. Roser, directors of the Economic Light and Power Company with offices in the Higgins building, who are charged with having voted themselves stock aggregating 200,000 shares for the alleged purpose of defrauding shareholders in the company. The complaints were issued at the instance of J. G. McLaughlin, who represents a number of stockholders.

The men were brought before Police Judge Frederickson, who suggested that they try to arrange matters satisfactorily before tomorrow morning, when the case is set for hearing. The defendants in court yesterday maintained that the shares of stock are practically valueless. McLaughlin, on the other hand, says he was told the shares were worth 75 cents each two weeks ago.

Thou Shalt Not Steal.

Stealing when one does not need the things taken is just as much an infraction of the law as though the articles were essential to the thief's existence, according to Police Judge Chambers, who found Charles Smith, an old soldier, guilty of shoplifting yesterday. Smith stole a coat, two suit cases and various other articles of small value from Main-street merchants. He told the court he did not need the stolen goods and that he has a son who is wealthy and willing to support him. The old man will be sentenced today.

How Not to Ride.

A difference of opinion between Police Judge Chambers and two motorcycle riders yesterday resulted in Fred Pugh and D. T. Pugle being found guilty of attempting to navigate refractory machines through the crowded streets of the city while intoxicated. The difference arose over the question of ability to ride in such a condition. Arresting officers testified that the pair collided with a street car at First and Los Angeles streets and later ran full tilt into a crowd of pedestrians on the corner. They will be sentenced today.

Tailor-Picket Fined.

David Flaxman, striking picket for the disgruntled tailors, was fined $15 yesterday morning in Police Court on a charge of assaulting Max Becker, who is employed at No. 414½ South Broadway. Becker refused to strike with other tailors because he was satisfied with working conditions.

Wan, Weary and Worn Out

Half the people you meet complain of weary muscles, stagnant brain, jangled nerves, and a wonderful desire to lay down and just quit. Most of these people have been using nervines that spasmodically flare up the nerves only to die down again, as die they must. Avoid nerve stimulants. Bear in mind that this worn out feeling is due to poor blood, to bacteria in the water you drink; to the multiplying of destructive germs in the blood faster than they can be overcome by the white corpuscles; and to what is known as auto-toxemia, that condition where the venous or impure blood accumulates faster than it can be replaced by the red arterial blood.

If you feel played out go to any drug store and ask for a bottle of S. S. S., Swift's Sure Specific. Here is a remedy that gets at work in a twinkling; it just naturally rushes right into your blood, scatters germs right and left, up and down and sideways.

You feel better at once, not from a stimulant, not from the action of drugs, but from the rational effect of a natural medicine just as active and just as timely as to a man who has been lost in the mountains, is about starved and comes across a settler just cooking a savory meal of good honest beef. Do not neglect to get a bottle of S. S. S. to-day. It will make you feel better in just a few minutes. It is prepared only in the laboratory of The Swift Specific Co., 127 Swift Bldg., Atlanta, Ga. Send for their free book telling of the many strange conditions that afflict the human family by reason of impoverished blood.

WHO'S TO BLAME?

Bookmaker Secures Thousands from Teller and Bank Sues Former.—Defendant Says Not Liable.

The first skirmish in the legal battle to recover $27,000 alleged to have been embezzled from the Traders' Bank of Los Angeles and dissipated through a bookmaker, was fought in Judge Houser's court yesterday. The demurer of Abe Morris, who was arrested charged with having made books and sold pools, was argued by Attorneys Britt and Ashburn, for Morris and the bank respectively, and taken under submission by the court.

The bank alleges that Owen J. Morris, who was a teller, embezzled $27,000 and paid it to Abe Morris, who was not related to him. The bank takes the ground that Owen Morris took the money without the consent of the bank and paid it to Abe Morris, who got it illegally and without consideration. Abe Morris holds he is not liable for the loss of the money by the bank.

The suit evolves an interesting question. Both Owen and Abe Morris are under arrest and it is intimated that Owen Morris will be used as a witness by the bank. The bank has attached Abe Moris's property, including $9000 cash in two banks and two parcels of real estate, one of which is his home on Arapahoe street.
